RED SOX STILL WIN

PHILLIES ONCE MORE FALL BEFORE BOSTON

New 2 to 1 Victory in Fourth Contest
Puts American Leaguers Within
Single Game of World's Flag.

Boston, Oct. 12.—The world's championship is almost within the firm grasp of the Boston Americans. The Red Sox have won the Philadelphia club by a score of 2 to 1 today.

Shore's fine pitching held the Philadelphia to one run while opportune batting sent enough runs over the plate for Boston to win.

The Red Sox have now won three games; the Philadelphia one. Forty-one thousand and ninety-six persons witnessed the contest. Lewis' outfielding and Luderus' batting featured.

Tomorrow's game will be played at Philadelphia where Alexander will probably be sent back to the pitching mound to stop the onrushing Red Sox. The official score:

Philadelphia	AB	R	H	PO	A	E

Attendance, 41,000. Total receipts,

$2,040.50. National commission's share,

$820.63; players' share, $44,305.11;

Chalmers Opposes Shore.

Manager Moran solved his pitching

perplexity of the day by sending Chamber in against the Red Sox, while Shore was the Boston mound offering.

While yesterday's crowd was the largest ever gathered for a world's series base ball game, it was early evident today's throng was to break all previous records. It was a holiday in Boston and three hours before the game started the field stands were jammed to their capacity and there was a line of fans a quarter of a mile long outside of the grounds, hoping to get the privilege of standing room.

FORMER PURDUE MEN TO ATTEND BANQUET

Members of the Purdue alumni residing in Fort Wayne have chartered a special car over the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction line to attend the annual homecoming and banquet to be held at Purdue on October 16. They will also attend the Wisconsin-Purdue football game to be played on the same day. The Indiana-Purdue game this year will be played at Bloomington.

MISS M'TAVISH WEDS A T. RRE HAUTE MAN

(Special to The Sentinel.) Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—A marriage license was issued yesterday to Miss Isabelle MacTavish, a matron at the Indiana School for Feeble-Minded Youth at Fort Wayne, to wed Alexander Nicholson, 820 South Center street, Terre Haute, an instructor. They will be married by Rev. Dr. Charles Stern. Each of the contracting parties is 63 years of age, and according to Mr. Nicholson came here to avoid any "fuss" over the wedding ceremony. Mr. Nicholson is a widower, his wife having died five years ago in Indiana. Miss MacTavish is the daughter of Alexander MacTavish.

AGED MAN ASKS TO BE LOCKED UP FOR PART TAKEN IN OLD ROBBERY

"I want to be locked up. Eight years ago I threw a brick through the window of a jewelry store on East Columbia street and a younger man who was with me stole some rings. He was arrested and sent to prison for the crime, but he never gave me away and I have gone Scot free ever since. I want to give myself up."

With this introduction John Mullen, aged 58 years and a confessed tramp, approached Lieutenant Harry Grimme at police headquarters Tuesday morning. His request was complied with and he was placed in a cell and a charge of loitering was put against him. He went to jail to await a hearing Wednesday morning.

The burglary in which Mullen confessed a part, was committed at the William W. Dygert pawnshop, then located at 130 East Columbia street. A man named Owen Gagan was later arrested by Chief of Police Martin H.

Ankenbruck and Detective Charles F. Lenz, now chief of police, for the crime, convicted and sent to prison. He did not disclose that he had an accomplice and it was never suspected that he had one. The man had been released and Detective Lenz took note of him from jail a day or two before the robbery on the street from an odd sort of hat he wore. This hat and several watches, the latter stolen from Dygert's, were found in an alley in the rear of Columbia street and led to Gagan's arrest some days later when, in the evening, he came to the police station for lodging. Detective Lenz identifying him, Mullen says he has been wandering about the country as a tramp and coming again to Fort Wayne was troubled in his conscience by the fact that his pal had been punished alone for a crime of which he was equally guilty. He will be immune from prosecution for the burglary and will be sent from the city.

GRIP ON BOTH ENDS OF LINE

German Capture of Semendria Gives Control to Strategic Railroad.

MAKE PROGRESS IN DRIVE ON SERBIA

Russians Have Pierced Teutonic Lines on the Stripa River.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Capture of the town and fortress of Semendria on the Danube about 25 miles eastward from Belgrade was announced today by the German war office. With the taking of Semendria, both terminals of the strategic railroad running through Nish to Sofia and on to Constantinople are now in teutonic hands. Belgrade, the other terminal point, was taken last week.

Berlin declares that the whole movement of the Austro-German forces in the drive into Serbian territory is making good progress. Meanwhile the Bulgarian flank attack on the Serbians has started. Bulgarian forces having attacked on the border northeast of Nish where the Serbians declare all Bulgarian attempts to advance have so far been checked. Bulgarian success in reaching the railroad line about 40 miles to the west would prevent the main Serbian armies, contesting the Teutonic advance in the north from being reinforced by Anglo-French troops over the trunk line from Saloniki.

On the western front the only action of infantry activity in the Paris report is the statement that fighting continues near Souchez and other points in the Artois district. Berlin declares several attacks by the French in this region were repulsed and that their assaults near Tabure in the Champagne district resulted in a serious set back for them.

The fall of Gorizia, 27 miles northwest of Trieste in Austria is expected, declares the Italian war office. The Italians are bombarding the town from five different directions it is said. On the Carso the Austrians are reported to have abandoned several miles of trench.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—(Via London, 3:25 p. m.)—The Serbian city of Semendria, on the Danube, east of Belgrade, has been captured by the Germans.

The war office announced today that both the town and the fortress of Semendria were captured yesterday. The Austro-German forward movement over the whole Serbian front, is making good progress.

RUSSIANS CLAIM VICTORY.

Have Pierced Austro-German Lines on Stripa River, Says Petrograd.

Petrograd, Oct. 12.—(Via London, 11:50 a. m.)—Russian forces have pierced the Austro-German lines on the Stripa river. They have already taken prisoner more than 2,000 men and 60 officers and have captured four guns.

NO ACTION LIKELY IN VON PAPEN CASE

Washington, Oct. 12.—Indications today from state department officials were that no action was likely in the case of Captain von Papen, the German military attaché, here, who entrusted to James Archibald communications to his government along with those which caused the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador. It was learned that officials had been unable to decipher von Papen's message and it was inferred that no attention was paid to his letter to his wife in which the phrase "idiotic Yankees" was used. Officials would not say whether the other letters he had written were sufficient to require his recall, but the intimation was that although the examination had not been completed no such action was contemplated.

ED LONGFIELD ARRESTS HEADLESS MAN ON WEST CREIGHTON AVENUE.

Ed Longfield, owner of the interurban restaurant, cast his eagle eye over the darkened landscape at Hoagland and Creighton avenues Monday night, and saw a suspicious looking man in the car tracks.

"I don't like his expression," he said, "let's go back and nab him." So they turned the machine about and when they reached the figure by the car track Longfield made a grab. "You're under arrest," he hissed, "and don't you dare to resist." Then he hauled the dummy over the side of the car. The captive spent the day at the interurban station. Mr. Longfield is seen with his new acquaintance in the accompanying photograph.

DISCOVERY DAY IS DULY CELEBRATED

Principal Celebration to Be Given This Evening by K. of C. Lodge.

Discovery Day, or the 422nd anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus was duly observed in Fort Wayne Tuesday as a legal holiday. The banks and trade companies closed their places of business and the doors of the saloons were kept locked all day in accordance with the mandates of the law.

K. of C. Lodge Celebration. The principal celebration of the day will be given this evening at the Anthony hotel by the Knights of Columbus lodge, No. 451. A program appropriate for the occasion has been prepared and a banquet will be served. Stephan A. Callahan will preside as toastmaster and those who will respond include: Harry G. Hogan, C. M. Niezer, E. C. Remmert, J. Madison Walsh and Rt. Rev. Bishop Herman J. Alerding.

In the Schools. The observance of the day was carried out in all the public schools of the city and at the high school the history classes paid special attention to the discovery of America in 1492 by the man who first dared to sail out of sight of the land. In the grade schools programs were rendered in some instances while in others the teacher gave talks on the finding of a new world and the history of Columbus.

DUE ANNOUNCEMENT OF WEDDING IN ADVANCE

Washington, Oct. 12.—Some time before President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt are married a formal announcement of the date and place will be made. This was stated semi-officially today in order to set at rest unfounded reports that they might be married within a few days. Congratulations from all parts of the world continue to arrive at the white house.

President Wilson decided finally today that he would be unable to visit the Pacific coast to see the expositions.

PUSSY'S NINE LIVES TAKEN

But Gas Fails to Kill Aged Mrs. Archer in the Same Room.

WOMAN OF 73 FOUND VERY NEAR DEATH

Pet Cat Lies Stark on the Floor—Woman Will Recover.

Escaping gas in the home of Mrs. Nancy Archer, widow, aged 73, at 1324 Dubois street, took all of the nine lives of her pet cat, but failed to slay the sleeping old lady in the same room, Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Archer, who resides alone, and occupies only the kitchen in her home, was found at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning by Oliver Glass, a delivery driver for the Central grocery on West Wayne street, when he called to leave a consignment of provisions. When he opened the kitchen door he was met by an almost overpowering odor of gas. Lying upon the open door he saw Mrs. Archer lying upon her improvised couch in the room, unconscious.

Prompt Action Saves Life. Glass called Mrs. Corn Waters, living next door south at 1328 Dubois, and they carried Mrs. Archer to the Waters home, where fresh air and chafing had so far restored her respiration that when the police ambulance arrived a few minutes later the use of the pulmotor was unnecessary.

The gas had escaped from the open and unlighted burner of a "hot-plate" in the Archer kitchen. How long it had been pouring into the closed room is not known, but it must have been several hours for the cat, dead on the floor, was already stiff when the aged woman was found.

WAGES FIGHT FOR HIS LIFE

New York Lawyer, Victim of Anthrax, Believes He'll Spoil Obituaries.

CATTLE AND SHEEP ANTI-TOXINS USED

Apparently in Hopeless Grip of Disease, Stockpole is Courageous.

New York, Oct. 12.—George F. Stockpole was still fighting for his life today in Bellevue hospital against the slowly spreading disease of anthrax from which no human being affected, within the memory of doctors here, has recovered. He was aided by a powerful anti-toxin, used heretofore only for cattle and sheep, injected into his veins last night. Not only did he seem to be holding his own but physicians at his bedside pronounced him slightly improved this morning.

The aged lawyer's pulse was full and strong but a rise in temperature was noted. This was thought to be due to the action of the anti-toxin. His spirits also were good.

The anti-toxin, rushed here from Washington last night and hurriedly injected into his system, seemed to be acting as a check to the disease but it was too early, doctors said, to tell whether it would conquer the deadly anthrax germ. Never before has the newly discovered fluid been used in the case of a human sufferer, but in the treatment of cattle it was reported to have been very successful.

EATON TEACHERS TO VISIT LOCAL SCHOOLS

School Board Holds Regular Meeting at the Old High School Building.

During the session of the school board in Prof. J. N. Study's office Monday evening, a telegram was received from Eaton which stated that the entire corps of teachers of that city would come to Fort Wayne Thursday to visit the schools of this city. The schools of this city have been recognized over the entire state as models.

The school board decided to close the schools of the city on October 28 and 29 when the state association of teachers meets at Indianapolis. It was also agreed upon that the schools will not close for the northern Indiana Teachers' meeting next April. This action was taken when it was learned that the teachers decided they would rather attend the state meeting than the latter.

Bids were received for the equipment of the gymnasium for the new Hammar school building but it will not be awarded until Prof. Meyer, head of the gymnasium department of the schools, examines the list of the bids to see that everything is included.

The most difficult problem that is now confronting the school officials is the question of gymnasiums. The board decided that the high school and Normal Training schools should be given the preference at the James H. Smart school. So far there have been sixteen applicants for this gymnasium one night a week.

New Fury Now Marks Armenian Massacres

Washington, Oct. 12.—Armenian massacres in Asiatic Turkey have been renewed with vigor since Bulgaria's entrance into the war as Turkey's ally. This information reached the state department from Ambassador Morgenthau, who stated that the majority of the Armenians in Asiatic Turkey had been killed.

Although representations were made by this government some time ago, warning Turkey that further atrocities against the Armenians would alienate the sympathies of the American people, no answer has been received.

EACH MAN TO RECEIVE $10

Friday Will Be Pay Day for Car Men Now on a Strike.

EACH UNION MAN ASKED TO ASSIST

Letter of Encouragement is Received from President Mahon.

Announcement was made Tuesday morning at the meeting of the carmen that Friday would be pay day when each man will receive approximately $10. The men will be paid this amount every Friday until the strike is over.

Word was received from President William D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America that a check for $780 had been forwarded for distribution among the members of the local union. Out of this amount each member is to receive $5 a week, there being 156 members, out of 173 men formerly in the employ of the company on the city lines. It is figured that approximately $1,000 will be received each week from the members of the various unions, providing each union man in Fort Wayne contributes fifteen cents from their weekly wages.

BOY KNOCKED DOWN BY A VICIOUS BULL

While picking hazel nuts two and a half miles west of the city Monday afternoon, John McClinton, thirteen-year-old son of George H. McClinton, 3109 Calhoun street, was attacked by a vicious bull and but for his presence of mind would have been killed. The youngster was knocked down near a bush and crawled into it before the bull had an opportunity of making another plunge at him. The bull's attention also was attracted by the boy's two companions, who kept yelling and screaming at the top of their voices. In the meantime the McClinton had succeeded in getting over the fence to safety. He was painfully injured about the shoulder, when he was gored by one of the bull's horns.

ANOTHER DISPUTE OVER LINE FENCE

As the result of a dispute over a line fence which separates their properties in the 2700 block, Weissner Park avenue, George Kroek and Christian Gertner came near coming to blows. The language used was so strong that Gertner had Kroek arrested on the charge of provoke, to which he pleaded guilty Tuesday in the court of Justice of the Peace H. J. Grabner. He was fined $1 and costs. Some years ago Kroek was town marshal at New Haven.

A warrant was sworn out Tuesday in Justice Grabner's court by Herman Brown against Frank Armstrong, charging him with assault and battery. Armstrong lives on Wabash avenue.

SUES TO BLOCK WAR CREDIT INVESTMENT

German Interests Back of Woman's Suit Against Mutual Life.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Suit for an injunction to restrain the Mutual Life Insurance company and its officers and directors from participating in the Anglo-French war loan of $300,000,000 was filed yesterday in the United States district court.

The writ was made returnable before Judge Carpenter. Frank S. Monnett, of Columbus, former attorney general of Ohio, filed the bill in behalf of Mrs. Olga H. S. Walsh, of 1248 Eddy street. Mrs. Walsh's maiden name was Lippert. She is the wife of Burton T. Walsh, a foreman, formerly of Elyria, Ohio, a long time acquaintance of Attorney Monnett. Holds $2,000 Policy.

Mrs. Walsh is a policy holder, the face value of her policy being $2,000 and $3,390, with accrued dividends of seventeen years. Mr. Monnett admitted that big German-American interests are back of the suit, which primarily is designed to prevent a consummation of the war loan of the allied powers.

The bill alleged that the officers of the Mutual Life Insurance company are planning to invest $10,000,000 in the Anglo-French war securities, and that the company has no legal right so to use the funds of the policy holders. It is alleged that a large proportion of the company's policy holders are of German and Austrian extraction, as well as subjects of Germany and Austria, and that "race hatred and strife would be engendered by permitting the money of these policy holders to be used for munitions of war to kill their German and Austrian relatives and friends engaged in war in Europe."

Britons Also Defendants.

The defendants, in addition to the insurance corporation, are Charles A. Peabody, president; George N. Baker, director; Baron Reading and the other members of the Anglo-French financial commission; J. Pierpont Morgan and J. P. Morgan & Co.

Attorney Monnett said effort will be made to get service on the members of the financial commission before they sail from New York. When members of the commission were told of the suit they evinced little interest and refused to comment on it.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR REAL ESTATE MEET

Plans for the state convention of the Indiana Real Estate association, to be held here next Wednesday and Thursday, will be completed at a meeting of the Fort Wayne exchange Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Commercial club. Secretary Frank Higeman has mailed to each member of the exchange the following letter: "Just one week from tonight will be the eve of our big state convention. There is just one more week to finish up the vast amount of work still to be done and to have everything ready on time. Let's be sure that we have everything in shape so there will be no hurrying and hurrying (and swearing) at the last minute. We will meet this evening at the Commercial club at 6:30. We will have a joint committee meeting this evening, as well as a meeting of the exchange, so if you are on a committee, it's up to you to be there. There are several things that will come up for discussion that must be settled tonight."

London, Oct. 12.—(7:27 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Times from Athens says that the Bulgarians began an attack on Serbia at Garibogahaz, near Kniashevatz, at midday on Monday.

The Serbian legation today received this telegram from Nish: "Last night Bulgarians began an attack in the direction of Vlasina."

WILSON POINTS OUT DUTY OF AMERICANS

Washington, Oct. 12.—President Wilson, speaking at the 25th anniversary meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, declared the United States should keep out of the European war, not to avoid trouble but to preserve the foundations upon which peace must be built. The president spoke upon the duties of Americans to preserve true neutrality and said he believed American citizens should make it plain whether their sympathies for foreign countries came before their love for the United States or whether they were for America first, last and all the time.

The president said the United States had now reached a time of special stress and test and that now the people need all of their patriotism. All of the rest of the world was in the crucible, he declared, and no man could tell what the result would be. Mr. Wilson urged that every social and political action in the United States should be aimed to get all of the people to rally to the standard of America. Some people have wavered from the American ideal, he said, and he urged that all rival ideals be abandoned. He added that Americans should devote themselves only to what America believed in.

ARMED NEUTRALITY CHOICE OF GREECE

London, Oct. 12.—The Greek chamber was informed by Premier Zaimis at a meeting yesterday that in order to better secure the vital interests of Greece her neutrality "will for the present, be armed" says a Reuter dispatch from Athens.

The premier added that the future course of the ministry will be adapted to meet events as they occur, and expressed the belief that the government's course has the support of the people.

In reply, former Premier Venizelos said: "No one would wish to create internal difficulties in the country in view of the present extremely critical situation. The chamber will give its support to the government as long as the government policy does not alter the principles of my policy upon which the chamber already has given its vote. Even if there existed no treaty with Serbia our interest would oblige us to depart from neutrality as another state wishes to aggrandize itself at our expense."

"The question is not whether we ought to make war, or not, but when we ought to enter the war. In any case we ought not to allow Bulgaria to crush Serbia in order that she then may attack us with all her forces. The national soul says it is to the interest of Greece that Bulgaria should be crushed. If Bulgaria should triumph Hellenism would be completely vanquished."

The sitting of the chamber then was adjourned until next Monday.

POULTRY MEN ARE GETTING ACTIVE

Hold Meeting Tonight to Prepare for Big January Show.

The exceptionally large early demand for exhibition space at the January poultry show has forced the local Poultry Fanciers' association to begin preparations much earlier than usual, and a meeting of the association has been called for tonight to undertake the solution of the "housing" problem, which now confronts the management. The meeting will be held at 619 Calhoun street and probably one hundred of the Allen county enthusiasts will be there.

Secretary J. C. Howenstein states that for some reason—probably the reputation of the Fort Wayne "bunch" to treat exhibitors fairly and provide one of the cleanest shows in the middle west—exhibitors are turning to Fort Wayne as never before, and the great problem to be solved is the proper care of the birds when they come. Purdue university is asking for space for an educational exhibit. Several national and state poultry clubs are asking the privilege of holding their annual sessions and exhibits with the local show. A large class of Allen county boys and girls, under the direction of County Agent Henry, will be on hand with a special exhibit of birds raised under the "Purdue system."

The association is already dangling eighty-seven silver cups, six valuable gold watches and other prizes and trophies before the envious eyes of exhibitors, and more will be added to the list. One thousand handsomely designed announcements have been mailed to prospective exhibitors and many of those who have shown their birds at earlier shows have already announced their determination to return for the January show.

Enthusiasm among the local men was never so strongly manifested as at the present time. The show will do much toward advertising Fort Wayne as a live poultry center.

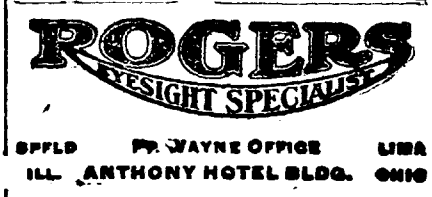

Since the beginning of the war and the shutting out of the Russian article, the United States has developed a million-dollar business in medicinal oils from petroleum.

MACHINISTS OUT AT BIG CLEVELAND PLANT

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 12.—The long predicted strike of machinists at the plant of the Warner and Swazey company was a fact today. Three hundred pickets surrounded the factory when work started this morning. The plant was still running today and officers claimed it would continue to operate. Union leaders assert the strike was a success. The men are contending for the eight hour day. The strike is a sequel to that at the Cleveland Automatic Machine company shell making plant a week ago, when the men won their eight hour day demand but did not gain all other points. The Warner and Swazey company does not manufacture war munitions.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

WHITLEY COUNTY BARN BURNS.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Fire destroyed the big barn of Hiram Keiser, about four miles south of this city, Monday forenoon, and with the barn went the hog pen, the machine shed, the granary and another small building and the silo. The fire caught from sparks from the engine which was used to furnish the power for a corn chopper in filling the silo. The barn was one of the largest in the county, being 36 by 100 feet in size. It contained 200 bushels of corn, 400 bushels of wheat, thirty acres of unthreshed oats and 50 tons of hay. Mr. Keiser did not have a dollar's worth of insurance so that his loss is complete and quite heavy. He was unable to place an estimate upon it but those who are familiar with the property losses placed it around $5,000.

BABE HAD THE RIGHT HUNCH.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 12.—When Mrs. Clarence Hite, of Court street, tried to administer a common home remedy to her small baby, the delicate nostrils of the child were burned by the fumes of the medicine. This caused the child to jerk back, an action which saved it. Mrs. Hite at once called a physician, who found the contents of the unlabeled bottle, from which the medicine had been taken, to be a combination of chloroform and iodine that had been used in the treatment of an ulcerated tooth. Comparison of the bottle which contained the poison with that which held the remedy intended to be used, showed the same size and color.

TO WED MONTPELIER GIRL.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—The many friends of Orlando Ashbacher, an electrician in the employ of the city lighting department, will be interested to learn that his marriage to Miss Pearl Walser, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Walser, of Montpelier, will take place some time this month. The wedding will be performed very quietly at the bride's home at Montpelier and very few friends will be entrusted in advance with the date for the ceremony. After a short trip to points of interest in northern Ohio and Michigan Mr. and Mrs. Ashbacher will begin house-keeping in Bluffton, in the groom's property.

LAST OF ROYAL INDIAN FAMILY.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 12.—For the first time in a century or longer, and probably for all time, Huntington county will soon be without a member of one branch of the ruling family of the Miami Indians. Since the death of Mrs. Chas. Little Turtle, her son, Anthony Revare, has been preparing to leave for Oklahoma to live with his sister, Mrs. Mary Taylor, of Oklahoma. She has returned to her home after attending to her mother's funeral and attending to affairs incident to settling the estate. Anthony expects to follow her in about two weeks.

FARM HOME BURNS NEAR LAGRO.

Lagro, Ind., Oct. 12.—Flames starting from a defective flue burned the Joe Renner home, a mile and a half south of Lagro, to the ground, with a loss estimated at more than $2,000.

DRESSES, GLOVES, SILKS AND SUITS

Tells women how to dry clean everything with gasoline and save $5.

It is very easy and inexpensive to dry clean and brighten all the ribbons, laces, yokes, neckties, silks, net work, satins, shirtwaists, kid gloves and shoes, fur children's clothing, suits, evening wear, garments, fancy vests, Swiss, lawn, or gaudie and chiffon dresses, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water. Get two ounces of solvent at any drug-gist and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it immediately dissolves. Then immerse the goods to be cleaned; rub a little and out they come looking bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

These "dry moments" work saves any household five to ten dollars. Try it and you will find dry cleaning just as easy as laundering. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline and the drug store will furnish the solvent, which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your home dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.

part of which is covered by insurance. The family had returned from church and were awaiting dinner when one of the children exclaimed: "What is that cracking and popping?" She started to leave the house, and at the door met neighbors who had seen the flames and were rushing to aid in carrying out furniture and fight the fire. The roof fell in soon afterward. The Lagro fire engine answered a call and arrived in time to extinguish flames that had spread to a summer kitchen and to save the barn.

PLASTERING FELL ABOUT THEM.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 12.—While Deputy Clerk L. L. Baumgartner, Clerk-elect Will Hammell, Court Bailiff T. H. Ernst and Court Reporter H. M. DeVoss were in the clerk's office Monday discussing the various topics of current news, there was a sudden cracking noise from the ceiling of the office room, almost directly above them and in an instant a piece of plastering measuring several feet in circumference came crashing to the floor, only a few feet from some of the men, making a loud noise and filling the room with dust and dirt, that covered the men as well as the desks and books in the office.

HELD FOR KEEPING BLIND TIGER.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—Thomas Williams, a south side resident, who was under investigation last week in connection with the arrest of Elzey Starr on a boot-legging charge, was taken in charge by local police and placed in jail to answer a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. He secured his release on a $200 bond, for a hearing later.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 12.—Two persons from Warsaw narrowly escaped with their lives Sunday morning, when a big machine in which they were riding, turned turtle about a mile and a half east of Columbus City. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collins, of West Market street, who were enroute to Fort Wayne at the time.

TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lane, well known residents of Rome City, are planning to celebrate their golden wedding on Friday, October 15. Relatives and friends are planning to make the occasion a memorable one for the aged couple. Martin Lane, formerly night marshal in this city, and now a resident of Auburn, is a son.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the torpid, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

LINOLEUM WEEK

A New Note In Modern Home Furnishing

Probably the most unique display that has ever come to Fort Wayne is being shown in our window. The exhibit consists of a modern home in miniature, completely furnished, with electricity and floored throughout with linoleum!

This display, which is put out by the Linoleum department of the Armstrong Cork Company, Lancaster, Pa., strikes a new note in modern home furnishing and is therefore of special interest to every woman.

For many years Europeans have recognized the advantages of linoleum as a floor covering for rooms other than merely the bath, kitchen and hall and have been using it all over their houses. They like it, they say, because it is thoroughly sanitary, and at the same time remarkably attractive—particularly in the carpet, matting and floral designs now available.

Knowing that American women are the most progressive of any nation and quick to adopt anything that will contribute to health and comfort, the Armstrong Company is providing linoleum in a variety of designs suitable for every room in the house. The result is that the consumer now has a wide choice of dainty matting and floral patterns—delicate shades of pink, blue and green—for bedrooms and nurseries; hardwood effects for the dining room and hall; carpet designs for the living room, etc.

To the woman who has never considered linoleum for other rooms than those where its use has been traditional, this display will prove extremely interesting. It demonstrates in a striking manner what a pleasing and artistic floor covering linoleum makes, when designs of suitable character are selected. It will not harbor germs, is easy to keep clean, last a long time and is cheaper than almost any other floor covering on the market.

During This Display

—we will have a special sale of linoleums at very low prices.

Exodus 15:1-18.

1 Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song unto the Lord and spake, saying, I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

2 The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him.

3 The Lord is a man of war: the Lord is his name.

4 Pharaoh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.

5 The depths have covered them: they sank into the bottom as a stone.

6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is become glorious in power: Thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

7 And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble.

8 And with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, the floods stood upright as an heap, and the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

9 The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil; my lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword, my hand shall destroy them.

10 Thou didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them: they sank as lead in the mighty waters.

11 Who is like unto thee, O Lord, among the gods? who is like thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?

12 Thou stretchedst out thy right hand, the earth swallowed them.

13 Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation.

14 The people shall hear, and be afraid: sorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Palestina.

15 Then the dukes of Edom shall be amazed; the mighty men of Moab, trembling shall take hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Canaan shall melt away.

16 Fear and dread shall fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still as a stone; till thy people pass over, O Lord, till the people pass over, which thou hast purchased.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thine inheritance, in the place, O Lord, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in, in the Sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.

18 The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

America First.

Americanism of the finest grade and the highest order was again voiced by President Wilson in his address before the Daughters of American Revolution when he pointed to absolute and exact neutrality, but with the still higher object of preserving the foundation upon which peace could be rebuilt. The president has been looking steadily ahead in the struggle that has engulfed Europe for more than a year, and his vision has carried far. It has risen above the mere avoidance of American participation, desirable as that undoubtedly is, and it has glimpsed an opportunity in which the United States may later perform a signal service for all humanity.

"Peace can be rebuilt," he declared, "only upon the ancient and accepted principles of international law; only upon those things which remind nations of their duties to each other and, deeper than that, of their duties to mankind and humanity. America has a great cause which is not confined to the American continent. It is the cause of humanity itself." Throughout the trying days of the past fourteen months the president has displayed a marvelous grasp of the larger question involved, and never more so than in his latest utterance. He has been able to rise above the immediate issues and sense a still higher duty for the future. It will be a happy thing if Mr. Wilson is able to bring the American people to his own vision of the opportunity of a stand for enduring peace that will come when the warring nations, exhausted of blood and of wealth and of sustenance, find need of a basis upon which to rebuild and regenerate.

And we think the influence of the president is beginning to grip the American people as it has not heretofore gripped them. We think we can detect rather more care, more caution, more consideration, more Americanism and less jingoism among Americans, both native-born and of foreign lineage. It is encouraging and gratifying to find it so. Maintained, it will mean that America's victory will be greatest of all, regardless of the fate of one faction or the other in the world's conflict. It will be well if each of us gives serious thought and serious heed to the duty as pointed out by President Wilson in his newest utterances.

The state convention of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce, which is to be held at Kokomo this week, is of unusual importance because of its possibilities not only in trade advancement, but in the civic progress of the cities and towns as well. It is expected that representatives of more than one hundred commercial organizations will be in attendance, and plans are under way for broadening the scope and increasing the usefulness of the state body. With a free interchange of ideas and suggestions in both trade and civics, there is bound to be radiated to every corner of the state a spirit of enthusiasm and progress that will be an important element in making Indiana cities and towns better from every viewpoint.

In Ohio the primary law provides that before any man can go before the voters for the presidency he must file a written formal declaration of his candidacy for the place. The thing that is now causing the Ohio electorate to lose sleep o' nights is the fear that some of the favorite sons whom they have picked for the presidency will be too shy and retiring to come out in the open and admit that they would rather like to have the job. Politics is not altogether a rosy pathway, even in Ohio.

Closing of the saloons at Chicago on Sunday, brought the lowest Sunday crime record in the history of the Chicago police department, according to Chief Healey, who is in position to know what he is talking about. Perhaps no such argument was needed to sustain the desirability of the Sunday lid, but it is a rather happy circumstance to note good results coming so quickly after forty years of the wide-open regime in the windy city.

County Agricultural Agent Henry has just received his annual salary of eighty-two cents from the United States government, but it is to be regretted that the season is rather late to indulge in the contemplation of a care-free summer at the seashore. However, all is not lost. The check arrived in ample time to meet the coal man as he drives up to the door.

A "STILL STRONG MAN."

(Louisville Courier Journal).

The United States could not be called by its worst enemy a "blatant land," inasmuch as there has been no popular excitement or uproar about the German submarine program. But the denouement in the Arabic incident brings President Wilson to the fore as pre-eminently the "still strong man" not only of his own country but of Christendom. His patience and persistence have won what bluster and haste never could have accomplished.

The country has been seriously near war because there are few Americans who would rather endure the hardships of war than brook continued injuries. There is not the slightest doubt that the American people—the adult and able-bodied males who would have borne arms—and the larger number who would have borne the burdens of war—would have stood solidly behind the president if he had discharged his duty of defining and protecting the rights of the American people at sea.

A WONDERFUL PLENTY.

(New York World).

It just happened a year ago that the country produced the biggest wheat crop ever known when the great market for our surplus foodstuffs became most in need of them. As the American harvest was moving northward through the vast grain belt of the west,

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. The famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Advertisement.

the tide of war was beginning to carry destruction over the fairest farm fields of Europe and the warring nations were grasping in all directions to secure themselves against any emergency of famine. The combined consequence was the greatest export of breadstuffs from the United States at the highest prices we have ever experienced.

This year all farm production worked with the design and under so great a stimulus to outdo any previous result. The weather was never more promising. Low temperatures and excessive rainfall. But for the staple food crops, which are now practically secure, the government reports a total quantity exceeding all previous records.

Wheat is better than a billion-bushel harvest and 111,000,000 bushels above the record yield of 1914. Corn indicates a yield exceeded only in 1912. The oat, the barley, the rye and the hay crops are all above those of any previous year, the potato crop is a good average and the fruit yields are above the average.

As a year of plenty among other years of abundance in this favored land, 1915 beats them all.

FORT WAYNE'S GREATEST BARGAIN STORE.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Tom B. Shoff, of New York City, is here on a visit.

Lips Thiene, of the tailoring firm, has returned from a business trip.

At their convention the republicans of Allen county decided not to nominate a county ticket.

A national gas explosion occurred this morning in the home of Henry Hitzeman at the corner of Fairfield and Creighton avenues.

The time will come when the cars on all the street railroad lines in Fort Wayne will be run with electricity.

Otto Klinkenberg, George Loesch, Dr. George L. Greenwalt and Charles Freese, who are hunting in Northern Wisconsin, write friends here that game is scarce.

Sherman Dolan leaves Wednesday for Battle Creek, Mich., to perfect himself in the art of musical printing, in which business he will engage upon his return to this city.

Architect B. S. Tolan says that the new building of the Old National bank, corner Calhoun and Berry streets, will be ready for occupancy early in December.

With practically all the needed money subscribed for the new exposition grounds and race track, the question of a site is now uppermost. Many business men favor the old fair grounds in Swinney park.

Messrs. Peter Nussbaum, of the Centlivre brewery, and William Breuer, of the Berghoff brewery, left today for Pittsburgh to attend the annual convention of the North American brewers.

James M. Babcock, a farmer of Lagrange county, was nominated for congressman from the Twelfth district by the republican convention in this city. The names of Hon. John W. Hayden and Charles A. Bookwalter, both of this city, were also presented to the convention.

An eastern syndicate is negotiating for the purchase of the old Grafe homestead, on Calhoun street, between Washington and Jefferson streets, as a site for a new opera house. The property is worth $350 a front foot. (The property referred to is now the site of the Lyric theater, built in 1908.)

BARRED FROM THE MAILS.

Un-Neutral Matter Put Under Ban By Department Order.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Two forms of mail matter said to have been extensively used by persons desiring to indicate their sympathies in connection with the European war, were barred from the mails as un-neutral today by Postmaster General Burleson. The order follows:

"Postmasters are directed to treat as non-mailable, under section 218 of the penal code, (section 48, postal laws and regulations) envelopes, post cards, etc., bearing stickers containing the words or having printed thereon the words, 'Gott strafe England' or a picture of the German escutcheon with a red blot labeled 'Lusitania' inscribed. 'The blot that won't come off' as being not only un-neutral, but calculated to reflect on certain classes of persons."

SMOKER AND SOCIAL SESSION.

Robert J. Gaskill, secretary of Cadonia grotto, No. 30, Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, announces that a social session and smoker will follow the business meeting Wednesday evening in the Odd Fellows building. Further arrangements will be made for the ceremonial to be held on October 20.

TAKEN ON ROBBERY CHARGE.

Shelburn Man Arrested in Connection With Holdup at Hymers.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 12.—Henry Davey, 27 years old, of Shelburn, Ind., was arrested here last night charged with being implicated in the robbery Saturday of the paymaster of the Lottas Creek coal company, near Hymers, Ind. Two men held up Earl Smith, took more than $9,000 from the office and escaped on a motorcycle. Davey showed fight, but he was surrounded by six patrolmen. He had more than $200 in his possession and was armed with a heavy revolver. Police say Davey was convicted for a robbery committed in Carmi, Ill. He broke jail in Carmi before he was taken to prison.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those who hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all done drug goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Advertisement.

WILSON PREFERS NEW RUNNING MATE, RUMOR

Not Lucky to Run Same Team Twice, Said to Be His Belief.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The Tribune today prints the following from a staff correspondent at Washington:

Friends of Vice President Marshall believe that President Wilson does not desire Mr. Marshall as his running mate on the Democratic national ticket in 1918.

The president's apparent coolness towards the vice president is said to be due first to his belief that it is not lucky to run the same team twice in a national race and also to the failure of the vice president to stand "hitched" to several measures most earnestly advocated by close friends of the administration in the last congress, including the river and harbor pork barrel bill.

Marshall Eliminates Self? The vice president, according to the administration view, has not done his share in carrying out the parliamentary coups planned by its leaders, and, therefore, has practically eliminated himself from consideration for a renomination unless it appears that no other person can be agreed upon by the next democratic convention.

Mr. Marshall, while outspokenly opposed to the restrictions placed upon the activities of the person holding the vice presidency, is known to desire another term in office.

While he has not found the duty of presiding over the senate altogether to his liking, he has found Washington life exceedingly pleasant. Both he and his wife are great favorites here and their friends regret to see them go.

Lewis Suggested for Place. There is no lack of aspiring democrats who would like a place on the ticket with the president. They come from pretty nearly every doubtful state and some which are not even doubtful.

Among those suggested is Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois. Senator Lewis has said recently that he favored the renomination of Vice President Marshall. In case the vice president is not renominated, however, the Illinoisan does not deny that his lightning rod is inviting hits.

Former Gov. Cox, of Ohio, is another who would not refuse the nomination if tendered to him, while Commissioner of Immigration Howe believes that if he is nominated, in case the vice president is eliminated from consideration, he might do much toward carrying New York.

Want Western Candidate. Administration leaders do not desire an eastern candidate, however, as they feel that the ticket should be balanced with a western running mate.

In Ohio, Senator Pomeroy will be up for re-election. The nomination of former Gov. Cox, the leaders believe, would add strength not only to the national ticket but strength to Pomeroy's candidacy.

In Indiana, Senator Kern will be up for re-election. He is regarded by the administration as sufficiently strong to carry his state without the assistance of a democratic vice presidential candidate from Indiana.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., Oct. 12.—George Baker and family of Springfield center, John Madden of Butler, Mrs. Inez Miller and children, Miss Mae Moody and Miss Edna Dennis were Sunday guests at the Harvey Kimes, sr., home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hollabaugh and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goldsmith and Mr. and Mrs. William Goldsmith and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Deitrick, of Couburntown.

Mrs. Ella Fischer and daughters, Dorothy, and Miriam, returned to their home at Pleasant Lake Saturday, after spending the past week visiting relatives at this place.

News was received here of the arrival of a baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bayne of Corunna. Mrs. Bayne was formerly Miss Edith Jones.

Walter Wilson and wife of Concord, Mrs. Lib Wasson and son, Lou Hovey, and family of Auburn, were Sunday dinner guests of Steven Brown and family.

The young people of the Lutheran church and Sunday school, met on Thursday night and organized an Epworth league. The officers were as follows: Miss Bertha Thorburg, president; Miss Vera Silberg, vice president; Mr. Levi Munnia, treasurer; Ray Means, recording secretary; Miss Clara Keaster, corresponding secretary; Miss Leone Widdlerfeld, organist.

George Kimes, wife and daughter, Mira, of Cleveland, were Saturday dinner guests of Harvey Kimes sr., and family.

D. H. Horn, wife and daughter, Zona, Mr. Ezra Horn, John Horn, wife and daughter, Lulu, were Sunday guests of Mr. Newton Miller and family of the county line.

Alvin Keesler, wife and family, of Leo, were Sunday guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Keesler and family.

Charles White and family, of Waterloo, were Sunday guests of the former's brother, John White, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. U. Bowser and family of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bowser of Union Chapel, were Sunday guests of the former's brother, Mr. Homer Bowser and family, of Hometown.

John Shutt who has been working in Cedarville, spent Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Holloppeter and son, Cecil, of near Hurshtown, spent Sunday the guests of the lady's father, George Hollabaugh.

TWO CHILDREN HAD CROUP.
The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant of Cleveland, Ga., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 8 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, heals raw, inflamed throat and loosens phlegm. Dr. J. C. Reed, Druggist.

Alfred Kleinrichert of 3114 South Calhoun street, entertained a few friends on Saturday evening in honor of his nineteenth birthday anniversary. A game of progressive rummy was enjoyed and a luncheon that was tempting and satisfying. The guests were Misses Lillian Grosh, Sofia Gruber, Leona Kleinrichert, Marcella Rohyans, Ivon and Veronica Pape and Messrs. Russell Diemer, Will Pape, Gerald Aurentz, Alfred Kuehn and John Smith.

Miss Cecelia Zurbuch entertained a number of her friends from Fort Wayne at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zurbuch, near New Haven, on Sunday. Music, out of doors sports and an excellent dinner were the chief pleasures of the day. Those who were Miss Zurbuch's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Medairs, Mrs. Catherine Zurbuch, Misses Christine Walda, Vivian Lowe, Eva Thomas, Grace Hermans, Elizabeth Wolf, Regina Zurbuch.

Miss Lydia Heine was honored on Saturday evening by a pretty party and a shower of aluminum gifts at the home of the Misses Clara and Thelma Schmidt. Pink chrysanthemums, pink cosmos, pink candles, tiny pink cup place cards were the principal things of a lovely decoration. Miss Heine is a bride-elect of November. Many parties are planned in her honor. The guests at this time were Esther Griebel, Sophia Heine, Elfrieda Reese, Grace Babbitt, Laura Burg, Eleanor Vonderaar, Bland Schmidt and Mrs. Walter Edwards, of Chicago.

Miss Rosella, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoshach, invited a few of her small friends to help her celebrate her eighth birthday anniversary on Saturday afternoon. A fine time was spent playing games. Later, about 3 o'clock, Miss Rosella led the way to the dining room, where a table was beautifully decorated and laid with a bountiful supper, including a birthday cake. Pink and white were the colors that prevailed and the basket of candy each one found at her plate expressed those dainty and favorite colors. Mrs. Joe Reitz, Mrs. Will Heidrich and Miss Naomi Dalman assisted Mrs. Hoshach in looking after the children's happiness. The guests left many pretty remembrances of the day with the birthday girl.

Every hat will have a zoo of its own if women take to the latest thing in autumn headgear.

The more startling the effect the better and so elephants and camels figure prominently on some of the newest hats. Some are embroidered in brilliant colors on black velvet or beaver foundations while others cut out of white or black leather are stitched on.

But nothing in the animal line is barred save mice. And no real woman could be expected to appear with even a "make believe" mouse on her hat.

BEVERLY BAYNE'S $50,000 WARDROBE—THE NEGLIGEE.

"Every wardrobe, to be complete, must have at least one negligee. An excellent model of this type of apparel is shown here as worn by Beverly Bayne, the noted film star who plays opposite Francis Bushman.

Though this is an expensive model, it can be made up in much less costly materials, but on the same graceful lines.

It is pink chiffon over pink satin. The edges of skirt and waist are outlined in brilliant, and edged with silver trimming.

The bottom of the underskirt, which ends in a tiny demi-train, is edged with a ruffling of soft tulle; the silver trimming again being employed in the ornamentation of it along the gathering string.

The model is built with a tunic effect, the latter being outlined with silver trimming also.

One of the charming innovations in this leisure-hour costume is the use of flowers, garland-fashion, around the deep waist which falls well down on the hip.

Adding much grace and splendid lines to the creation, is the long crope scarf which is admirably shown in this picture.

Kulp-Miller.
The wedding of Miss Marie Miller and Dr. Raymond R. Kulp, of Davenport, Ia., was a beautiful nuptial event at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucile Miller, as honor maid and by Misses Marie Bresnahan, of Huntington, and Miss Marie Aurentz, of this city, as bridesmaids. Mr. Harry Brink, of Madison, Wis., was best man and Mr. Roy Aurentz and Mr. Clement Miller were groomsmen. The wedding guests were ushered to seats by Messrs. Stephen Weber and Clarence Alter. Especially beautiful music was a part of the nuptial mass. Miss Helen Loos sang the Ave Marie and "O Promise Me" and Mr. Carl Weber, a relative of the bride, sang the offertory and also during the marriage ceremony. The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller, wore a beautiful costume in keeping with her own beauty which is striking. The wedding gown was of bride satin fashioned in modish manner with a court train that was cut in three points each of which was finished with a pearl ornament. Much chintilly lace was used about the bodice and the front of the dress, cut in princess fashion, had a lace drape held in place by a handsome ornament of pearl beads. The bridal veil was held with a wreath of orange blossoms the bride's mother wore at her wedding and the bride's bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a white ruffled lace gown with pink tulle bolero effect. A tiny wreath of pink rose buds set off with a fluffy bow of pink tulle was worn in her hair and a round bouquet of pink roses completed a most charming effect. The bridesmaids were gowned in stunning costumes of pale pink tulle ruffled gowns with which they wore large black velvet hats faced with pink velvet and trimmed with flat pompons of pink mallow from which a bird of paradise feather stood. Bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums were a distinctive color feature of the bridesmaids' fine appearance. The wedding party went directly to the bride's home at 208 East De Wald street, after the service and received the congratulations of relatives. The wedding dinner was served at 1 o'clock by Mrs. Schumaker with covers laid for sixty, including a few personal friends of the bride as well as relatives. Decorations of the diningroom were carried out in pink and white. The long table had a cake for its centerpiece and either end had a tall basket of roses, asters and dahlias in the chosen colors. The long window seat in the room was banked with blooming plants and vases of flowers. Appointments of the dinner carried out the colors and were very pretty. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the bride and groom left for Colorado Springs and other points of Colorado for a trip of several weeks. After the first of December Dr. and Mrs. Kulp will be at home at 122 Ridgewood avenue, Davenport, Ia., where Dr. Kulp enjoys a lucrative and extensive practice. For traveling the bride wears a midnight blue gabarine suit with pale pink blouse of georgette crepe. Wide black braid trims the tailor suit and a black velvet hat with a gray fancy feather is in keeping with gray shoes and gloves. Mrs. Kulp, mother of the groom, and Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Kulp, a brother of the groom, and his wife, all of Davenport, and Mrs. Ed Burns, of Des Moines, Ia., an aunt to the bride, were out-of-town guests who came to the wedding.

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Felts, Miss Grace Felts was married at noon on Tuesday to Mrs. L. M. Dill, of Logansport, by Rev. Paul Preston, of Angola. The wedding was not a large one and only relatives and a few of the nearest friends were present, numbering in all between thirty and forty. Neither bride nor groom was attended. The marriage service was read in the parlor where the bay window had been canopied with smilax and banked with ferns while vases of white roses and carnations made the rooms fragrant and the surrounding for the sweet bride both appropriate and beautiful. The bride was dressed in a white crepe de meteor with trimmings of fine lace and she wore a veil. The bride's bouquet was made of lilies of the valley with a shower of white ribbon held to the flowers in a butterfly bow. Miss Mildred Garn, of Angola, played the wedding music and "Evening Star" during the marriage ceremony. Miss Mildred Bailey, of Angola, sang "O Promise Me." The wedding dinner was served as soon as the bride and groom had received the felicitations of the company. The bride's table and the din-

PRIVILEGES

ANY girl thinks she has a soft snap because the boss gives her certain privileges as to working rules. And gradually she gets to abusing that soft snap. Then one day things happen. The boss is maybe in a bad temper, or she chances to be away at a time when something very important turns up, and bang! She may find herself called down very hard, indeed, if nothing worse.

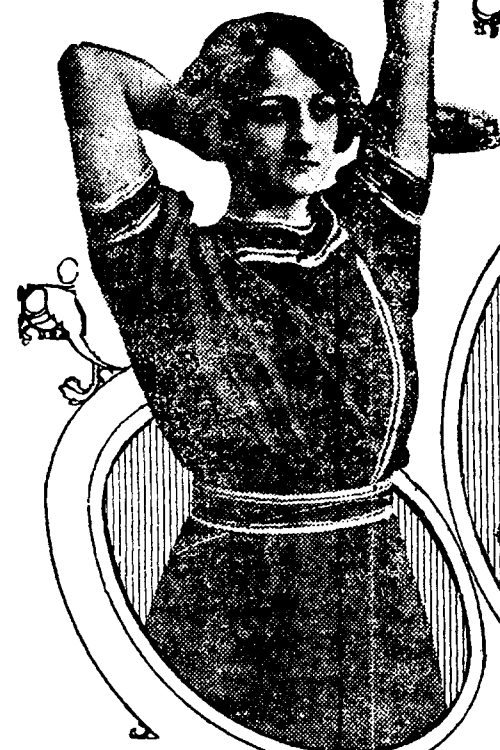

So, girls, let me beg of you to go easy on those privileges. Of course, it is pleasant to have a boss who is not hard on you, and who doesn't growl if you stay away because you aren't feeling right, and lets you off if you want to get away early, and who helps generally to make office life agreeable.

But don't impose too much. Work is work, not privilege, and the most good-natured person resents being imposed on. You are apt to forget that what was ten minutes to begin with ought not to be half an hour now. And because you don't fear a scolding is no reason for cheating your employer out of time and labor for which he is paying you.

Once in awhile, by all means, take advantage of your privileges. But be sure that you let the boss see that you regard the occasion as a rare one, that you recognize it as being a privilege, and that you intend to repay him for his kindness in one way or another, by putting in some extra time or doing an unexpected job on an off day.

In business there is precious little given for nothing, and you don't want to put yourself in the position of taking anything for nothing.

PLANTS FOR LIVING ROOMS

BY U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE.

ANY lovers of flowers who have not the time to bother with an indoor window box enjoy keeping a number of potted plants in their living rooms during the winter. Some, in fact, have turned a bay window into a small conservatory of winter garden merely by an attractive arrangement of plants in separate pots.

When a window box is filled the plants must be of the same general character to be successful, but if one's winter garden is made up of plants in separate pots a greater variety may be kept, as each plant may receive different treatment in the matter of light, watering, soil, etc., and palms, rubber plants and cacti, which call for special handling, may be added. Begonias, ivy, smilax and aspidistra, all good plants for indoor culture, demand more or less the same treatment.

Those who do not have gardens would do better to get potting soil from a florist for their potted plants. Good potting soil may be prepared at home but it usually takes considerable care and forethought.

Those willing to take the trouble may prepare it by using one part compost, one part good loam and one part sand. The compost should be cow manure and good turf rotted together for a year and turned two or three times in the interim. Well decomposed leaf mould would answer as a partial substitute for the compost.

One-twentieth part bone meal is a good addition to the mixture. If the loam is very heavy, containing much clay, its proportion should be somewhat diminished. If the loam is light and sandy, reduce the amount of sand, or in some localities, omit it altogether.

Potted plants should be examined occasionally to see whether or not they require repotting. This is done by holding the hands over the top of the pot, inverting plant and all, tapping the edge of the pot so as to loosen it, then lifting the pot off.

This cannot be done unless the soil is moderately moist. If the ball of earth is completely covered with roots, the plant should be put in a slightly larger pot with new potting soil "firmed" about the old ball of earth by "firming" with the fingers. Then it should be wet thoroughly.

A housewife who desires a few potted plants but does not possess the regulation flower pots, may prepare tin cans that will be quite satisfactory. A small hole should be made in the bottom of the can and a piece of broken crockery or a few stones put in the bottom of the can before the earth is added, in order to give the proper drainage. The stones or crockery should be used also in the regular flower pot.

Hanging baskets may be used advantageously to make an indoor winter garden attractive. They should be hung near a light window.

If geraniums are potted so that the root growth is restricted, and if they are kept fairly dry, they may be forced to bloom during the winter. Geraniums are attractive in the ordinary window box because of their foliage alone. They should not be placed in a window box with the expectation that they will bear flowers.

Ferns as they come from the florists prepared for indoor culture should be placed in a strong light, though they grow well without sunlight.

They should be watered sparingly, but should be kept moist at all times. Improper watering, especially keeping the plant soaked or permitting it to get dry, is the foundation of most fern difficulties.

It is especially difficult not to overwater when the fern is in a jardiniere, where drainage is necessarily poor. In spring and summer ferns require three times the water necessary in fall and winter.

It is well occasionally to put them in the bathtub and give them a bath with weak sudsy made from a good grade of soap. The soap must be thoroughly rinsed off immediately. Great care must be exercised not to injure the fronds, as they are very tender.

Mealy bug is one of the worst enemies in house culture. This is a white woolly insect, that works close to the bottom of the fronds.

If they are found the plant should be examined every day and all insects removed by a splint or toothpick. If the pest is very bad, cut off all of the fern within an inch of the ground and treat thoroughly each day till all insects are exterminated. Then a new top can be grown.

Red spider is a minute sucking insect that thrives in a dry atmosphere.

GET people when setting a fire lay the wood flat, cross-cross over the paper in the bottom of the grate, but let them try the sides of the grate to the center. This forms a funnel for a free passage of air, and as the flame travels up the stick more quickly than it does across, the result is that fewer pieces are required, and the fire burns up more brightly and in half the time that it usually takes. Then when placing a lump of coal on the fire, if you wish it to last a long time lay it with the grain of the coal running across, as the flame travels more slowly across than upward.

MBROIDERY is one of the most fascinating amusements for long winter hours, and just now the artistic are making attractive doilies in huckaback. First the large doily is outlined upon the square for material and the edge is worked with a colored floss in a medium buttonhole stitch. The edge can be perfectly plain with small or large scrolls or more intricate. After working the pattern, cut it from the goods, press it on the wrong side and outline a wreath of oak leaves around the edge. These leaves should be large and worked with oak silkateen. The pattern employed is merely the darning stitch, woven back and forth, the same as all ordinary huckaback patterns. Only extremely large leaf or floral patterns will look attractive when fashioned in this manner.

AN authority claims that tan shoes should be purchased late in the day, because earlier in the day a much smaller shoe can be comfortably worn. Tan leather does not "give" like other leather and often shrinks slightly when dampened. For this reason a tan shoe holds its shape much better than a black one, though it must be comfortably fitted when purchased. This should be remembered by mothers buying tan shoes for children, for a pinched shoe is too annoying for anything and doubly so for children.

GUESTS at an informal luncheon were at first puzzled by a dairy looking relish brought on with the meat. Not until tasted was the secret revealed, when they discovered that the crisp, brown little tubes, about two inches in length, were of celery. Large, firm stalks were chosen, and after being cut were dipped in egg and cracker crumbs, fried in deep fat or sautéed in butter, and were served with a brown sauce. In the original instance this vegetable was served with fowl. It is also nice with fish, creamed in the chafing dish with oysters, etc.

WO or three times a week spread the accumulated scraps of bread upon a tin plate or in a baking pan, and set in a moderate oven until perfectly dry. Soft

It can be kept in check by spraying the top with clear water. In living rooms this is frequently impracticable. The next best thing is repeated baths. The apple or green fly is also eradicated by washing. Ferns should be fed once in two to four weeks in place of ordinary watering with dilute nitrate of soda (a heaping teaspoonful to a quart of water), ammonia water (a teaspoonful of ammonia to a quart) or manure leachings.

Prepared food or a little sprinkling of ground bone and wood ashes also give satisfaction.

or "soggy" bits are food for nothing and interfere with the work. If, by chance or intention, the bread is slightly browned keep it apart from that which remains white. A glass jar for each kind is a good idea. While the dried bits are still warm, lay upon a kneading board and crush to powder with the rolling pin. Do this thoroughly for the "dust," leaving no gritty particles. Keep in a closed jar in a dry place. It is invaluable for breading croquettes, fried fish, chops, etc. Roll the article to be breaded, first in beaten egg, then in the bread dust, to which have been added a little salt and pepper.

YEARS ago, when hoops went out of style, the last was as small as could be worn, the place of the slender wires being taken, for perhaps ten inches in front, by tapes one and three-fourths inches broad. Dresses were a comfortable width and the hoop took the place of starched skirts. This is the testimony of an old-fashioned lady who wistfully looks back upon her return. She continues: "Time was when hoops were from three to five yards around, and even when smaller, if stiff, they were very inconvenient, the wearer being obliged to lift one side when entering a church pew, but slender wires with tape fronts were no more a hindrance than the tight skirt, and what a convenience! The ironing of many starched skirts was avoided, also their unhealthy weight. For those who worked in hot rooms the advantage was very great. In a high wind the hoop prevented the dress and skirts from twisting around the ankles, and any unprejudiced observer would agree that the style was much more modest and becoming than the very tight or very full skirt. If the gay and giddy prefer a dress which 'clings' or 'billows,' a multitude would bless the manufacturer who would make a hoop-skirt such as I have described. If elastic, not too stiff, should take the place of tapes, it might be an improvement, but a small hoop-skirt, Mr. Modiste, do let us have."

WE all know the story of the woman who gave the poor child some stale bread and sent her home to tell her mother if she would add a couple of eggs, sugar, a cup of raisins, some flour, a quart of milk, etc., and would bake it in a slow oven she would have a most delicious bread pudding. We are inclined to laugh at the story, but so many similar stories are enacted in many homes. Many housekeepers who believe that economy is entirely a matter of saving money and that if the affairs of the household are administered by them with this end in view they have every reason to be perfectly satisfied with their achievement. But there is a false economy as well as a true one. Take the question of providing meals. Most women feel that after each meal there should be sufficient left over to help out the next, believing this to be an economy. But this is more often than not a mistake. Only when food left over can be presented again with less trouble and expense than the ingredients necessary for a new dish, and as appetizing as the freshly prepared, can it be said to be an economy. Meat that can be eaten cold or heated up quickly and easily may be cooked in quantity with a saving of time and money, but a made-over dish that calls for expensive combinations, much time for preparation, and length of time in cooking will not prove economical in the end, to say nothing of one's efforts being met with, "Oh! This old dish has been up again!"

THE TALE OF A BUTTON

How This Article Came Into Its Own.

BY EDNA EGAN.

ON the shabby old calico waist the last button hung on a solitary thread, just as discouraged as one could possibly be who had seen better days. No one seemed to care now whether or not she were of pretty pearl and had two big round eyes.

"At least," she said, "somebody might cut this strange rope and keep me as an antique made from an oyster shell, even if my body good enough to serve on a pretty shirt-waist."

"Oh, well do I remember," she continued, "how happy I was when I lay on the card with my sisters, where, with many relatives, we were exhibited to the world. I often think of the conversation I heard that day between two clever people, who, to all appearances, were very friendly to the members of the Button World. It pleased me very much to know that the beautiful pearl of the oyster shell did not go to waste, but was taken to the factory where men carried on what was called the Button Industry. Upon hearing this name mentioned, I immediately opened my eyes wider. I could scarcely say, as some would expect, that I pricked up my ears, since my eyes must serve for both sight and hearing."

"To continue, the pearl is modeled into buttons and they are then sewn on cards—so you see the members of the different button families are easily kept together. These are then bought by store-keepers and placed before the eyes of the people, to be selected for garments."

"How proud I was to be the topic of conversation; but my delight knew no bounds when one of five ladies picked up the card holding my family and said that she would buy us for her new poplin waist. My sisters and I gazed with joy upon each other, and one sister, in her attempts to raise herself to beam upon us all, broke the rope which held her and would have rolled away had not our kind friends rescued her."

"While we were being purchased, we all whispered 'good-bye' to our relatives. How they glittered with envy, especially the green glass ones. 'But it was our lot to be chosen, and so we went gladly out into the world.'

"My first experience was within a big, dark cartilage, which was most likely the lady's pocketbook. There I became acquainted with a very polished and distinguished person—a silver pencil; he was, to all appearances, displeased at my coming, for he rolled away when I entered. Later, however, we conversed, and, although he was a trifle witty and sharp, I could see the point every time he spoke."

"As we continued on our journey, and my bright eyes became accustomed to the darkness, I noticed many strange things about me. I could not begin to tell you what was there."

"I became very much interested in what appeared to be a very queer-looking piece of green paper, with white lines drawn in all directions. My curiosity was aroused, and I asked a few questions. It was quite taken back when I received my answer, which was a somewhat lengthy one."

"This person of prestige was a dollar bill," it responded, "made in the printing and engraving building at Washington, where a large company of men, after receiving the paper forms, made the queer-looking drawings with machines. Then these things called dollar bills were sent out for people to use to buy different articles."

"When these words had actually been thrown at me, I thoroughly realized that money certainly did talk, and in disgust, I turned my attention to other things. I was just in the act of unbuckling more curiously when the carriage door opened and my sisters and myself were taken out."

"They are so pretty," I heard somebody say, and how I shone. I wondered what was to happen now."

"I soon discovered my destiny, when I saw my sisters being sewn on something lovely and white, which I judged must be the poplin waist."

"I did not realize that this work was painful for us, until that sharp thing called 'needle' was pulled through me. But what was a little pain compared to future admiration, and I immediately thought of the Africans who wear rings in their ears and noses, for the sake of attracting attention."

"Finally, the task was completed, and then one fine day we were present on the poplin waist, at a Suffrage Meeting. The lady who wore the waist was the center of attraction, and you can imagine how proud we were."

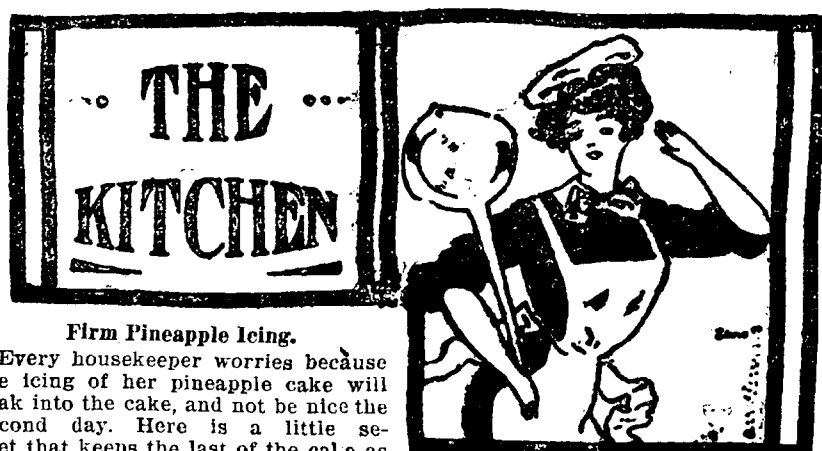

"But I must hurry on with my story. Our career lasted for many days, but finally the pretty waist showed signs of wear. I was rather sad, but my good cheer returned, when, soon after we were transferred to a most attractive blue waist with big white dots. They called it calico."

"Before long, however, I understood that I was destined to reside in the kitchen, and I soon became resigned to my fate."

"Even this kind of life was at least useful, but, oh, what degradation when the calico waist was placed in the attic as a relic of the past, and I had to remain with it."

"Then, too, how grief-stricken I was when, one after another, my poor sisters were clipped off to take the place, no doubt, of a button missing from some other garment. How lonesome they must have been among strangers."

"It was a sad day when the last sister was taken away, and here I have dangled over since, wishing and wishing that I might be restored to the Button Kingdom, even if my companions were not my sisters."

Firm Pineapple Iceing.

Every housekeeper worries because the icing of her pineapple cake will soak into the cake, and not be nice the second day. Here is a little secret that keeps the last of the cake as good as the first. Drain all the juice off of a can of grated pineapple. Put on the stove with two tablespoonfuls of sugar. When it comes to a boil stir in a little at a time two tablespoonfuls of corn starch that has been mixed in a little water. Mix this with pulp when it has thickened. When about cool, put on cake.

Sweet Potato Pie.

Bake sufficient sweet potatoes to make a pint of pulp when rubbed through a colander. Add a pint of rich milk and a scant cup of sugar, salt if desired, the yolks of two eggs, and a little grated lemon rind for flavor. Bake with under crust. When done meringue with the whites of the eggs beaten up with a tablespoonful of sugar. Better than pumpkin pie.

Mexican Sauce.

Use one pint of ripe tomatoes chopped and drained, two cups of chopped onions, one-half cup of white mustard seed, four large red peppers and four green, chop seeds and all; one-half cup of salt, scant; two cups of white sugar, and six cups of vinegar. Mix well and can without heating.

Salmon Roll.

To one can best salmon add one cup fine cracker crumbs, one egg, well beaten, three tablespoons milk, and one teaspoon salt. Drain juice from salmon; pick out all bones and mince fine with a silver fork. Add the other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Press tightly into well buttered tin pound baking powder can; put on cover; set into a kettle of boiling water and boil one hour. Carefully remove from can and serve hot with plain cream sauce, or cold, sliced thin, and arranged on a bed of lettuce or parsley, garnished with slices of lemon. If directions are followed will slice like cheese.

Custard Dumplings.

Take six stale buns, grate crust from buns, mix with sugar and cinnamon. Then make a boiled custard, soak buns in custard one hour, then fry in hot lard. When a nice brown roll in the crumbs, sugar, and cinnamon. If buns are large cut in two.

Sauce—One pint sweet cider, sweeten to taste, slice of lemon, add a little thickening, boil, and pour over buns. Serve warm.

Fish Croquettes.

Boil good sized potatoes until well done; mash them and add one-half can of salmon. Beat one egg and add to salmon and potatoes. Roll some crackers and mix in. Form into small cakes and dip them in eggs, which are well beaten, then in rolled crackers, and fry brown in hot grease.

Soup With Dumplings.

Take one can of corn, put into a good sized stew kettle, and three quarts of cold water, two tablespoons of butter, and salt and pepper to taste; stir well until this boils; make a good baking powder biscuit dough and drop about two dozen small bits of the dough into the boiling soup, and cook fifteen minutes. This is fine and nourishing.

Mock Turtle Soup.

A fine mock turtle soup can be made from the liquor of pink beans. To a quart of the bean soup add one small onion, sliced; one-fourth teaspoonful of allspice, ground; one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg, ground; one stick of cinnamon, two or three cloves. Just before serving add juice of one lemon and some thin slices of lemon.

"Imitation Is The Sincerest Flattery"

Thanks!

Our idea in starting this editorial column was to get close to the public, to express our aims and ideals in little personal talks. It was not so bad when the idea was speedily copied by other houses, but when they stole not only our idea, but our "thunder" and talked about "one price to all" policy, it savored a little to much of imitation.

It is local history that the Frank advertising was the first to run an editorial column in its advertising. It is local history that the Frank store was the first to proclaim a single price standard.

And in regard to the one price policy, you may rest assured that this store is 100 per cent. strict in maintaining that standard, even if other stores that followed in our trail with a similar proclamation of righteousness do deviate from their rule to a favored few.

that are to come are ready for you to try on at any time. Our display of plush and corduroy coats is especially attractive.

The plush coats, mostly fur trimmed, range in price from $12.75 to $50.00, which are all very low prices for the unusual styles.

Corduroy coats are moderately priced from $9.75 to $40; you will find them "different" and most attractive.

Jaunty College coats and other models in cloth, $5.98 up.

Where Style and Quality Meet Moderate Prices

Suits Such As You Have Never Seen At

$24.75

We are not given to bombastic, extravagant phrases in our advertising. Strange, too, when we really have more to back up such talk than the stores that are given to it. But we will stick to plain facts, tersely stated, for we believe, with Abraham Lincoln, that you can't fool all of the people all of the time.

At $16.50 are suits that will delight the tastes of women who would never think of paying less than $20. The truth is that these suits are really $20 values, according to the regular price standard, and the women who buy them are not getting less desirable suits than usual, but are simply getting more for their money than usual.

The predominating feature of our showing of women's suits is STYLE, QUALITY, too, is something never lost sight of for a minute. And yet, for all this style and quality, every garment in the store is modestly priced. Under its new management the apparel section has shown a gain in sales of over 50 per cent. greater than last year—this without any increase in expenses. With this increase we can afford to price our garments ten to fifteen per cent. lower than usual; which accounts for our low prices and high quality.

At $19.75

are suits of gabardine, poplin, even broadcloths, as smartly tailored as the more expensive models, and of styles that please the particular woman. They are mostly fur trimmed and when we say that they would command a price of $25 elsewhere, we are saying nothing to the discredit of competitors—they are simply getting a fair price for the suits, for they are really $25 values.

At $24.75

there are over 300 suits from which to choose. They remind us of the beautiful sisters in Anderson's fairy tales, "each one of which was prettier than the other." Only individual tastes make choice easily possible. Many are new styles shown for the first time this week. There are elaborately fur and braid trimmed suits as well as the more conservative models. All the new shades are included. True $30 values, every one of them, except those that are worth $35.

Novel Charm In These Dresses For Every Occasion

Because the "compose" effect permits of the greatest variations the new models display most novel charm. The various combinations are the most numerous, as practical as they are pretty. Silk and party dresses are selling now as briskly as they should at the height of the season—undoubtedly because of the complete displays and attractive prices, to say nothing of the alluring styles.

A Sale of Wool Dress Goods

It's a sale "in season" and all the more valuable on that account. Old stock and left overs do not figure in these offerings.

It has been a long time since woolen dress goods have been so much used in Dame Fashion's favorite products—certainly never has this store presented these fabrics in greater variety or prettier effects. Every demand of Fashion is met by the present stock—the new Scotch Clan plaids, serges, crepes, broadcloths and other fashionable fabrics in Autumn's favored shades and color combinations.

To start the ball rolling we have made decided price reductions all along the line. In this choice and varied stock women will find their own particular needs, and at such prices that will delight their sense of wise economy. The reductions are bona fide, made to insure a very rapid sale, and are offered for this week only. Naturally, at these reductions, there can be no goods charged. Dressmakers will find an early call to their advantage.

ASKS SAFER PLACE THAN SMALL BOATS

U. S. Makes New Stipulation in Note to Germany on Frye Case.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The United States in a note dispatched to Germany today to be presented by Ambassador Gerard on the case of the American ship Wm. P. Frye that if it is found necessary to destroy American ships carrying absolute contraband, passengers and crew be removed to a safer place than small boats.

The American government accepts the German suggestion in reply to the American proposal concerning a commission to fix damages for the Frye, agreeing to dispense with the umpire and leave the case to two experts, one from each country. In agreeing to submit to arbitration the interpretation of the treaty of 1923 to determine whether it gives Germany the right to destroy American ships in order to stop contraband traffic the American government holds that not only warning be given but that passengers and crew be saved, but small boats are not considered a "place of safety" within the meaning of international law. The United States has not insisted upon this heretofore with reference to Americans traveling on ships under a belligerent flag. Officials here, however, fear that the treaty was a special arrangement between Germany and the United States expressly drawn for the purpose of protecting vessels and subject of either party in war time.

A telephone call sent the chemical of the fire department to Calhoun and Woodland avenue at 8:37 o'clock Tuesday morning, where defective electric wiring set fire to the building owned by Mart Rinehart. The damage amounted to $5.

THE STORY OF THE HIGH-SPRINTED FORD

Charles Thiesen, dealer in furnaces at 308 East Columbia street, has a high-spirited Ford as will presently appear. On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Thiesen parked his car in front of the store and went within, leaving the mettlesome car idly rumbling and snorting with impatience. The next that Mr. Thiesen knew was when some one poked a head in his doorway to ask him to come out and rope his runaway auto. For some reason the Ford got its gears shifted and the power being on it started forth to explode without a chauffeur. As it struck the street car tracks it was swerved from a court a little south by east and cavorted across the thoroughfare and poked its nose into the wheels of a carriage standing in front of a blacksmith shop, knocking out a lot of spokes and doing other damage. The car was little damaged.

BAPTISTS MEET AT HAMMOND.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 12.—The eighty-third annual convention of the Baptist churches of Indiana began here today with about 600 delegates in attendance. The program today included the ministers' conference and the annual meeting of the women's auxiliary.

111 VESSELS TIED UP AS CANAL CLOSES

Loss to Each by Delay and Longer Route Will Be $1,500 a Day.

New York, Oct. 12.—Shipping interests here were not greatly surprised by the announcement from Panama that Major General George W. Goethals had withdrawn the tentative date, November 1, which had been set for the reopening of the Panama canal following the great slide of September 20.

Many New York steamship companies already had made arrangements to have their setamers, which have been held up by the closing of the canal proceed to their destinations by way of the straits of Magellan. This increases the time between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts by eighteen to fifty days. The American Hawaiian Steamship company, which operates 18 vessels by way of the canal, has ordered all of them to proceed by the longer route. The Luckenbach Steamship company which has four vessels at the canal has ordered the transshipment of their cargoes across the isthmus by rail.

It was stated today that in all about closing of the canal and the loss to each was estimated at $1,500 a day.

YOUNG ROCKEFELLER IS NOW IN CONTROL

Father Gives Son $34,000,000 Block of Colorado Fuel and Iron.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Sufficient stock to control the Colorado Fuel and Iron company has passed into the hands of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.—a gift from his father, according to the Chicago Tribune today.

The gift of a big stock of the $34,000,000 common stock in the company was made, the paper understands, soon after the appearance of Mr. Rockefeller before the federal commission on industrial relations at its New York City hearing several months ago. For three days Mr. Rockefeller was under examination. The admiration of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., for the manner in which his son testified was made known soon after the close of the hearing and it was then that the presentation of stock was made, it is declared. Mr. Rockefeller was in Chicago yesterday for a four-hour visit after three weeks spent in the Colorado Fuel and Iron mining properties in Colorado.

BOMB-LADEN 'PLANE BATTLES AN AIR FOE

Supplies Thrilling Incident
in the Fighting in the Champagne.

Paris, Oct. 12.—(5:25 a. m.)—A battle between a French aeroplane loaded with 90 millimetre bombs and a fast double-engine German plane was one of the incidents of the battle in the Champagne when the allied offensive was at its height. The French machine had just set out to destroy a line of railroad, back of the German lines, when the German craft emerged from a cloud. The air battle began immediately. Almost as soon as it started the machine gun on the French aeroplane jammed.

"Dive, dive!" shouted the observer to the pilot. The machine plunged in a swift curve, but the German, no less prompt, dove, too, and continued to fly around the French machine, which was hampered by the weight of the bombs it carried. After firing his carbine until his supply of cartridges was exhausted, it occurred to the French observer that an abrupt landing would be fatal to him and to his pilot unless the fuses were removed from the bombs. He coolly set about taking out the fuses and had just finished the task when a bullet struck him in the back and a moment later another shattered one wrist.

The pilot was hit in the eye by a piece of the propeller, which had been knocked off by a bullet. Again he was wounded in the abdomen and fainted. Then the observer seized the levers and guided the machine into the French trenches. Both the observer and the pilot have survived their wounds and the names of both have been proposed for the Legion of Honor.

REMAINS LAID TO REST.

Funeral services for Alexander Gonzales were held Tuesday morning.

Funeral services for Alexander Gonzales were held Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the parlors of Getz & Cahill and at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral. Interment was made at the Catholic cemetery. Six friends who were well acquainted with the young man served as pall bearers and a large number of acquaintances attended the services at the church.

A letter was received Tuesday morning from Alexander Gonzales, the father of the young man, stating that Mr. Weber, for whom his son worked, should give his boy a decent burial and send him particulars of the services.

The young man was a native of South America, and his father now holds a responsible position in Cuba. Mr. Gonzales, Jr., was employed at the Carl Weber drug store on South Fairfield avenue, and met his death nearly two weeks ago when he crashed into the brick building at Fairfield avenue and Brackenridge street.

ENORMOUS PROFITS PROVE THE LURE

War Munitions Makers in Readiness to Do Some Big Reaping.

By Gilson Gardner.
Washington, Oct. 12.—The enormous profits to be reaped by making war munitions required by the military preparedness program is responsible for the new corporations such as the $100,000,000 Midvale concern, headed by Wm. E. Corey, and the buying up of other concerns to consolidate with the Bethlehem company, headed by Charles M. Schwab.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels sees trouble ahead. He would like congress to link up with its preparedness program authority to begin that much-talked-of and long-delayed government armor plant. The secretary is convinced that the armor makers are in a trust not only in the United States but all over the world. When the subject of armor bids was under consideration before the naval affairs committee last winter, the secretary appeared before the committee behind the closed doors of the committee room and told how he tried to get armor for the new dreadnaught "Pennsylvania." He said: "When we came to the armor we rejected all the bids and were then absolutely in a situation from which it appears there was no escape. There is no doubt of an armor plate trust all over the world; that is to say the people abroad who make armor plate will not come here and submit bids because they know if they do our manufacturers will go ahead and submit bids. They have divided the world, like Gaul, into three parts."

It was at this time that the American armor ring sold armor to Russia for $240 a ton and at the same time charged the United States $616 for the same product. Secretary Daniels has repeatedly recommended that the government make its own armor, or at least compete with private concerns to make the private armor builder do business at a fairly reasonable price. The very powerful influence of the private armor makers has resulted in adverse action in congress.

In the debate on preparedness to be contributed in the coming congress, a new voice will be heard. Organized labor has about decided to insist on two things: that in the appropriation bills providing for the army and navy a clause shall be inserted providing "that none of the funds shall be used to send or maintain armed forces of the United States on foreign soil, or in civil disturbances." It is to be contended that if our army is to be too big, nobody can object to a provision which will insure that it can never be used for offense; and secondly, for national defense, it should be prohibited from taking part in supporting big owners in strike troubles.

President Wilson's military program is to be a compromise. He is trying to find what middle ground will be equally satisfactory to the militarists and the pacifists. This will be a "moderate preparedness." It is the white house idea at present that from $100,000,000 to $120,000,000 for the navy and an increase in the regular army to 200,000 men with a force of reserves will meet the requirements.

A conspicuous recent convert to the preparedness program for the United States is August Sevan, distinguished internationalist from Sweden, who has been in the United States investigating and lecturing. He now holds that there is but one course open to the United States, namely, an alliance with Great Britain by which the joint navies would insure the policing and freedom of the seas; Great Britain to police the Atlantic and the United States to police the Pacific and check Japan. He regards our army as negligible and says it will make no difference what is done in the matter of land preparedness. Failing to enter into an alliance with Great Britain, Sevan says there is but one remaining course conceivable, namely, a purely defensive one to guard the coast of the United States with a submarine fleet to be accumulated by the additions of 40 submarines every year for the next 15 years, with accessory small craft to supplement them.

HEAVY MOVEMENT OF SUGAR BEETS

Wabash and C. H. & D. Deliver Many Car Loads to G. R. & I.

Judging from the volume of freight being sent to the sugar factory at Decatur and the greater movement that will come in a week or so the beet crop in the territory where sugar beets are grown is the heaviest in history. For the past three or four days the Wabash has delivered from eight to ten car loads of beets to the G. R. & I. for the Decatur factory, besides hauling many car loads to other factories in western Ohio every day. The beets passing through Fort Wayne and handled by the Wabash come from the vicinity of Woodburn and Gar Creek, on the Wabash and from points in eastern Indiana and western Ohio on the C. H. & D. When the business reaches the maximum point it will amount to double the present number of car loads.

HAD TWO FINGERS INJURED.

P. Tremple, employed at the Pennsylvania round house, sustained injuries last evening which will place him on the disability list for several days. He was engaged in putting a fire in an engine and the ash hoe, with which he was removing a large clinker, slipped and the second and third fingers of his right hand were caught between the middle and the front of the tank.

GEORGE GRUBB LEAVES HOSPITAL

Engineer George W. Grubb, of the Pennsylvania, who lost a part of one of his arms two weeks ago when he fell while running at the side of his engine in the east yards to adjust the airbrake apparatus on the tender, is again at his home, having gone there yesterday from the St. Joseph hospital. He is getting along nicely and will soon be up and around.

ENGINEER WOODEN VERY SICK.

Engineer Walter Wooden, of the Pennsylvania, is lying very sick at the St. Joseph hospital, where he was taken last Friday. Mr. Wooden had been sick in a Chicago hospital, being seized with an attack of acute indigestion while in that city. He recovered, however, and reported for duty and only made one or two trips when he suffered the second attack.

INSTALLING WATER TUBE BOILER.

William Yates, an erecting boilermaker for the Bass Foundry and Machine works, and a force of men are installing a water tube boiler at the city water station No. 1. The new boiler is an addition to the two now in service at the plant and when it is installed it will give the boiler department a horse power capacity of nearly 2,200.

HEARS OF FATHER'S DEATH.

H. U. Diem, of East Jefferson street, and Mrs. Diem will leave this evening for Lancaster, Pa., where they will attend the funeral of his father. News of the death of the aged man was received by Mr. Diem last night. H. U. Diem is assistant general foreman of the east car shops of the Pennsylvania.

VISITING SICK DAUGHTER.

L. H. Lepper, Pennsylvania blacksmith, left today for Sioux City, Iowa, where he will visit his daughter, who has been quite sick for some time. Mr. Lepper will bring his daughter to Fort Wayne if she wants to come and is able to make the trip.

SOLD BOILER AT GOSHEN.

Walter A. Barrett, salesman for the Bass Foundry and Machine company, yesterday secured an order from the Electric company at Goshen for a 400-horse power water tube boiler. This boiler will be an addition to the power plant at Goshen.

TWO MEN INJURED.

G. P. Drewitt, of 829 Archer avenue, had a thumb crushed yesterday and J. Schlenker had a gash cut in his head by a piece of pipe falling upon him. Both men are employed in the Pennsylvania shops.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Art Reid, who has charge of the tool room at the Bass machine shop, is off duty to attend the funeral of a relative. Herman C. Proehl, Wabash section foreman, was in Peru Sunday to see Supervisor Charles Palmer, who is sick. After three or four nights off duty, Pennsylvania Yard Engineer A. J. Bressler resumed work last night.

P. M. Parker is absent from the Pennsylvania erecting shop on account of sickness.

H. McNally, a helper in the Pennsylvania erecting shop for some time, resigned yesterday and took employment with the Doyle grocery.

Apprentice R. W. Bryant, who received a cut in his head two weeks ago, resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Boilermaker C. F. Kaiser, of the Pennsylvania, is suffering with injured eyes, the result of looking at the bright light of an electric welder.

C. G. Kipple Pennsylvania boilermaker, was off duty today on account of the funeral of a friend. He was one of the pallbearers.

S. E. Barr, Nickel Plate brakeman, was advised yesterday of the illness of his sister and immediately left for her home town.

J. Budryk, an electric welder at the Pennsylvania boiler shop, has returned from Pittsburg, where he visited several days.

Pennsylvania Engineer C. A. Whitney who had been visiting friends at Canton, O., a week or more, reported for duty on the road this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Payne, Ohio, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. G. W. Sellers, of 1811 Clinton street. Mr. Sellers is assistant ticket receiver, in charge of the pay rolls, of the Pennsylvania.

Louis Fornier, a moulder, and William Stein, a moulder's helper, of the Bass foundry, have been sick and off duty for a day or two.

Engineer W. E. Craven and Firemaning a few days' off duty to look after a water tube boiler at the city water station No. 1.

Mrs. David Raidy and Miss Josephine Raidy, wife and daughter of the retired Pennsylvania engineer, will leave for Martinsville, Ind., tomorrow to spend a week or so.

Fred Rothenberger resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania tin shop this morning. He recently returned from Bay City, where he attended the wedding of a relative.

Machinist E. W. Zibberman, who had his eyes injured by iron dust four or five days ago, was able to resume work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

C. F. Smith, who operates an electric welder at the Pennsylvania boiler shop, has recovered from injured eyes the result of looking at the welder while it was at work.

B. H. Hamm and Fred Webber, machinists at the Pennsylvania tool room, have consented to be the battery for a ball team in a game at Sheldon next Saturday against the Sheldon team.

A new directing board has been placed in the entrance to the office building of the Pennsylvania and the C. R. & I. formerly the Pennsylvania passenger station.

RALLY WEEK OBSERVED AT BETHANY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH THIS WEEK.

Bethany Presbyterian Church.

This week is Rally week at Bethany church. Every evening has a special rally feature.

Tuesday evening the men of The West End Men's Forward Movement Bible Class have a social meeting, to which all of the men who are interested in the work in this part of the city, are invited.

Wednesday at 7:30 the mid-week service and the congregation is specially invited to this service. This is the mid-week family gathering of Bethany church.

Thursday, 7:30, the Intermediate C. E. has a social and business meeting. After the business session, there will be games and "eats."

Friday evening is the evening of fun. An entertainment will be given by the little people—the entire program being in their hands. As a part of the program and one of the main features, will be a "Tom Thumb Wedding," at the close of which the little people who have a part in the ceremony, will be served a wedding supper. After the entertainment there will be a social feature.

Last Sunday afternoon a number of the men of the church met at the church at 2 o'clock and went out two by two, some in autos and others following the injunction "We Walk," and distributed among the members of the congregation announcements of the week and invitation to attend the services.

Next Sunday will place the cap sheaf on the week, when the Sunday school rally will take place at 9:30 a. m. At this service there will be graduation exercises from one department to the other, and other interesting features.

At 10:30 the congregation, with its friends, will gather for a home-coming service. At this service the communion will be partaken of and a few words suitable to the day spoken by the pastor or visiting friends.

The pastor is just entering upon the seventh year of service with this church. The C. E. societies will hold their rally services at their regular hour of service. Junior at 2 p. m., Senior and Intermediate at 6:30.

At 7:30 the pastor will speak on "The Wandering Sheep," and will use the stereopticon to illustrate the subject.

"GAINS 22 POUNDS IN 23 DAYS"

Remarkable Experience Told by F. Gagnon—A Simple Way by Which Thin Men and Women Have Put on Healthy Flesh.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work. I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in 23 days."

"When I began to take Sargol," writes R. T. Sivells. "I only weighed one hundred thirty-nine pounds. Now my weight has increased to 151 lbs. Everybody says that I am getting a fat."

"I never felt better in my life since I have been taking Sargol. The first two weeks I gained 10 lbs. and am gaining every day. Sargol makes me eat and sleep and I don't get up with a tired feeling any more," writes J. C. Weaver, and N. D. Sanderson adds, "when I started Sargol I weighed 147 lbs. and now weigh 160 lbs. Everybody is telling me that I am getting a fat you have got in the last month."

When hundreds of men and women—there are hundreds, with more coming every day—living in every nook and corner of this broad land, have voluntarily reported to weight increases ranging all the way from 10 to 25 pounds, given them by Sargol, you must admit, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Thin Reader, that there must be something in this Sargol method of flesh building after all.

Hadn't you better look into it, just as thousands of others have done? Many thin folks say: "I'd give most anything to put on a little extra weight, but when someone suggests a way they exclaim, 'Not a chance. Nothing will make me plump. I'm built to stay thin.' But you have tried Sargol, you do not and cannot know that this is true."

Sargol has put pounds of healthy "stay there" flesh on hundreds of people of every age, sex and condition. You don't have to believe in Sargol to grow plump from its use. You just try it. It will see to it that you don't pile up, hollows vanish and your figure round out to pleasing and normal proportions. You begin and again when you finish and you let the scales tell the story.

Sargol is just a tiny concentrated tablet. You take one with every meal. It mixes with the food you eat for the purpose of separating all of its food-producing ingredients. It prepares these fat making elements in an easily assimilated form, which is absorbed readily and carry all over your body. Plump, well-developed persons don't need Sargol to produce this result. Their assimilative machinery performs its functions without aid. But thin folks' assimilative organs usually do not. This fatty portion of their food now goes to waste through their bodies like unburned coal through an open grate. A few days' test of Sargol in your case should surely prove whether or not this is true of you. Isn't it worth trying?

SAYS ALIEN WOMAN MISUNDERSTOOD HIM

Peter Greek Has Singular Defense in Assault Charge.

Peter Greek, aged 17, was arraigned in the city court Tuesday morning on a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit criminal assault on Paulina Petrovski, who resides on Wabash avenue. Because young Greek's parents were not present and he had no lawyer to advise him in a case so serious, the hearing was postponed until Thursday and the youth's bond was fixed at $1,000. The alleged assault took place September 27 at the home of the complaining witness. Greek says he went to her home to make money for a man and that the woman's limited knowledge of English caused her to misunderstand him to be making an insulting proposal. He declares he was not in the house and that the screen door was closed between him and the woman all the time during their conversation. Greek was arrested Monday by Sheriff A. C. Gladiux on a farm near Woodburn, where the lad has been employed. Greek's parents reside on Wabash avenue near the home of Mrs. Petrovski.

Stole Strikebreaker's Cap.
Tom Morgan, who has a police record here and is regarded by the local department as a bad man, was fined $5 and costs on a drunk charge. He was arrested Monday afternoon by Detective Sergeant Charles Spillner following an exploit in which Morgan had stolen the uniform cap from a strike-breaking conductor on a street car. A ticket punch and a letter recommending Morgan for employment on the car lines were found in possession of the prisoner. He also had two bottles of whiskey.

Other City Court Cases.
Bert Bray, a colored man who came down from Garrett, Monday, to taste the hospitality of Fort Wayne, overdid the job and went into a drunken sleep on the porch of an east side residence, where the police found him. He was allowed to go back to Garrett.

Robert Ruff, found very drunk and in possession of a bicycle that had been stolen from a second hand store down town, was arrested at Taylor street and Broadway. He remembered little of his doings and was continued until Wednesday.

William Hutton, another drunk, was continued until Wednesday, and Harry Baird, drunk, was turned loose.

Emma Lynch was still too ill from taking an overdose of medicine at the jail and her case on a drunk charge was again continued.

George Crance, arrested at Knox, Ind. and brought back here by Detective Sergeant Spillner, was continued until November 30 on a child neglect charge. He and his wife have patched up peace and will try again to live together.

TRIED O'ROURKE HOME AGAIN.
What evidently was another attempt to burglarize the residence of William S. O'Rourke, 1401 Washington boulevard west, was frustrated by neighbors who saw a man working about rear windows of the residence with a flashlight early Monday morning. The same night an attempt was made to enter the residence of Miss Eula B. Davis, 1333 Washington boulevard west, when part of a window screen had been cut out before the robber took alarm and left.

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy is Home-Made

Readily Prepared in a Few Minutes. Cheap but Unequaled

Some people are constantly annoyed from one year's end to the other with a persistent bronchial cough, which is wholly unnecessary. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make you wonder what became of it. Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflammation in a painful cough with remarkable rapidity. Ordinary coughs are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, winter coughs and bronchial asthma. This Pinex and Sugar Syrup mixture makes a full pint—enough to last a family a long time—at a cost of only 54 cents. Keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant. Easily prepared. Full directions with Pinex. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in gum resin, and is famous the world over for its certain and promptness in overcoming bad coughs, chest and throat colds. Get the genuine. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex" and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. MEAT PRODUCTION OF AMERICA AMPLE

Will Easily Meet Demands of Consumer, Says Live Stock Journal Man.

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—Prophecy that the production of meat in America will easily meet the needs of the consumer, Jay R. Brown, editor of the Chicago Daily Farmer and Drucker's Journal, today reviewed the live stock situation before the convention of the American Meat Packers' association, here.

The speaker admitted that there is now "no abundance of live stock in the country, measured by former supply and demand standards," but he asserted there is sufficient when the present demands are considered.

Lean industrial years, criticisms of packing house conditions and the recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease, he asserted had contributed to a lesser meat diet and had kept the balance between production and demand even better. STAFFORD—VITHR even, though fewer cattle are available.

More economical management of live stock production was advocated by the speaker, who also dwelt on the necessity of eradicating the foot and mouth disease and adopting restrictive measures in combating the spread of tuberculosis in live stock herds.

Methods of utilizing waste fats in packing houses were discussed by Maurice Loch, who insisted that a scientific test of all waste material was a necessity for economic operation of packing plants.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1905 I was attacked by muscular and inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried every remedy, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

STATE REGULATION DEFENDED BY THORNE

Opposes Tendency Toward Federal Control in Rail Rates.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 12.—Vigorously defending state regulation in its relation to business and particularly to railroad rates as opposed to what he characterized as a tendency toward complete federal regulation, Clifford Thorne, president of the National Association of Railway Commissioners, in his annual address at the organization's convention here, said today that the issue between federal and state regulation was vital and was based on fundamental conceptions of government.

The relative merits of a strong centralized government and a federated government were reviewed by the speaker, who urged the retention of legislative power by the states as a distinctive part of the "great American experiment," the federal plan.

"Too much 'nationalism' is just as wrong as too much 'states' rights,' there is a happy medium," said Mr. Thorne.

"It is not this government as one nation, not the several states, but the combination in one federal plan that has rendered such a distinct contribution to the welfare of humanity. It is this federal plan that must be most jealously guarded. A tendency one way or the other, towards centralization or towards decentralization, is dangerous." "For several years there has been gradually developing in this country a sentiment in favor of wiping out state lines," said Mr. Thorne. "An agitation, partly spontaneous and partly inspired by interested persons, has been carried on to support a change in our judicial decisions relative to the powers of a state to regulate business."

"It is now vigorously claimed that the time has arrived for the practical abolition of all state regulation. Such a change in the American plan of government would be of stupendous importance."

"The issues of today concern vast property interests, and the future policies of state and nation on many grave questions of business are virtually concerned."

After reviewing the Minnesota rate case and the decision of the United States Supreme Court, Mr. Thorne said: "The court said that the question as to whether federal regulation of commerce shall supplant state regulation is not a question for the judiciary to determine; it is legislative and not judicial in character. It now becomes, not a question of precedent or of statute, but one of expediency, of wisdom."

"Within the next twenty-five years substantially all our commercial affairs will be carried on by companies doing both state and inter-state business," said Mr. Thorne. "What is good for railroads will be good for others. Shall we abandon our state governments, so far as the regulation of business is concerned? Here is an issue which strikes at fundamentals; which has to do with the method of government."

"In striving after the new, we frequently fail to realize the intrinsic value of the old. What is the fundamental characteristic of our government? It is the creation of a nation, large and strong enough to assert its independence among the world powers; at the same time combined with a form of government securing real tangible home rule to the various independent sovereignties making up that nation."

"If the national government is permitted to gradually absorb those functions formerly exercised by the states, it will only be a question of time until some great evil will demand some great remedy. Agitation will follow agitation. There will be no opportunity to try out the new proposal; the nation as a whole must adopt it or reject it."

"We believe the federal plan, as conceived by our fathers, is better than the new nationalism. We believe the states are a distinct factor in our scheme of government."

"This federal plan is a sort of safety valve against political and industrial revolution; and it is the greatest ever devised by the makers of government."

Tracing the history of railroad regulation, Mr. Thorne pointed out that "practically every important advance step in the regulation of railroads, corporations and great consolidations of our generation, has originated with the states," and called attention to the establishment of state railroad commissions with power to fix maximum rates in 1887, seventeen years before the same power was granted to the interstate commerce commission.

"As one state after another finds the action of their neighboring commonwealth to be wise and good," he said, "they have followed her, and adopted similar provisions. In this way, progress or reform is gradually brought out in the nation as a whole. The states form a sort of experiment station; and where they have gone wrong, the courts are quick to check them, or there is developed a tremendous public sentiment in the country as a whole, which quietly destroys that which is not wise."

"In view of the remarkable history of the origin of these movements, it is little wonder that the carriers are extremely solicitous in their efforts to prevent, and to remove the possibility of further advance steps in the different states."

Answering the argument that the railroad transportation business is of such a national character that it requires a single national tribunal to regulate it, Mr. Thorne said:

"One sentence will contain an answer to claims of this character, that it is difficult to separate the expenses on local and through hauls. Even after you have removed the state lines, the problem of reasonable local rates still remains."

"The real issue is practical," he said, "rather than theoretical in character. It is not whether we shall abolish all state regulation; but, instead, whether this or that is a proper function to be performed by the states. It is a wholly new and unheard of proposition to do away with state regulation. This is a doctrine that jeopardizes our institutions."

"The great benefit urged on behalf of exclusive national control is uniformity. But there is something even better and more important than uniformity and that is wise regulation. Rates may be uniformly high or uniformly low. Rules of service may be uniformly harsh and rigid, or uniformly lax and weak. Proof that they are uniform does not prove that they are just.

"The real problem is how to get wise regulation. Will a strong centralized government bring the best results, or is the federal plan—joining national and state control—preferable? The issue concerns the method of government, one of the profound problems at the basis of all organized human life."

American manufacturers of lead pencils now have the business of the far east practically to themselves.

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that has been used for many years with great success. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Peppermint (Double Strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water, and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils should open, air passages of your head clear up so you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough or hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

FIND WAY TO DODGE THE "BUSY" SIGNAL

'Phone Wire With No Central Connects White House and Galt Home.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Any lingering doubt of the intensity of the presidential love affair was dispelled today when it became known that Mr. Wilson had had a private telephone wire installed between the white house and the residence of his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, in Twentieth street.

Mrs. Galt now monopolizes the daily official program of the chief executive of the nation. When the president is not dining with Mrs. Galt at her residence, driving with Mrs. Galt, golfing with Mrs. Galt, or "seeing Mrs. Galt home" from church or evening entertainment, he is communing with Mrs. Galt over the new private wire.

Anyone who has encountered the "busy signal" for an hour at a time in endeavoring to telephone the residence of a prospective bride and the office of the prospective bridegroom will realize the burden of that private wire. Also anyone who has inadvertently crossed wires into the telephone conversation of a newly engaged pair will realize the value of the precautions taken by the president to shield his romance from the public.

The private wire, a mile in length, runs from the dressing room of the president to the boudoir of Mrs. Galt. At any time, day or night, that either is seized with the desire to talk to the other the wish is gratified simply by lifting the receiver from the hook.

There is no switchboard, no "central," no "wrong number," no "busy please call again," no servants carrying summonses to the phone. When the boudoir phone rings in Twentieth street Mrs. Galt knows that the president "is on the wire;" when the dressing room phone rings at the white house the president answers in person, for he knows that it is not another "lifelong democrat" asking for a job. And he knows there will be no eavesdroppers, accidental or otherwise, on that particular telephone wire.

The order to install the private wire was received by the local telephone company last Friday as the president and Mrs. Galt departed for New York. The president and his fiancée had their first talk over the private wire Saturday night after Mrs. Galt returned home from the dinner at the white house.

QUITS NOISY CURB FOR THE QUIET WAR

"Enough" Cries Broker Who Cleaned Up Quarter Million.

New York, Oct. 12.—Though the sun shine ever so brightly, there'll be gloom on the curb and the shouts of the stock manipulators in Broad street, even though excitement runs mountain high, will bear something of a plaintive tone for round and merry Fred Schwed is going to quit 'em. He quits with pockets bulging, for the "war brides" he led into Broad street have all proved Ladies Bountiful—about a quarter of a million, they figure it on the curb—and Fred Schwed has decided now that he would like to see some of the war itself, with a little business in foreign securities on the side.

Schwed will probably not find the change startling, for what are the howlings and crashings of European shells and bombs to one who has fought long and stoutly 'mid the roar and screaming of the curb?

There's an adage current on the street that "the bear gets a little, the bull gets a little, but the hog gets none." But that anybody should ever live up to it—that, for instance, the

HOW TO BE SLIM

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at, on account of your fat, but go to any good druggist and get a box of Oil of Koraen capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.

It costs little, is absolutely harmless and I am sure a week's trial should convince anyone that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unsightly fat.

Jovial Mr. Schwed, who has been called the brightest man in Broad street, in the midst of performing a perfect tango with Dame Fortune, should suddenly break off and declare "enough" is past comprehension in the district where the money ebbs and flows.

In their astonishment at the news that he meant to sail on the Noordam soon for Holland and try to work his way to the trenches of the western battlefields, his mates surrounded the broker, asking him if he didn't think he'd better see a doctor.

PITCHER FOR TODAY
IS THE PROBLEMCan Anyone Fill the Shoes
Alexander?

Boston, Oct. 12.—The statute books of Massachusetts name Oct. 12 as a legal holiday in memory of the birth of Christopher Columbus. Unwritten law in Boston stamped the day this year as a holiday in honor of the world series baseball contenders. Another tremendous crowd thronged the approaches to Braves field for the fourth game of the test between the Red Sox and the Phillies and countless thousands had no other plan for the day than to be where they could follow the play. The crowd early assumed proportions greater than yesterday. The weather vane pointing to the south promised even more comfortable weather than that yesterday.

The balance of the series having swung in favor of the Red Sox, two games to one by their ninth inning victory yesterday, the contending teams went into the fourth tilt today with a new mental adjustment. The Phillies were forced into a defensive position, in which they were beset by an all important question, a problem of pitching. The iconoclastic Red Sox had weakened their faith in the pitching prowess of the Quaker idol Alexander, who was felled from his high place yesterday before the hailing of Boston bats. When he was toppled the Bostonians moved into an advantage which worried Manager Moran and brought out the necessity of finding a successor for the dominant part which Alexander had filled in his campaign plans for the world's championship. Although the Boston lead was only a single game, the problem of the Philly leader was no simple one. Another defeat today would put the Red Sox within one victory of gaining the title, with possibly three games to play, and for those three games Foster, Leonard and Shore are available in turn.

Two leading Philly twirlers untired in the series were subjects of consideration by Manager Moran. Chalmers, a right-hander, veteran of several league campaigns, was thought to be the one most likely to try to stop the rush of the Red Sox. His delivery, which sends the ball to the plate in a low and evasive line, cutting corners closely, has been successful to an unusual degree at times. Manager Moran, in fact, was quoted today that he would have sent Chalmers instead of Mayer against Boston on Saturday but for an element which he feared would operate to his disadvantage. Eppa Hickey, the elongated and erratic left-hander, was the other possibility. Similarly doubt existed as to the choice of Manager Carrigan said he felt certain southpaw, who played a prominent part in the pitching which brought the team to a championship, has not yet pitched in the series. Leonard's success against the Phillies demolished the theory that they would fall heavily upon left-handers and Manager Carrigan said he felt certain that Ruth could win if he were started. But the Boston manager also mentioned Shore as a possible choice, and it was thought that the letter would be turned against the Phillies to take advantage of what he had learned of their weakness at bat in the first game of the series. Although Boston lost this game, Shore was credited by many with having out pitched Alexander.

Carrigan said that no matter whether Shore or Ruth went into the game he would not himself be in the lineup this afternoon. As catcher for Leonard yesterday he was a big factor in the former's pitching, which retired the Phillies in order after the third inning. The probable lineup for today's game:

Sight of the great lines of men and boys stretching out from the entrances to the Braves field was a pleasing prospect to the players as they went to their dressing rooms this morning. It was the last game in which they were to share in the proceeds, the national commission files limiting players' participation to four games. It was believed that today's spectator army would not be less than that of yesterday, which numbered 42,300 paid admissions, the receipts totalling

Mahan, Harvard's Star Booter, Shows How to Drop-Kick.

FIRST OF SERIES OF PICTURES POSED BY EDDIE MAHAN, HARVARD CAPTAIN, AND ONE OF THE GREATEST PLAYERS THE GRIDIRON HAS PRODUCED, SHOWING HOW HE PLAYS FOOTBALL.

(By Eddie Mahan, as told in an interview with Brown Holmes, special sport writer.)

In making the drop kick I do not stand erect and receive the ball from the center at chest height, as is sometimes taught. Of course, a lot depends on where the ball is passed by the center, but my system is to stoop and receive the ball even with my right knee (as

Two steps forward are taken, starting with the right foot (as shown in the middle picture). As the second step is taken, the right foot is in position for the toe as the ball is dropped to the ground, to be driven into the oval.

I never completely straighten up until after the kick. I find that by raising the body partly, then leaning forward again as I set the ball, I get more "drive" into the ball and more accuracy than if I simply caught the ball at the chest, dropped it and booted.

The toe should strike the ball immediately after the oval hits the ground—the ball and more accuracy than if I simply caught the ball at the chest, dropped it and booted.

(The next picture will show how Mahan punts).

$83,191. In each case these figures constituted new additions to world series and other baseball records.

Picturing from such a basis for today's game, members of the team which wins the series will receive about $3,700 each. The loser's share will amount to $2,500 each. One of two previous series have brought in greater returns to the players, the lack of space at the Philadelphia park being too great to be offset by the record receipts at Braves field. The fans who made the first rush through the gates of Braves field today had formed in line soon after yesterday's game was finished and had purchased places from those who had held them since that time. The lines were longer than on the preceding day. Hundreds of clerks and salesmen were early on the scene to get choice seats for their holiday outing.

There was no line awaiting for reserved seats, all reservations having been disposed of yesterday. Speculators, however, had picked up some tickets from those who saw yesterday's game, and who wished to turn over their seats for the remaining two possible games at a small profit. These were to be had at prices within reach of most grandstand holders. The reasonableness of the speculators' demands, it was thought, may have been influenced by the fact that vigilance yesterday so reduced their operations that a number of grandstand seats were unoccupied.

BRAVES PARK SEATS
JUST FORTY THOUSAND

Boston, Mass., Oct. 12.—The official attendance figures given out by the national commission prove that the seating capacity of the new Braves park is below 40,000 instead of the 45,000 claimed. There is no questioning the figures given out, because the players are paid their share on that basis and the figures were 42,300.

There were more than 2,000 spectators standing up in deep center, where a space was forced off for the overflow from the bleachers. Not a seat was vacant anywhere, so far as could be discovered. And some were standing up in the stands.

It was the greatest crowd that ever saw a world's series game, and that means the greatest crowd in the history of the game, because attendance figures are credible only when the national commission takes charge of things and pays everybody off on the figures it gives out. The largest previous crowd was at the Polo grounds when the new Brush stadium was first built, and it numbered 28,251.

FRIARS HAVE HARD
BATTLE NEXT SUNDAY

The Friar footballers are going to have the real thing to bump against next Sunday, according to the word that comes from Muncie. The Muncie aggregation, that proved second best in the state meet last year, has strengthened considerably, and claims the state championship. It has whupped everything that has stacked up against it this year, and its coming with bulging bank rolls to back up their belief next Sunday.

The Friars have run into two other mighty good dates, the Cornell-Hamburgs of Chicago, on the 24th of this month, and the Columbus Panhandles on Thanksgiving. Both of them are there, and both have high honors among their own people.

It is state in France that, whereas the total output of shells in Germany is now 2,500,000 daily for use on two fronts, the combined shell supply of the allies, from France, Britain and America, is 300,000 for use on the western front alone.

NOTRE DAME NEEDS
A LOT MORE STRENGTH

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 12.—A big improvement remains to be made in the Notre Dame football team if Nebraska is not to walk all over the gold and blue standard, according to a statement made by Jesse C. Harper.

"Our team improved wonderfully over the Alma game," he said in discussing the Notre Dame 32-0 victory over Haskell Indians Saturday, "but it still has a long way to go to class with the Cornhuskers. We have two weeks in which to get ready and hope by that time to have repaired most of the more prominent faults which were brought out in Saturday's game."

There is no game on the Notre Dame schedule for next Saturday, so the next two weeks will be devoted to direct preparation for the Cornhuskers at Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 23. No changes in the lineup are at present contemplated, Harper says. It appears as if the disposition of Phelan and Bergman, the two rivals for quarterback, was decided Saturday. The former played quarter and handled the game in good shape, considering it was his first big game. Bergman was played in right half and earned a thorough trial there by his brilliant running in the second half. Bachman played an in and out game at full, but demonstrated that he is coming slowly but surely into his own at his new job.

WHY HARD SLUGGERS ARE NOT THE BEST BASEBALL BATSMEN

Season Proves That Batter Who "Hits 'Em a Mile" Doesn't Make the Best Runner—Fielders Are Always On Their Tiptoes Waiting For the Long Raps Of the Powerful Boys—Excellent Base Running Coupled With the Scientific Placing Of Hits Is Most Important Attribute

The batter who "hits 'em a mile" isn't necessarily the one who will lead his league.

It is a paradox that some of the hardest hitters in baseball are but average hitters considered from a batting percentage angle.

The leading batter in the American or National league today generally will be the man with the speed to beat out infield hits.

A hit is a hit. A long single to left field is a pretty thing, but it counts not one iota more in the final reckoning of batting percentages than the triple-hopping slow infield bingle which the batter beats to first base.

That is why there has come to be a gospel of speed in baseball.

Connie Mack and McGraw were first to preach it, or more correctly, to practice it.

The man who can reach first base the oftenest will of course be the man who scores the most runs, and runs win ball games.

Ty Cobb isn't in a class with Sam Crawford as a hitter, judged upon the sheer power of bat impinging on the ball. Eddie Collins can't class with Hans Wagner as a straight-away hitter, yet he will year in and year out equal the "Flying Dutchman" in percentage.

There are batters of the Duffy Lewis and Derrill Pratt type who hit a ball as hard as anyone, yet they seldom are in the "charmed circle" of hitters or the .300 class as it is known.

FATE OF SLUGGERS.

It is not hard for these slugging ball hitters to hit out long drives, but what with the speed of the outfielders and the fact that they know how to play for these slugging hitters it is exceedingly difficult for the Zimmermans, Wagners, Koneys, Pratt, et al.; to drop one long drive in six into safe territory.

There is nothing prettier than a long hit ball. There is nothing more graceful than an outfielder speeding at full tilt after the ball and catching it.

For sheer powerful hitting and failure to realize upon the same in percentage way the writer recalls a game recently between the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals in which Heinie Zimmerman hit four balls probably as hard as any four ever were consecutively hit, yet he wasn't even credited with a safe hit.

In other words in the percentage reckoning he is accredited merely with four times at bat and no hits and that hurts his batting average. Yet more beautiful hitting never was seen.

A CASE IN POINT.

Robison Park in St. Louis is one of the largest playing fields in the major leagues. The left field bleachers are so distant from the plate that in 15 years but one ball has been hit into it, that by Sandow Kertes, who was favored by the wind or his powerful drive even would have fallen short. Zimmerman hit the first ball so hard that he drove Outfielder Bescher to the fence after it. On his second trip to the plate in the fourth inning Zimmerman sent "Chief" Wilson almost to the score-board after a drive that was even more tremendous than his first effort for the scoreboard is 50 feet further from the plate than the left field bleachers.

On his third time at bat Zimmerman hit a drive that sailed like a low, singing golf ball.

It was pointed between Bescher and Wilson and were it to get away it would have been a triple surely. Wilson and Bescher raced toward the fence and in a final desperate lunge Wilson got his hand on the ball and held it. There probably was more power in this drive than either of the other two. The ball was more squarely met and Wilson's catch was grand larceny—nothing less!

SOME ZIMMERMAN DRIVES.

On his fourth trip to the plate Zimmerman hit a ball that looked as though it were to go over the right field fence and into the pavilion for a home run. Right Fielder Long turned tail and raced toward the fence. The descending ball fell just inside of the barrier and with his back against the wall Long clutched and held the ball.

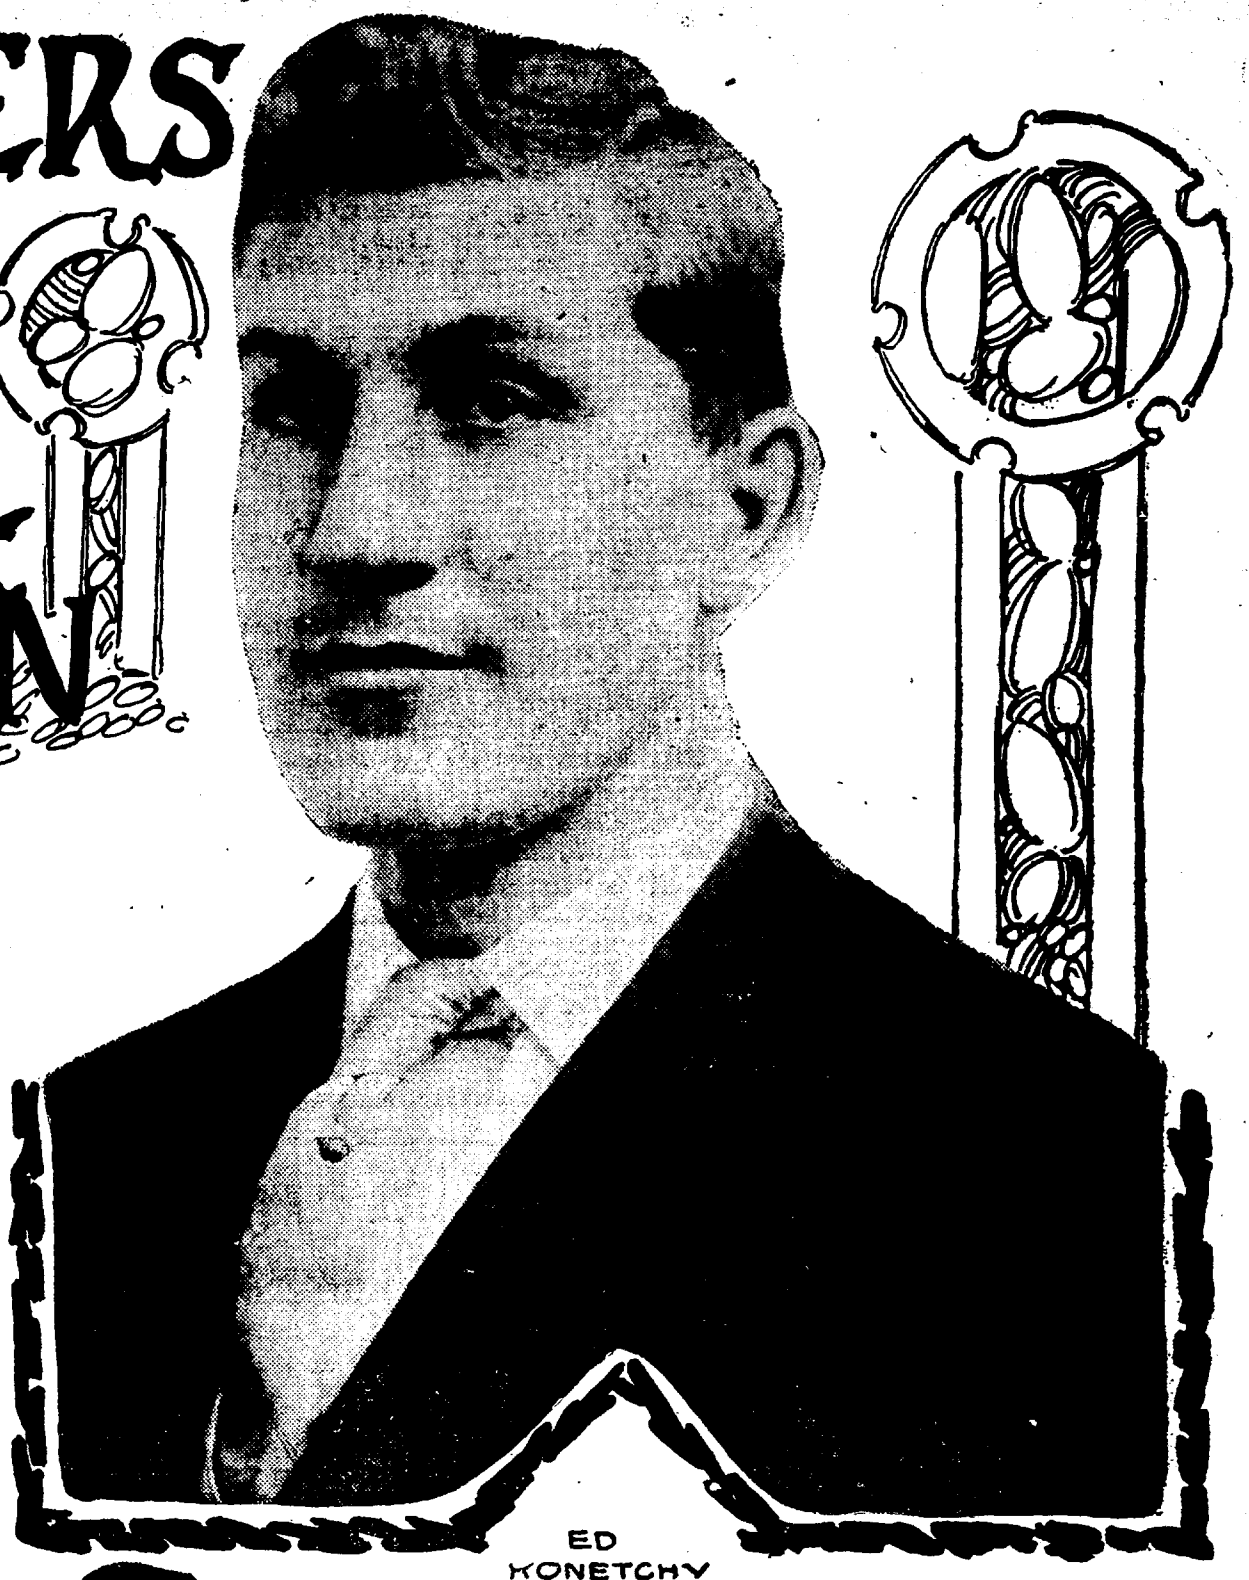

In many of the major league parks Zimmerman's first three drives would have been three consecutive home runs. His fourth one probably would have been an out anywhere, for the right-field fence at Robison Field is not a distant one. Yet the following morning in the official score Zimmerman merely was credited with being four times at bat without a hit.

His followers in Chicago who mourned his hitless day could have no idea of the powerful drives he did hit, which were not safeties.

Ty Cobb leads the American league year after year because he is a wonderfully fast man on his feet, but he is not a powerful hitter. Like all batters he occasionally does "get hold" of one and it flies. But more often than not Cobb's hits are singles through the infield or infield singles that he beats to first by his tremendous spurt to that bag.

Cobb also is able to make many doubles because a ball that goes through the infield and is out of line for an outfielder Cobb will take two bases on. If the ball is near the left field line it is almost impossible for even a fast outfielder to recover the horse-hide, turn and throw to the keystone sack in time to cut the fleet Georgian.

OLD "WAHOO'S" SYSTEM.

Crawford, who lacks Cobb's pedal celerity, hits drive after drive that chases outfielders to fences, yet they are merely caught flies. But they can't catch 'em all the time and that is why old "Wahoo Sam" bats his 300 year after year.

Both kinds of hitters have their value. Crawford's awful slugging would be less valuable to the Detroit club if Cobb usually was not to be found on the bases and in a position to take advantage of whatever Crawford did.

Getting on base is an important art in itself and men of the Eddie Collins, Ty Cobb, Max Carey, Miller Huggins type have this reduced to a science.

Put these shrewd base runners in motion and they are in position to reap a full dividend on whatever the slugging gentleman usually to be found in the clean-up position, fourth from the top, may do.

Gandil, J. Collins, Caldwell, Koney, Oldring, Hinchman, "Red"

"RUBE" OLDING

Smith, Luderus, Cravath, Schulte and Veach are men who hit the ball as hard as ever a man did who led the major league in sticking, yet none of these have been able to crawl up that high because the outfielders play far back for them and are in a position to handle their drives.

A Chicago baseball expert said he had one wish. That would be to see Heinie Zimmerman play one year in a minor league where the parks are small and the fences close to the plate.

How many pedestrians outside the park Heinie would hit in a year is a matter for conjecture!

REAL ESTATE DEALER TALKS TO MERCHANTS

Lee J. Ninde Speaks on "Organization of Business Bodies."

"The most fatal infantile ailment of an organization is lack of interest," Lee J. Ninde, president of the Real Estate exchange, told the members of the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association, Monday evening, at their first monthly dinner at the Commercial club. Mr. Ninde spoke on the subject of "Organization of Business Bodies."

"The life of an organization such as your body and the real estate exchange is exactly like that of a human being," he said. "During its infancy it will encounter the teething, whooping and measles stages and if it passes all of those successfully it is likely to mature and become strong. If not it will die an early death or remain a weakling all the remainder of its existence. I believe that organizations of the kind of ours should meet more frequently for by so doing, the experience of the exchange has shown, the ties that bind the members together are strengthened. Also, as representative men of the city of Fort Wayne, you should take an interest in everything of a public nature that affects the city's welfare."

The meeting was presided over by President Charles A. Niebergall. Dinner such as the one Monday evening will be given once a month.

clation, read a letter Tuesday morning which he had received from President Mahon, answering the communication several of the carmen had received some days ago from J. J. Brennan, superintendent of transportation in which he asked them what assurance they had that the Amalgamated association would support their families or its officers would or could do anything for them. Mr. Mahon declared that the last increase in wages that the local carmen had received had been due to the agitation started in this city at that time by the International association.

Mr. Colgan stated that President Mahon had no intention of coming to Fort Wayne at this time, but that he was thought his services were needed he would come.

An effigy or dummy was found Monday night on West Creighton avenue standing in the street between the car tracks and the curbing. Whether it was placed there to frighten a motorman or an automobile driver is not known.

May Start Bus Line.

A movement was launched at the meeting of the Federation of Labor, Monday evening which was attended by a representative from practically every labor union in the city, for the organization of a company to operate a jitney bus line. This action is to be taken in the event the demands made before the strike started. Large cars are to be purchased. It was declared that as soon as the city felt financially able, the entire system is to be turned over to it at cost price for operation.

EACH MAN TO HELP

Each of the $9,000 union men in Fort Wayne will be asked to contribute fifteen cents a week to finance the strike of the carmen, the following committee has been named to visit each local union, and explain the proposition: C. W. Kroemer, machinist; Ernest Arick, knitter; J. B. LaTourrette and James Kams, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; H. J. Straub, carpenter; E. T. Drow, painter; Edward Kibinger, clerk; E. F. Brokaw, plumbers; Christ Hahn, stage employees; J. C. Werkman, barbers; J. J. Perrey, horsehoes; F. J. Schwanz, sheet metal workers; A. C. Berger, linemen; Charles Rundell, sheet metal workers; Carl Becker, blacksmiths, and Edward Miller, printers.

Liberal Contributions.

Up to the present time $1,503.95 has been contributed to the carmen, not including Express tickets that have been sold, as follows:

Every Woman Should Know

There are three entirely different kinds of baking powder, namely:

- (1) Cream of tartar, derived from grapes;
- (2) Alum, a mineral acid; and
- (3) Phosphate of Lime.

(1) Baking Powders made of Cream of Tartar add to the food the same healthful qualities that exist in the ripe grapes from which Cream of Tartar is derived.

(2) Baking Powders made of Alum add to the food some form of Alum or Aluminum, a heavy metal, wholly foreign to any natural article of food.

(3) Phosphate of Lime is made from rock or by burning bones which by chemical action are changed into a white, powdered acid. It is used in baking powder only because it is a cheaper substitute.

A Cream of Tartar powder never contains Alum or Phosphate.

Every housekeeper should read the names of the ingredients printed on the label and know what she is using.

FREE PLANTS AND BULBS ARE READY

People of Fort Wayne May Help Themselves to Them in Parks.

The annual free distribution of plants and bulbs by the park department to the people of Fort Wayne is now on and persons who want them are now at liberty to help themselves to what remain in the public parks. Park Superintendent Carl J. Geitz announced Tuesday that his department had removed all that were desired to be cared for in the city greenhouses and that such as were left in the parks were at the disposal of all who would go after them. There are five or six kinds of geraniums, begonias, salvia, elephant ears, cannas and numerous plants that were used in the carpet beds of the parks. Some of these remaining are choice and those who go first will have the pick.

MAYOR'S VETO WILL STAND.

Mayor Hoesy's veto of the "strike-breakers' ordinance" will stand. The council committee of the whole Monday night was given an opinion by City Attorney Colerick that such an ordinance would require the approval of the state public service commission in order to become effective and might lead to ratification by that body. Councilman Herman Korte, of the Tenth ward, author of the measure to require the traction company to put its cars in charge only of men of fourteen days' experience on the local lines, may move to pass it over the veto, but the motion stands a poor show to command two-thirds of the elected members of the council.

RICHMOND WANTS SCORE CARDS.

Secretary J. H. Gilpin, of the health department, has received from C. L. Hutchins, state food inspector for Indiana, a request for samples of each of the cards on which the scores are made for restaurants, groceries and meat markets in this city. The Fort Wayne system of scoring is said to be the best in the country and has produced notable results. Inspector Hutchins writes that the city of Richmond contemplates adoption of the Fort Wayne system.

PONTIAC STREET IS OPEN.

The Pennsylvania railroad has so far completed work at the Wayne Trace subway as to throw open Pontiac street at the point. About 400 feet of the thoroughfare has been paved with concrete to join it at Wayne Trace, which is being improved south of the subway. The subway work will be completed in a short time and the city's paving of Wayne trace north of the subway is going forward well so that the thoroughfare will be in commission before settled cold weather comes.

BEGIN WORK ON PUMP HOUSE.

Contractor Max Irmischer has begun work on the rebuilding of the pump house at waterworks station No. 3, at the end of Broadway, and the work will be pushed rapidly in order to get it completed before cold weather comes. The house will be raised five feet above the high water mark of 1913, when the pumps were put out of commission.

MORE TIME FOR C. H. & D.

The board of works has extended until Dec. 11 the period in which the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad may file its plans for track elevation.

PUSSY'S NINE LIVES TAKEN

and ten rapid fliers. The Russian advance is being pushed vigorously.

The victory of the Russians reported by Petrograd was won in eastern Galicia where the troops of Emperor Nicholas started a formidable offensive, coincident with the opening of the Teutonic campaign against Serbia. The attack is being made north of the Rumanian border and may have been undertaken with a view to the political effect on the Balkan situation. The Stripa river is a branch of the Dniester, extending to the north, to the west of Tarnopol.

NEW BALKAN CAMPAIGN.

Bulgarian Invasion of Serbia Adds to Momentous Importance.

London, Oct. 12.—(1:19 p. m.)—The new Balkan campaign came to the fore still more prominently today with the announcement that Bulgarian troops had invaded Serbia. Thus far few details have been received of this movement, which has been generally expected.

On the eastern front the Germans are still hammering at the positions before reviving their latest effort, being to force the Dvina river ten miles above the city. Elsewhere Russian forces are attacking fiercely, particularly in eastern Galicia. Here they are reported to have won a considerable victory.

All accounts of military observers testify to the accuracy and efficiency of the Russian artillery, which is now demonstrated beyond a doubt to have recovered from the handicap caused by shortage of ammunition. The failure of the Germans to capture Drinsk after a month's fighting is characterized in England as evidence of remarkable regeneration of the Russian forces. General Ivanoff has regained more than half the ground evacuated after the loss of Lutsk.

The presence on the Caucasian front of Grand Duke Nicholas is expected to revive operations there, which have been inactive, pending the change of command.

Activity of British submarines in the Baltic is extending and it is the hope of the British to put an end to the passage of supplies to Germany from Scandinavian countries.

Recent events on both the eastern and western fronts have brought another wave of optimism in England similar to that witnessed two weeks ago by the British and French victories on the western battle field. In view of the costly failure of the German attacks against Loos, the progress of French troops south of Soissons and the gradual extension of their gains near Tabbure, the outlook on the Franco-Belgian front is now regarded as more favorable to the entente allies.

GORIZIA ABOUT TO FALL.

Italians Say Capture of Austrian City is Imminent.

Geneva, Switzerland, Oct. 12.—The Austrian city of Gorizia, twenty-two miles northwest of Trieste, is about to fall, according to a telegram received here today from Brescia. The Italian dispatch says, have brought up a large number of heavy guns and are bombarding the town from five different points. At the same time the Italians are attacking the inner defense of Tolmino, while on the Carso the Austrians are said to have been forced to abandon several miles of trenches.

On the hit and run play Speaker went to third. Lewis up. Lewis walked, filling the bases. Gardner up. A double play followed, Chalmers took Gardner's grounder and threw to Burns and Speaker was forced. Burns then threw out Gardner at first. No runs, two hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Nickhoff up. Gardner threw out Nickhoff. Burns up; ball 1; strike 1; Burns popped out to Scott. Byrne batting for Chalmers. Byrne fled out to Lewis. No runs, no hits, no errors.

PHILLIES ONCE MORE FALL BEFORE BOSTON

series there was doubt during the morning as the batteries that would oppose each other.

Before the Game.

"We are going to even it up today," said Manager Pat Moran, of the Phillies, "and go back home for the fifth game tomorrow with the count standing two and two. I am not sure at this hour, who will be my pitching selection, but you can say for me that whether it is Clum or Sam May, he will be out there to win and the Sox will find run-making a difficult pastime."

"We have the series clinched and will make it three to one in our favor today," said Manager Carrigan, of the Boston Red Sox. "I have three good pitchers ready and anxious to take their turn in the box and it is hard to choose between them. They all have a winning game up their sleeve."

Another Perfect Day.

It was another perfect day with not a cloud fleck in the sky and a summer glow in the atmosphere. Thousands of Boston fans came out today to have a good time. There are all sorts of rooters' organizations here and they were all in evidence today. Most of them brought bands with them and there was a crash of music in the air all the time. Occasionally the crash became a clash but the fans didn't mind the melodic interference. They applauded all the music specialties with unqualified enthusiasm. A Scotch bag pipe band made a great hit while a lone cornetist in the far right field stand offered solos that were well received. The fans knew they had a long time to wait for the show and amused themselves accordingly.

Going to Pacific Coast.

The Boston Americans and Philadelphia Nationals now battling for the world's championship, will go intact to the Pacific coast for a series of games, beginning in San Francisco Oct. 29, according to arrangements made today by the national commission, the presidents of the two clubs and a representative of the Panama-Pacific exposition. The teams will play in Chicago, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City on the way to the coast and also in Los Angeles and San Diego.

As the date of the closing game of the present series is in doubt no time could be fixed for the start to Chicago nor could the dates be set for the games enroute to the coast. The opening game at the exposition will be played on October 29 as the first of a series of from seven to nine contests. Two games will be played in Los Angeles and one in San Diego. None will be played on the way back.

MAYOR BELL WEEPS AS ATTORNEY PLEADS

Reference to Dead Wife Brings Tears to Eyes of Accused.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—Mayor Joseph E. Bell wept when Henry Spain, in the closing argument for the defense in the trial of the mayor, who is charged with election conspiracy, referred to the wife of Mayor Bell, who died several years ago. A number of women, among the crowd of spectators, also were in tears.

Prosecutor A. J. Rucker was to make the closing argument in the case this afternoon and Judge W. H. Eichhorn will read his instructions tomorrow, the case probably going to the jury about noon.

Spain in his argument dealt in figures and asserted that, through all the frauds charged by the state, 332 voters were prevented from casting their ballots in the last election.

When Spain began his closing argument today he started to talk about the so-called "school of perjury," but Joseph Roach, special prosecutor, on the ground that evidence offered by the defense along that line had been ruled out by Judge W. H. Eichhorn. Spain asserted that he had a right to make the statement and let the jury draw inferences as to the methods employed by the state. The court, however, stated that the jury had no right to draw inferences from anything that had been excluded.

It was the first objection offered to any statement made during the arguments.

Russ War Minister Who Faces a Trial

GEN. SOUKHOMLINOFF

General Soukhomlinoff, who the Russians accuse of responsibility for their repeated defeats, and whose removal as war minister followed charges that he was responsible for the lack of ammunition, will soon be tried by a superior court appointed by the czar himself.

PRATES TOO MUCH OF HIS NUMBER ONE

Mary Linder, Who is Now Number Two Wants a Divorce.

Charging in her complaint that her husband has "constantly made it his business to remind the plaintiff of his former wife and continually telling her she is unfit to look after her household duties and could not conduct the same as his former wife had done," Mary Linder has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from Andrew Linder. The break in the marriage came two months behind the music of the marriage bells, for they were joined in holy wedlock on the 9th of last August. At that time the groom's age was 37 and he had been a widower a year and a half and the bride was 40 and had been widowed less than a year. In addition to the pain of being continually reminded of the domestic virtues and capabilities of No. 1, Mrs. Linder, No. 2, says her present husband is always finding fault, has a quarrelsome disposition, gets angry without any fault or provocation on her part and remains so for days at a time, refusing to speak to or have anything to do with her. She says he has asked her to pack up her things and leave home and in other ways has abused her and conducted himself in a manner not proper to set out in a complaint. She asks an order to restrain him from drawing his wages at the Fortitude shoe company's store, where he is employed, from disposing of any of the household belongings and from molesting her at 559 Putnam street. McAdams and Hartzell appear for the plaintiff.

Cost Him His Jobs.

Charging desertion and that his wife's interference with him cost him his jobs, John C. Keller has brought suit in the superior court for divorce from Bessie Keller. They were married in 1908 and separated in June, 1914. He says that for eighteen months she has refused to live with him and before that would not make a home for him. That she had a jealous disposition and nagged him are other causes of complaint. McAdams & Hartzell are his attorneys.

Notes of the Courts.

John and Sophie Krah have begun suit in the superior court against Wilhelm Everett and others for partition of real estate. M. H. Lucke is attorney for the plaintiffs.

The last will and testament of the late John Dreihelb has been filed for probate. His estate is left absolutely and without condition to his widow, Anna M. Dreihelb, whom he named executor. The instrument was drawn by the testator's own hand February 19, 1913.

The divorce suit of Sarah Fiegel vs. Louis Fiegel has been dismissed from the superior court.

The will of the late Walburga Zuber has been filed for probate. She leaves bequests to each the pastors of St. Joseph's Catholic church at Hesse Cassel and St. Peter's church in this city for masses for the repose of her soul and the souls of her parents and of her son and $100 to Bishop H. J. Aldering for the St. Vincent's orphan home. The residue of the estate is left to her brothers and sisters.

LICENSED TO WED.

Herman Fought, clerk, 25, and Olive N. Shank, 25.
Edward S. Obenchain, conductor, 49, and Clara C. McClean, 47.
Everett B. Dill, lawyer, 28, and Eva Grace Felts, 23.

Justice of the Peace A. C. Niernan, who has been confined to his home for several days with blood poisoning, was very much improved Tuesday. He is now able to be up and around the house.

The South Wayne W. C. T. U. will meet on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Bosher, 312 West Butler street. Mrs. Elizabeth Sibley will speak on franchise. Delegates to the state convention will report.

COLORED GUNMAN A RELIGIOUS MANIAC

Anson Preston Fancies He Had Call to Shoot Joe Davis.

Anson Preston, a middle-aged negro, who claims Louie Lou, Ark., as his home, also claims some insane notion of divine authority for shooting and perhaps mortally wounding Joseph Davis, aged 21, a colored man residing at 403 Bass street. The affray took place on State boulevard, where both men were employed in the paving construction gang by the Grace Construction company. Late in the afternoon there was some difficulty between the two men, following a protest by Preston against the coarse and profane language used by his fellow workmen, to whom he attempted to preach, claiming himself to be specially appointed and "one in whom there is the manifestation of God," a phrase in the use of which he is uncommonly glib.

Preston says Davis called him vile names and threatened him with a shovel. Preston drew his revolver, a .32-caliber weapon, and fired at Davis from a distance of fifteen feet. The bullet took effect in the left side of Davis, near the region of the heart. Davis was taken to St. Joseph hospital, where he was attended by Dr. J. M. Dinneen and Dr. M. V. Tinkham.

Preston attempted to escape and fled across fields toward the city and was at length arrested at Lafayette and Wayne streets by Chief of Police Louie. The police had been notified promptly and diligent measures taken to prevent his escape.

At headquarters he spent much of his time in prayer, insisted on having his bible in his cell and he read it studiously. He will call religion to any one who will listen to him and is plainly suffering from mental disorders, due to the strain of religious fervor. He defends his act by the curious syllogism that while it is scripturally true that "whoever sheds the blood of man by man shall his blood be shed," Davis "has no manifestation of God in him, and therefore wasn't no man, so I didn't kill no man."

At St. Joseph hospital it is said Davis' condition is extremely critical and the chances against his recovery.

Preston was presented in the city court Tuesday morning on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill and was remanded to jail in default of $2,000 bond for one week to await the outcome of Davis' injuries.

MOSS IS ON THE PROGRAM.

Indiana Congressman Delivers Address to Grain Dealers.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 12.—An address by United States Senator Sherman, of Illinois, on "The Limit of Business by the Government," was on the program of today's session of the convention of the Grain Dealers' National association. The program also included an address on "The Grain Grades Act," by Congressman Ralph W. Moss, of Indiana, and a talk on "Corn," Prof. C. Christie, of the department of agriculture extension of Purdue university. Convention city forces lined up today for tomorrow's struggle over a meeting place for 1916. Baltimore seemed the favorite, with Chicago and Boston strong contenders.

INSANITY NOT STATE; LACK OF ADJUSTMENT

Much Interest Manifested in Theory Advanced by Dr. Paton.

New York, Oct. 12.—Educators and physicians displayed great interest today in a statement made by Dr. Steward Paton, of Princeton, N. J., regarding the prevalence of what he called "cases of lack of adjustment," in the universities. In his speech delivered last night before the Society of Medical Jurisprudence at the Academy of Medicine, Dr. Paton said: "It is impossible to define insanity, because insanity is not a state, it is a process of adjustment. I found that in our universities these cases of lack of adjustment have gone so far as to require a great deal of a physician's care to bring about a readjustment."

"A president of one of the biggest universities in the country told me that a search which had been made of the records for the past ten years showed that every student who had committed a breach of discipline was above the average age of the class."

FORD AUTO BADLY WRECKED.

BERLIN THEATRES AVOID WAR PLAYS

New Season Shows Little in Way of Military Offerings.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Berlin's second theatrical season since the war has begun—and is notable for its lack of warlike offerings. In all the mass of plays and operas now presented or to be presented in the immediate future there are but two of a military nature. And both of these have been running for months, and are continuing because they have genuine dramatic value, rather than because the public fancy clamors for anything warlike.

Old-time call this beginning of Berlin's theatrical season so nearly like the opening in peace times that it is hard to distinguish the difference. They base this opinion not alone on the attendance, which certainly is good, but on the very character of the offerings and the absence of plays suggestive of the war.

The season in 1914 opened with a tidal wave of "war" plays. Something of their general character, and excellence may be gathered from the words of one of Berlin's well known dramatic critics, who wrote, "This flood of well meant and poorly rhymed, hastily thrown together productions, fortunately has ebbed and the temples of the joyful muse even, following the example of the more serious stage, are turning to other tasks."

Some idea of the serious character of many of the plays now offered may be gathered from a glimpse at the programs of the leading Berlin theatres for the beginning of the season. Lessing theatre—Peer Gynt, His Only Wife, An Enemy of the People, Architect Solness. German theatre—Faust, part 1, The Winter Fairy Tale, The Piccolomini, Wallenstein's Camp, Faust, part 2. Schiller theatre—The Rape of the Sabines, Old Heidelberg, Rosmersholm. The Worm of Conscience, The Bene factor of Mankind. Koenigstrasse theatre—Queen Christine, Beyond Our Strength. Little theatre—A Costly Life. Western theatre—Andersen (based on Hans Christian Andersen). People's theatre—The Robbers. Trianon theatre—Hannemann's Successor. Weidemann Bridge theatre—Young Must One Be; Thalia, A Puzzling Ad. Princess theatre—The Dark Castle.

The two military plays still running are "Extrablatter" at the Berlin theatre, and "Immer Feste Druff," at the Nollendorf Platz theatre. Both pieces have been running for more than 300 performances.

PHILLIES ONCE MORE FALL BEFORE BOSTON

New 2 to 1 Victory in Fourth Contest
Puts American Leaguers Within
Single Game of World's Flag.

Boston, Oct. 12.—The world's championship is almost within the firm grasp of the Boston Americans. The Red Sox champions of the American league trimmed the Philadelphia club by a score of 2 to 1 today.

Shore's fine pitching held the Philadelphia to one run while opportune batting sent enough runs over the plate for Boston to win.

The Red Sox have now won three games; the Philadelphia one.

Forty-one thousand and ninety-six persons witnessed the contest. Lewis' outfielding and Luderus' batting featured.

Tomorrow's game will be played at Philadelphia where Alexander will probably be sent back to the pitching mound to stop the onrushing Red Sox. The official score:

German Capture of Semendria Gives Control to Strategic Railroad.

MAKE PROGRESS IN DRIVE ON SERBIA

Russians Have Pierced Teutonic Lines on the Stripa River.

Today's War News
Given in Summary.

Capture of the town and fortress of Semendria on the Danube about 25 miles eastward from Belgrade was announced today by the German war office. With the taking of the strategic railroad running through Nish to Sofia and on to Constantinople are new in teutonic hands. Belgrade, the other terminal point, was taken last week.

Berlin declares that the whole movement of the Austro-German forces in the drive into Serbian territory is making good progress.

Meanwhile the Bulgarian flank attack on the Serbians has started. Bulgarian forces having attacked on the border northeast of Nish where the Serbians declare all Bulgarian attempts to advance have so far been checked. Bulgarian success in reaching the railroad line about 40 miles to the west would prevent the main Serbian armies contesting the Teutonic advance in the north from being reinforced by Angol-French troops over the trunk line from Salonika.

On the western front the only action of infantry activity in the Paris report is the statement that fighting continues near Souchez and other points in the Artois district. Berlin declares several attacks by the French in this region were repulsed and that their assaults near Tahure in the Champagne district resulted in a serious set back for them.

The fall of Gorizia, 27 miles northwest of Trieste in Austria is expected. The Italians are reported to have taken the town from five different directions it is said. On the Carso the Austrians are reported to have abandoned several miles of trench.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—(Via London, 3:25 p. m.)—The Serbian city of Semendria, on the Danube, east of Belgrade, has been captured by the Germans.

The war office announced today that both the town and the fortress of Semendria were captured yesterday. The Austro-German forward movement over the whole Serbian front, is making good progress.

RUSSIANS CLAIM VICTORY.

Have Pierced Austro-German Lines on Stripa River, Says Petrograd.

Petrograd, Oct. 12.—(Via London, 11:50 a. m.)—Russian forces have pierced the Austro-German lines on the Stripa river. They have already taken prisoner more than 2,000 men and 60 officers and have captured four guns.

NO ACTION LIKELY

IN VON PAPAN CASE

Washington, Oct. 12.—Indication today from state department officials was that no action was likely in the case of Captain von Papan, the German military attaché, here, who entrusted to James Archibald communications to his government along with those which caused the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador.

It was learned that officials had been unable to decipher von Papan's message and it was inferred that no attention was paid to his letter to his wife in which the phrase "idiotic Yankee" was used. Officials would not say whether the other letters he had written were sufficient to require his recall, but the intimation was that although the examination had not been completed no such action was contemplated.

Discovery Day is Duly Celebrated
Principal Celebration to Be Given This Evening by K. of C. Lodge.

Discovery Day, or the 422nd anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus was duly observed in Fort Wayne Tuesday as a legal holiday. The banks and trust companies closed their places of business and the doors of the saloons were kept locked all day in accordance with the mandates of the law.

K. of C. Lodge Celebration.

The principal celebration of the day will be given this evening at the Anthony hotel by the Knights of Columbus lodge, No. 451. A program appropriate for the occasion has been prepared and a banquet will be served. Stephan A. Callahan will preside as toastmaster and those who will respond include: Harry G. Hogan, C. M. Nier, E. C. Remmert, J. Madison Walsh and Rt. Rev. Bishop Herman J. Alerding.

In the Schools.

The observance of the day was carried out in all the public schools of the city and at the high school the history classes paid special attention to the discovery of America in 1492 by the man who first dared to sail out of sight of the land. In the grade schools programs were rendered in some instances while in others the teacher gave talks on the finding of a new world and the history of Columbus.

Prompt Action Saves Life.

Glass called Mrs. Cora Waters, living next door south at 1225 Dubois, and they carried Mrs. Archer to the Waters home, where fresh air and chafing had so far restored her respiration that when the police ambulance arrived a few minutes later the use of the pulmotor was unnecessary.

The gas had escaped from the open and unlighted burner of a "hot-plate" in the Archer kitchen. How long it had been pouring into the closed room is not known, but it must have been several hours for the cat, dead on the floor, was already stiff when the aged woman was found.

President Wilson decided finally today that he would be unable to visit the Pacific coast to see the expositions.

DUE ANNOUNCEMENT OF

WEDDING IN ADVANCE

Washington, Oct. 12.—Some time before President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt are married a formal announcement of the date had place will be made. This was stated semi-officially today in order to set at rest unfounded reports that they might be married within a few days. Congratulations from all parts of the world continue to arrive at the white house.

Escaping gas in the home of Mrs. Nancy Archer, widow, aged 73, at 1324 Dubois street, took all of the nine lives of her pet cat, but failed to slay the sleeping old lady in the same room, Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Archer, who resides alone, and occupies only the kitchen in her home, was found at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning by Oliver Glass, a delivery driver for the Central grocery on West Wayne street, when he called to leave a consignment of provisions. When he opened the kitchen door he was met by an almost overpowering odor of gas. Through the open door he saw Mrs. Archer lying upon her improvised couch in the room, unconscious.

CATTLE AND SHEEP
ANTI-TOXINS USED

Apparently in Hopeless
Grip of Disease, Stockpole is Courageous.

New York, Oct. 12.—George F. Stockpole was still fighting for his life today in Bellevue hospital against the slowly spreading disease of anthrax from which no human being affected, within the memory of doctors here, has recovered. He was aided by a powerful anti-toxin, used heretofore only for cattle and sheep, injected into his veins last night. Not only did he seem to be holding his own but physicians at his bedside pronounced him slightly improved this morning.

The aged lawyer's pulse was full and strong but a rise in temperature was noted. This was thought to be due to the action of the anti-toxin. His spirits also were good.

The anti-toxin, rushed here from Washington last night and hurriedly injected into his system, seemed to be acting as a check to the disease but it was too early, doctors said, to tell whether it would conquer the deadly anthrax serum. Never before has the newly discovered fluid been used in the case of a human sufferer, but in the treatment of cattle it was reported to have been very successful.

EATON TEACHERS TO VISIT LOCAL SCHOOLS

School Board Holds Regular Meeting at the Old High School Building.

During the session of the school board in Prof. J. N. Study's office Monday evening, a telegram was received from Eaton which stated that the entire corps of teachers of that city would come to Fort Wayne Thursday to visit the schools of this city. The schools of this city have come to be recognized over the entire state as models.

The school board decided to close the schools of the city on October 23 and 24 when the state association of teachers meets at Indianapolis. It was also agreed upon that the schools will not close for the northern Indiana Teachers' meeting next April. This action was taken when it was learned that the teachers decided they would rather attend the state meeting than the latter.

Bids were received for the equipment of the gymnasium for the new Harman school building but it will not be awarded until Prof. Meyer, head of the gymnasium department of the schools, examines the list of the bids to see that everything is included.

The most difficult problem that is now confronting the school officials is the question of gymnasiums. The board decided that the high school and Normal Training schools should be given the preference at the James H. Smart school. So far there have been sixteen applicants for this gymnasium one night a week.

ANOTHER DISPUTE

OVER LINE FENCE

As the result of a dispute over a line fence which separates their properties in the 2700 block, Weaver Park avenue, George Kroek and Christian Gopfert came near coming to blows. The language used was so strong that Gopfert had Kroek arrested on the charge of provoke, to which he pleaded guilty Tuesday in the court of Justice of the Peace H. J. Grabner. He was fined $1 and costs. Some years ago Kroek was town marshal at New Haven.

A warrant was sworn out Tuesday in Justice Grabner's court by Herman Brown against Frank Armstrong, charging him with assault and battery. Armstrong lives on Wabash avenue.

BOY KNOCKED DOWN

BY A VICIOUS BULL

While picking hazel nuts two and a half miles west of the city Monday afternoon, John McClinton, thirteen-year-old son of George H. McClinton, 2109 Calhoun street, was attacked by a vicious bull and but for his presence of mind would have been killed. The youngster was knocked down near a bush and crawled into it before the bull had an opportunity of making another plunge at him. The bull's attention also was attracted by the boy's screams and he kept yelling and screaming at the top of his voice. In the meantime the McClinton lad succeeded in getting over the fence to safety. He was painfully injured about the shoulder, where he was gored by one of the bull's horns.

AGED MAN ASKS TO BE LOCKED UP

FOR PART TAKEN IN OLD ROBBERY

"I want to be locked up. Eight years ago I threw a brick through the window of a jewelry store on East Columbia street and a younger man who was with me stole some rings. He was arrested and sent to prison for the crime, but he never gave me away and I have gone Scot free ever since. I want to give myself up."

With this introduction John Mullen, aged 58 years and a confessed tramp, approached Lieutenant Harry Grimme at police headquarters Tuesday morning. His request was complied with and he was placed in a cell and a charge of loitering was put against him. He went to jail to await a hearing Wednesday morning.

The burglary in which Mullen confessed a part, was committed at the William W. Dygert pawnshop, then located at 130 East Columbia street. A man named Owen Gagan was later arrested by Chief of Police Martin H.

Ankenbruck and Detective Charles F. Lenz, now chief of police, for the crime, convicted and sent to prison. He did not disclose that he had an accomplice and it was never suspected that he had one. The man had been released by and Detective Lenz took note of him from jail a day or two before the robbery on the street from an odd sort of hat he wore. This hat and several watches, the latter stolen from Dygert's, were found in an alley in the rear of Columbia street and led to Gagan's arrest some days later when, in the evening, he came to the police station for lodging. Detective Lenz identifying him Mullen says he has been wandering about the country as a tramp and coming again to Fort Wayne was troubled in his conscience by the fact that his pal had been punished alone for a crime of which he was equally guilty. He will be immune from prosecution for the burglary and will be sent from the city.

Each Man To Receive $10

Friday Will Be Pay Day for Car Men Now on a Strike.

Each Union Man Asked To Assist

Letter of Encouragement is Received from President Mahon.

Announcement was made Tuesday morning at the meeting of the carmen that Friday would be pay day when each man will receive approximately $10. The men will be paid this amount every Friday until the strike is over.

Word was received from President William D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America that a check for $750 had been forwarded for distribution among the members of the local union. Out of this amount each member is to receive $5 a week, there being 150 members, out of 175 men formerly in the employ of the company on the city lines. It is figured that approximately $1,000 will be received each week from the members of the various unions, providing each union man in Fort Wayne contributes fifteen cents from their weekly wages.

NEW FURY NOW MARKS

ARMENIAN MASSACRES

Washington, Oct. 12.—Armenian massacres in Asiatic Turkey have been renewed with vigor since Bulgaria's entrance into the war as Turkey's ally. This information reached the state department from Ambassador Morgenthau, who stated that the majority of the Armenians in Asiatic Turkey had been killed.

Although representations were made by this government some time ago, warning Turkey that further atrocities against the Armenians would alienate the sympathies of the American people, no answer has been received.

Earlier representations were met with two concessions, promising that those Armenians who wished to leave the country would be permitted to go unharmed and further the Protestant Armenians would be spared. Information recently reaching this country, however, indicates that these conditions have not been strictly adhered to. From one quarter it was asserted that "they were reminded the next day." These Armenians who were spared are now gathered in the country between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers.

Bulgars Attack Serbs at Garibogahz Following Recent Break of Former With the Allies.

Paris, Oct. 12.—(11:40 a. m.)—Bulgarian troops invaded Serbia last night.

Opening of hostilities against Serbia by Bulgaria has been a foregone conclusion since the rupture between Bulgaria and the allies. In fact the Bulgarian government issued a manifesto to the nation last week proclaiming its decision to espouse the cause of Germany, Austria and Turkey.

Military experts estimated that when the Bulgarians struck they would attempt to seize the railroad running from Belgrade to Constantinople by way of Nish. Another line runs direct from Nish to Saloniki and is the only one over which the allied troops now being landed at the Greek port could be transported south to aid of Serbia. Kniazevatz, near which point the Bulgars are reported to have invaded Serbia, is on a branch line railroad running from Nish to Zajecar, a fortified town on the Serbian frontier, and Negotin, on the Danube.

Kniazevatz is twenty-five miles northwest of Nish, which has been the capital of Serbia since the Austrian occupation of Belgrade early in the war. It is an equal distance east of Aleksinatz, a station on the Nish-Belgrade railway, located on the Morava river. At Aleksinatz the Serbs were defeated by the Turks in 1876.

Although Belgrade had been evacuated the Matin correspondent at Nish, in a dispatch filed Saturday, said the fighting continued stubbornly on the hills surrounding the city, some of which had been taken and retaken several times. "Artillery of both sides," the dispatch says, "has been firing without respite for three days. The Serbs gained the advantage again this morning when they captured excellent positions near Topirder and droye the German back on a suburb of Belgrade called Grativder, where a terrific struggle is going on.

"The invaders threw over 5,000 shells on Belgrade, sparing neither hospitals nor churches. Synagogues were destroyed and Jewish families who had taken refuge there were buried in the ruins. French artillery took part in the defense of the city. The British, with several heavy guns, inflicted great losses upon the Germans and sank two monitors in the Danube.

"Near Rann, on the Danube, the Serbians were driven back with the loss of four howitzers and several machine guns.

ALL ATTACKS REPULSED.

London, Oct. 12.—(7:27 a. m.)—A dispatch to the Times from Athens says that the Bulgarians began an attack on Serbia at Garibogahz, near Kniazevatz, at midday on Monday.

The Serbian legation today received this telegram from Nish: "Last night Bulgarians began an attack in the direction of Vlasina.

WILSON POINTS OUT DUTY OF AMERICANS

Washington, Oct. 12.—President Wilson, speaking at the 25th anniversary meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution declared the United States should keep out of the European war, not to avoid trouble but to preserve the foundations upon which peace must be built. The president spoke up on the duties of Americans to preserve true neutrality and said he believed American citizens should make it plain whether their sympathies for foreign countries came before their love for the United States, last and all the time.

The president said the United States had now reached a time of special stress and test and that now the people need all of their patriotism. All of the rest of the world was in the crucible, he declared and no man could tell what the result would be. Mr. Wilson urged that every social and political action in the United States should be aimed to get all of the people to rally to the standard of America. Some people have wavered from the American ideal, he said, and have sought to aid rival ideals. He added that Americans should devote themselves only to what America believed in.

SUES TO BLOCK WAR CREDIT INVESTMENT

German Interests Back of Woman's Suit Against Mutual Life.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Suit for an injunction to restrain the Mutual Life Insurance company and its officers and directors from participating in the Anglo-French war loan of $500,000,000 was filed yesterday in the United States district court.

The writ was made returnable before Judge Carpenter. Frank S. Monnett, of Columbus, former attorney general of Ohio, filed the bill in behalf of Mrs. Olga H. Walsh, of 1218 Eddy street. Mrs. Walsh's maiden name was Lippert. She is the wife of Burton T. Walsh, a foreman, formerly of Elyria, Ohio, a long time acquaintance of Attorney Monnett. Holds $2,000 Policy.

Mrs. Walsh is a policy holder, the face value of her policy being $2,000 and $3,380, with accrued dividends of seventeen years. Mr. Monnett admitted that big German-American interests are back of the suit, which primarily is designed to prevent a consummation of the war loan of the allied powers.

The bill alleged that the officers of the Mutual Life Insurance company are planning to invest $10,000,000 in the Anglo-French war securities, and that the company has no legal right so to use the funds of the policy holders. It is alleged that a large proportion of the company's policy holders are of German and Austrian extraction, as well as subjects of Germany and Austria, and that "race hatred and strife would be engendered by permitting the money of these policy holders to be used for munitions of war to kill their German and Austrian relatives and friends engaged in war in Europe."

The defendants, in addition to the insurance corporation, are Charles A. Penbody, president; George N. Baker, director; Haron Reading and the other members of the Anglo-French financial commission; J. Pierpont Morgan and J. P. Morgan & Co.

Attorney Monnett said effort will be made to get service on the members of the financial commission before they sail from New York. When members of the commission were told of the suit they evinced little interest and refused to comment on it.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR REAL ESTATE MEET

Plans for the state convention of the Indiana Real Estate association, to be held here next Wednesday and Thursday, will be completed at a meeting of the Fort Wayne exchange Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Commercial club. Secretary Frank Hilgeman has mailed to each member of the exchange the following letter: "Just one week from tonight will be the eve of our big state convention. There is just one more week to finish up the vast amount of work still to be done and to have everything ready on time. Let's be sure that we have everything in shape so there will be no hurrying and hurrying (and swearing) at the last minute. We will meet this evening at the Commercial club at 6:30. We will have a joint committee meeting this evening, as well as a meeting of the exchange, so if you are on a committee, it's up to you to be there. There are several things that will come up for discussion that must be settled tonight."

"The Store That Does Things."

ARMED NEUTRALITY CHOICE OF GREECE

London, Oct. 12.—The Greek chamber was informed by Premier Zaimis at a meeting yesterday that in order to better assure the vital interests of Greece her neutrality "will for the present, be armed" says a Reuter dispatch from Athens.

The premier added that the future course of the ministry will be adapted to meet events as they occur, and expressed the belief that the government's course has the support of the people.

In reply, former Premier Venizelos said: "No one would wish to create internal difficulties in the country in view of the present extremely critical situation. The chamber will give its support to the government as long as the government policy does not alter the principles of my policy upon which the chamber already has given its vote. Even if there existed no treaty with Serbia our interest would obligate us to depart from neutrality as another state wishes to aggrandize itself at our expense.

"The question is not whether we ought to make war, or not, but when we ought to enter the war. In any case we ought not to allow Bulgaria to crush Serbia in order that she then may attack us with all her forces. The national soul says it is to the interest of Greece that Bulgaria should be crushed. If Bulgaria should triumph, Hellenism would be completely vanquished."

The sitting of the chamber then was adjourned until next Monday.

Hold Meeting Tonight to Prepare for Big January Show.

The exceptionally large early demand for exhibition space at the January poultry show has forced the local Poultry fanciers' association to begin preparations much earlier than usual, and a meeting of the association has been called for tonight to undertake the solution of the "housing" problem, which now confronts the management. The meeting will be held at 610 Calhoun street and probably one hundred of the Allen county enthusiasts will be there.

Secretary J. C. Howenstein states that for some reason—probably the reputation of the Fort Wayne "bunch" to treat exhibitors fairly and provide one of the cleanest shows in the middle west—exhibitors are turning to Fort Wayne as never before, and the great problem to be solved is the proper care of the birds when they come. Purdue university is asking for space for an educational exhibit. Several national and state poultry clubs are asking the privilege of holding their annual sessions and exhibits with the local show. A large class of Allen county boys and girls, under the direction of County Agent Henry, will be on hand with a special exhibit of birds raised under the "Purdue system."

The association is already dangling eighty-seven silver cups, six valuable gold watches and other prizes and trophies before the envious eyes of exhibitors, and more will be added to the list.

One thousand handsomely designed announcements have been mailed to prospective exhibitors and many of those who have shown their birds at earlier shows have already announced their determination to return for the January show.

Enthusiasm among the local men was never so strongly manifested as at the present time. The show will do much toward advertising Fort Wayne as a live poultry center.

Since the beginning of the war and the shutting out of the Russian article, the United States has developed a million-dollar business in medicinal oils from petroleum.

MACHINISTS OUT AT BIG CLEVELAND PLANT

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 12.—The long predicted strike of machinists at the plant of the Warner and Swazee company was a fact today. Three hundred pickets surrounded the factory when work started this morning. The plant was still running today and officers claimed it would continue to operate.

Union leaders assert the strike was a success. The men are contending for the eight hour day. The strike is a sequel to that at the Cleveland Automatic Machine company shell making plant a week ago, when the men won their eight hour day demand but did not gain all other points. The Warner and Swazee company does not manufacture war munitions.

Mrs. Roland Kautz, of Indianapolis, is visiting her father, Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffat and family.

END INDIGESTION OR STOMACH PAIN IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs feel fine.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear. They know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable. Life is too short—you are not here long enough to make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home, anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

WHITLEY COUNTY BARN BURNS.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Fire destroyed the big barn of Hiram Keiser, about four miles south of this city, Monday forenoon, and with the barn went the hog pen, the machine shed, the granary and another small building and the silo. The fire caught from sparks from the engine which was used to furnish the power for a corn chopper in filling the silo. The barn was one of the largest in the county, being 36 by 100 feet in size. It contained 200 bushels of corn, 400 bushels of wheat, thirty acres of threshed oats and 50 tons of hay. Mr. Keiser did not have a dollar's worth of insurance so that his loss is complete and quite heavy. He was unable to place an estimate upon it but those who are familiar with the property losses placed it around $5,000.

BABE HAD THE RIGHT HUNCH.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 12.—When Mrs. Clarence Hite, of Court street, tried to administer a common home remedy to her small baby, the delicate nostrils of the child were burned by the fumes of the medicine. This caused the child to jerk back, an action which saved it. Mrs. Hite at once called a physician, who found the contents of the unlabeled bottle, from which the medicine had been taken, to be a combination of chloroform and iodine that had been used in the treatment of an ulcerated tooth. Comparison of the bottle which contained the poison with that which held the remedy intended to be used, showed the same size and color.

TO WED MONTPELLIER GIRL.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—The many friends of Orlando Ashbacher, an electrician in the employ of the city lighting department, will be interested to learn that his marriage to Miss Pearl Walker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Walker, of Montpelier, will take place this month. The wedding will be performed very quietly at the bride's home at Montpelier and very few friends will be invited in advance with the date for the ceremony. After a short trip to points of interest in northern Ohio and Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Ashbacher will begin house-keeping in Bluffton, in the groom's property.

LAST OF ROYAL INDIAN FAMILY.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 12.—For the first time in a century or longer—and probably for all time—Huntington county will soon be without a member of one branch of the ruling family of the Miami Indians. Since the death of Mrs. Chief Little Turtle, her son, Anthony Beavertail, has been preparing to leave for Oklahoma to live with his sister, Mrs. Mary Taylor, of Oklahoma, and her mother's funeral and attending to affairs incident to settling the estate. Anthony expects to follow her in about two weeks.

FARM HOME BURNS NEAR LAGRO.

Lagro, Ind., Oct. 12.—Flames starting from a defective flue burned the Joe Renner home, a mile and a half south of Lagro, to the ground, with a loss estimated at more than $2,000.

DRESSES, GLOVES, SILKS AND SUITS

Tells women how to dry clean everything with gasoline and save $5.

It is very easy and inexpensive to dry clean and brighten all the ribbons, lace, yokes, neckties, silks, net, satins, shirtwaists, kid gloves and shoes, fur, children's clothing, suits, caps, wadded garments, fancy vests, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvent at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it immediately dissolves. Then immerse the goods to be cleaned; rub a little and out they come looking bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing. These few moments' work saves any household fire to ten dollars. Try it and you will find dry cleaning just as easy as laundering. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline and the drug store will furnish the solvent, which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large dishpan completes your home dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.

part of which is covered by insurance. The family had returned from church, and were awaiting dinner when one of the children exclaimed: "What is that cracking and popping?" She started to leave the house, and at the same time neighbors who had seen the flames and were rushing to aid in carrying out furniture and fight the fire. The roof fell in soon afterward. The Lagro fire engine answered a call and arrived in time to extinguish flames that had spread to a summer kitchen and to save the barn.

PLASTERING FELL ABOUT THEM.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 12.—While Deputy Clerk L. J. Baumgartner, Clerk of Court Will Hammill, Court Bailiff T. H. Ernst and Court Reporter H. M. De Voss were in the clerk's office Monday discussing the various topics of current news, there was a sudden cracking noise from the ceiling of the office room, almost directly above them and in an instant a piece of plastering measuring several feet in circumference came crashing to the floor, only a few feet from the heads of the men, making a loud noise and filling the room with dust and dirt, that covered the men as well as the desks and books in the office.

HELD FOR KEEPING BLIND TIGER.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—Thomas Williams, a south side resident, who was under investigation last week in connection with the arrest of Elzey Starr on a boot-legging charge, was taken in charge by local police and placed in jail to answer a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. He secured his release on a $200 bond, for a hearing later.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 12.—Two persons from Warsaw narrowly escaped with their lives Sunday morning, when a big machine in which they were riding, turned turtle about a mile and a half east of Columbia City. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collins, of West Market street, who were enroute to Fort Wayne at the time.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the bilious, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic, remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

THREE CONVICTIONS.

All Violations of Games Laws Last Week Were in Wabash County.

There were only three convictions in this district for violation of the game laws last week and all of these were in Wabash county, according to the report issued by Captain of Game Deputies George W. Lindemuth. Oliver P. Horner was arrested for having a gill net and two spears in his possession and was fined $17. James H. Broads and Sylvester Nixon were arrested for netting fish and were fined $23 each.

LINOLEUM WEEK

A New Note In Modern Home Furnishing

Probably the most unique display that has ever come to Fort Wayne is being shown in our window. The exhibit consists of a modern home in miniature, completely furnished, with electricity and floored throughout with linoleum!

This display, which is put out by the Linoleum department of the Armstrong Cork Company, Lancaster, Pa., strikes a new note in modern home furnishing and is therefore of special interest to every woman.

For many years Europeans have recognized the advantages of linoleum as a floor covering for rooms other than merely the bath, kitchen and hall and have been using it all over their houses. They like it, they say, because it is thoroughly sanitary, and at the same time remarkably attractive—particularly in the carpet, matting and floral designs now available.

Knowing that American women are the most progressive of any nation and quick to adopt anything that will contribute to health and comfort, the Armstrong Company is providing linoleum in a variety of designs suitable for every room in the house. The result is that the consumer now has a wide choice of dainty matting and floral patterns—delicate shades of pink, blue and green—for bedrooms and nurseries; hardwood effects for the dining room and hall; carpet designs for the living room, etc.

To the woman who has never considered linoleum for other rooms than those where its use has been traditional, this display will prove extremely interesting. It demonstrates in a striking manner what a pleasing and artistic floor covering linoleum makes, when designs of suitable character are selected. It will not harbor germs, is easy to keep clean, last a long time and is cheaper than almost any other floor covering on the market.

During This Display

—we will have a special sale of linoleums at very low prices.

Printed linoleums, choice of many patterns, the 55c grade, 42c a yard.

Printed linoleums in many handsome designs, the 65c grade, 53c a yard.

Inlaid linoleums, extra qualities, in a wide range of designs for all uses. Kitchen, bath room, bedroom or hall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Sunday have gone to Flint, Mich., where, if the prospects look good to them, they will take up their permanent residence there.

Miss Clara Lynde is home from a visit at Ossian, Ind., where she was the guest of Miss Lucille Davis.

Mrs. Harry Howard and son, Dennis, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Erter and family, out at the farm home north of town the past week, returned to her home at Fort Wayne Saturday. Her mother accompanied her and will remain for a visit.

The shipping of beets is quite an industry here now, and a continuous string of trains and wagons loaded with the tubers are seen coming to the shipping yard here. Seven car loads were sent out from this field Monday morning. Samuel Boylan is in charge of the weighing here for the Continental Sugar company, while Frank Fleck is weighmaster for the German-American company. Four weeks of good weather will see the big crop in this field harvested.

Getting Rid of Blackheads And Other Aids to Beauty

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store. Sprinkle a little on a hot wet sponge, rub over the blackheads briskly, wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

A soft, velvety complexion is the envy of every woman, and any woman can have her heart's desire if she will, before retiring every night, wash the face, arms and neck with plenty of good soap and warm water, dash on cold water, dry thoroughly, and then apply freely a cream lotion made by dissolving one ounce of powdered zincite in a pint of hot water. This will give to the complexion that soft, velvety appearance so much admired and sought.

Women troubled with excessive perspiration in the armpits and other parts of the body can easily overcome this embarrassing condition by using a little hydrolyzed talcum on the parts. This simple powder will immediately destroy all body odor and control perspiration. It certainly will solve the "copy dress" shield problem.—Advertisement

Exodus 15:1-18.

1 Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song unto the Lord and spake, saying, I will sing unto the Lord, for he hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

2 The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him.

3 The Lord is a man of war: the Lord is his name.

4 Pharaoh's chariots and his host hath he cast into the sea: his chosen captains also are drowned in the Red sea.

5 The depths have covered them: they sank into the bottom as a stone.

6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is become glorious in power: Thy right hand, O Lord, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

7 And in the greatness of thine excellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee: thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble.

8 And with the blast of thy nostrils the waters were gathered together, the floods stood upright as an heap, and the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

9 The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoil: my lust shall be satisfied upon them; I will draw my sword, my hand shall destroy them.

10 Thou didst blow with thy wind, the sea covered them: they sank as lead in the mighty waters.

11 Who is like unto thee, O Lord, among the gods? who is like thee, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders?

12 Thou stretchedest out thy right hand, the earth swallowed them.

13 Thou in thy mercy hast led forth the people which thou hast redeemed: thou hast guided them in thy strength unto thy holy habitation.

14 The people shall hear, and be afraid: sorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Palestine.

15 Then the dukes of Edom shall be amazed; the mighty men of Moab, trembling shall take hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Canaan shall melt away.

16 Fear and dread shall fall upon them: by the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still as a stone: till thy people pass over, O Lord, till the people pass over, which thou hast purchased.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thine inheritance, in the place, O Lord, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in, in the Sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.

18 The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

America First.

Americanism of the finest grade and the highest order was again voiced by President Wilson in his address before the Daughters of American Revolution when he pointed to absolute and exact neutrality, but with the still higher object of preserving the foundation upon which peace could be rebuilt. The president has been looking steadily ahead in the struggle that has engulfed Europe for more than a year, and his vision has carried far. It has risen above the mere avoidance of American participation, desirable as that undoubtedly is, and it has glimpsed an opportunity in which the United States may later perform a signal service for all humanity.

"Peace can be rebuilt," he declared, "only upon the ancient and accepted principles of international law; only upon those things which remind nations of their duties to each other, and deeper than that, of their duties to mankind and humanity. America has a great cause which is not confined to the American continent. It is the cause of humanity itself." Throughout the trying days of the past fourteen months the president has displayed a marvelous grasp of the larger question involved, and never more so than in his latest utterance. He has been able to rise above the immediate issues and sense a still higher duty for the future. It will be a happy thing if Mr. Wilson is able to bring the American people to his own vision of the opportunity of a stand for enduring peace that will come when the warring nations, exhausted of blood and of wealth and of sustenance, find need of a basis upon which to rebuild and regenerate.

And we think the influence of the president is beginning to grip the American people as it has not heretofore gripped them. We think we can detect rather more care, more caution, more consideration, more Americanism and less jingoism among Americans, both native-born and of foreign lineage. It is encouraging and gratifying to find it so. Maintained, it will mean that America's victory will be greatest of all, regardless of the fate of one faction or the other in the world's conflict. It will be well if each of us gives serious thought and serious heed to the duty as pointed out by President Wilson in his newest utterances.

The state convention of the Indiana Chamber of Commerce, which is to be held at Kokomo this week, is of unusual importance because of its possibilities not only in trade advancement, but in the civic progress of the cities and towns as well. It is expected that representatives of more than one hundred commercial organizations will be in attendance, and plans are under way for broadening the scope and increasing the usefulness of the state body. With a free interchange of ideas and suggestions in both trade and civics, there is bound to be radiated to every corner of the state a spirit of enthusiasm and progress that will be an important element in making Indiana cities and towns better from every viewpoint.

In Ohio the primary law provides that before any man can go before the voters for the presidency he must file a written formal declaration of his candidacy for the place. The thing that is now causing the Ohio electorate to lose sleep o' nights is the fear that some of the favorite sons whom they have picked for the presidency will be too shy and retiring to come out in the open and admit that they would rather like to have the job. Politics is not altogether a rosy pathway, even in Ohio.

Closing of the saloons at Chicago on Sunday, brought the lowest Sunday crime record in the history of the Chicago police department, according to Chief Healey, who is in position to know what he is talking about. Perhaps no such argument was needed to sustain the desirability of the Sunday lid, but it is a rather happy circumstance to note good results coming so quickly after forty years of the wide-open regime in the windy city.

County Agricultural Agent Henry has just received his annual salary of eighty-two cents from the United States government, but it is to be regretted that the season is rather late to indulge in the contemplation of a care-free summer at the seashore. However, all is not lost. The check arrived in ample time to meet the coal man as he drives up to the door.

WOMEN ACT AS ROAD-BUILDERS IN GER-MANY WHILE MEN DIG TRENCHES.

Having broken half the roads in Belgium, the Germans are now busy mending their own roads in Berlin. In this work, while male labor is short, women have taken the place of men.

A "STILL STRONG MAN"

(Louisville Courier-Journal).

The United States could not be called by its worst enemy a "blatant land," inasmuch as there has been no popular excitement or uproar about the German submarine program. But the denunciation in the Arabic incident brings President Wilson to the fore as pre-eminently the "still strong man" not only of his own country but of Christendom. His patience and persistence have won what bluster and haste never could have accomplished.

The country has been periscope near where there are few Americans who would not rather endure the hardships of war than brook continued injuries.

There is not the slightest doubt that the American people—the adult and able-bodied males who would have borne arms—and the larger number who would have borne the burdens of war—would have stood solidly behind the president if he had discharged boldly, firmly, instead of hesitatingly, the duty of defining and protecting the rights of the American people at sea.

A great deal of moral courage is required to bear criticism upon the score of a suspected lack of courage to inaugurate war. President Wilson has in abundance the sort of moral courage that stands the test. Germany's disavowal of the sinking of the Arabic and agreement to pay indemnity is a rich reward for him, and for the country, which would have endorsed more drastic action, but is glad to be upon the way to a peaceful settlement of all differences with Germany.

A WONDERFUL PLENTY.

(New York World).

It just happened a year ago that the country produced the biggest wheat crop ever known when the great market for our surplus foodstuffs became most in need of them. As the American harvest was moving northward through the vast grain belt of the west,

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water seals and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

5% MONEY

To loan on improved city and farm property. Long time loans.

WAYNE MORTGAGE LOAN CO., LINCOLN LIFE BUILDING.

the tide of war was beginning to carry destruction over the latest farm fields of Europe and the warring nations were grasping in all directions to secure themselves against any emergency of famine. The combined consequence was the greatest export of breadstuffs from the United States at the highest prices we have ever experienced.

This year all farm production worked with the design and under so great a stimulus to outdo any previous result. The weather was never more promising. The season was one of exceptionally low temperatures and excessive rainfall. But for the staple food crops, which are now practically secure, the government reports a total quantity exceeding all previous records.

Wheat is better than a billion-bushel harvest and 111,000,000 bushels above the record yield of 1914. Corn indicates a yield exceeded only in 1912. The oat, the barley, the rye and the hay crops are all above those of any previous year, the potato crop is a good average and the fruit yields are above the average.

As a year of plenty among other years of abundance in this favored land, 1915 beats them all.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Tom B. Shoaff, of New York City, is here on a visit.

Lips Thiem, of the tailoring firm, has returned from a business trip.

At their convention the republicans of Allen county decided not to nominate a county ticket.

A national gas explosion occurred this morning in the home of Henry Hitzeman at the corner of Fairfield and Creighton avenues.

The time will come when the cars on all the street railroad lines in Fort Wayne will be run with electricity.

Otto Klinkenberg, George Lomach, Dr. George L. Greenawalt and Charles Freese, who are hunting in Northern Wisconsin, write friends here that game is scarce.

Sherman Dolan leaves Wednesday for Battle Creek, Mich., to perfect himself in the art of musical printing, in which business he will engage upon his return to this city.

Architect B. S. Tolan says that the new building of the Old National bank, corner Calhoun and Berry streets, will be ready for occupancy early in December.

With practically all the needed money subscribed for the new exposition grounds and race track, the question of a site is now uppermost. Many business men favor the old fair grounds in Swinney park.

Messrs. Peter Nussbaum, of the Centlivre brewery, and William Breuer, of the Berghoff brewery, left today for Pittsburgh to attend the annual convention of the North American brewers.

James M. Babcock, a farmer of Lagrange county, was nominated for congressman from the Twelfth district by the republican convention in this city. The names of Hon. John W. Hayden and Charles A. Bookwalter, both of this city, were also presented to the convention.

An eastern syndicate is negotiating for the purchase of the old Graffie homestead, on Calhoun street, between Washington and Jefferson streets, as a site for a new opera house. The property is worth $350 a front foot. (The property referred to is now the site of the Lyric theater, built in 1908.)

BARRED FROM THE MAILS.

Un-Neutral Matter Put Under Ban By Department Order.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Two forms of mail matter said to have been extensively used by persons desiring to indicate their sympathies in connection with the European war, were barred from the mails as un-neutral today by Postmaster General Burleson. The order follows:

"Postmasters are directed to treat as non-mailable, under section 212 of the penal code, (section 48, postal laws and regulations) envelopes, post cards, etc., bearing stickers containing the words or having printed thereon the words, 'Gott strafe England' or a picture of the German escutcheon with a red blot labeled 'Lusitania' inscribed. 'The blot that won't come off' as being not only un-neutral, but calculated to reflect on certain classes of persons."

SMOKER AND SOCIAL SESSION.

Robert J. Gaskill, secretary of Cadencia groto, No. 50, Order of Veiled Prophets of the Social and Realms, announces that a social session and smoker will follow the business meeting Wednesday evening, in the Odd Fellows' building. Further arrangements will be made for the ceremonial to be held on October 20.

TAKEN ON ROBBERY CHARGE.

Shelburn Man Arrested in Connection With Holdup at Hymers.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 12.—Henry Davey, 27 years old, of Shelburn, Ind., was arrested here last night charged with being implicated in the robbery Saturday of the paymaster of the Lattas Creek coal company, near Hymers, Ind. Two men held up Earl Smith, took more than $8,000 from the office and escaped on a motorcycle. Davey showed light, but he was surrounded by six patrolmen. He had more than $200 in his possession and was armed with a heavy revolver. Police say Davey was convicted for a robbery committed in Carmi, Ill. He broke jail in Carmi before he was taken to prison.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 30-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those who hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Advertisement.

WILSON PREFERS NEW RUNNING MATE, RUMOR

Not Lucky to Run Same Team Twice, Said to Be His Belief.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The Tribune today prints the following from a staff correspondent at Washington:

Friends of Vice President Marshall believe that President Wilson does not desire Mr. Marshall as his running mate on the democratic national ticket in 1916.

The president's apparent coolness towards the vice president is said to be due first to his belief that it is not lucky to run the same team twice in a national race and also to the failure of the vice president to stand "hitched" to several measures most earnestly advocated by close friends of the administration in the last congress, including the river and harbor pork barrel bill.

Marshall Eliminates Self? The vice president, according to the administration view, has not done his share in carrying out the parliamentary coups planned by its leaders, and, therefore, has practically eliminated himself from consideration for a renomination unless it appears that no other person can be agreed upon by the next democratic convention.

Mr. Marshall, while outspokenly opposed to the restrictions placed upon the activities of the person holding the vice presidency, is known to desire another term in office.

While he has not found the duty of presiding over the senate altogether to his liking, he has found Washington life exceedingly pleasant. Both he and his wife are great favorites here and their friends insist that Washington will greatly regret to see them go.

Lewis Suggested for Place. There is no lack of aspiring democrats who would like a place on the ticket with the president. They come from pretty nearly every doubtful state and some which are not even doubtful.

Among those suggested is Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois. Senator Lewis has said recently that he favored the renomination of Vice President Marshall. In case the vice president is not renominated, however, the Illinoisan does not deny that his lightning rod is inviting hits.

Former Gov. Cox, of Ohio, is another who would not refuse the nomination if tendered to him, while Commissioner of Immigration Howe believes that if he is nominated, in case the vice president is eliminated from consideration, he might do much toward carrying New York.

Want Western Candidate. Administration leaders do not desire an eastern candidate, however, as they feel that the ticket should be balanced with a western running mate.

In Ohio, Senator Pomerene will be up for re-election. The nomination of former Gov. Cox, the leaders believe, would add strength not only to the national ticket but strength to Pomerene's candidacy.

In Indiana, Senator Kern will be up for re-election. He is regarded by the administration as sufficiently strong to carry his state without the assistance of a democratic vice presidential candidate from Indiana.

SCARED OF MOTHER-IN-LAW.
Tales Decide District Attorney to Be Bachelor for Life.
Denver, Oct. 12.—Two many stories about too much mother-in-law have made John Fine, deputy district attorney, decide to be a bachelor for life. For six months Fine has heard hardly anything else than long plaints from sons-in-law.
One youth told him of how when his wife was ill he asked her mother to assist in nursing her, and at the end of a week she handed him a bill for $20 for professional services.
Now a second man has told the same story, only his mother-in-law charged $15 for the care she gave her daughter. That decided Fine.

A wise man says, "I want the best; that Gold Seal cigar for mine."

SKELETON SOLVES MYSTERY.
Teeth Lead to Identification as Missing Farmer.
Oklahoma City, Oct. 12.—The finding of the skeleton of a man in a ravine near Britton, a few miles north of this city, may solve the mystery of the disappearance eight years ago of W. W. Crabtree, a farmer of that community. Nothing but the bare bones remain of the body. The skeleton shows a set of teeth, a fact which led acquaintances to identify the skeleton as that of Crabtree. On the skull was a dent, probably made by some blunt instrument. Near the place on which he had been working, the first search was made, was found a monkey wrench.

Crabtree was a successful farmer and lived alone. Little was known of the man at the time he settled on the farm. It was understood that he had come from Oregon, though he never talked of himself.

It is said that when Crabtree disappeared he had quite a sum of money with him, as he had been to town and had drawn money from the bank.

Crabtree was a successful farmer and lived alone. Little was known of the man at the time he settled on the farm. It was understood that he had come from Oregon, though he never talked of himself.

EVERY HAT SHOULD HAVE A "ZOO"—IT'S FASHION'S LATEST DECREE.

Every hat will have a zoo of its own if women take to the latest thing in autumn headgear.

The more startling the effect the better and so elephants and camels figure prominently on some of the newest hats. Some are embroidered in brilliant colors on black velvet or beaver foundations while others are cut out of white or black leather and are stiched on.

But nothing in the animal line is barred save mice. And no real woman could be expected to appear with even a "make believe" mouse on her hat.

BEVERLY BAYNE'S $50,000 WARDROBE—THE NEGLIGEE.

Every wardrobe, to be complete, must have at least one negligee. An excellent model of this type of apparel is shown here as worn by Beverly Bayne, the noted film star who plays opposite Francis Bushman.

Though this is an expensive model it can be made up in much less costly materials, but on the same graceful lines.

It is pink chiffon over pink satin. The edges of skirt and waist are outlined in brilliant, and edged with silver trimming.

The bottom of the underskirt, which ends in a tiny demi-train, is edged with a ruching of soft tulle; the silver trimming again being employed in the ornamentation of it along the gathering string.

The model is built with a tunic effect, the latter being outlined with silver trimming also.

One of the charming innovations in this leisure-hour costume is the use of flowers, garden-fashion, around the deep waist, which falls well down on the hip.

Adding much grace and splendid lines to the creation, is the long cape-scarf which is admirably shown in this picture.

Negligee worn by Beverly Bayne in a specially posed picture for the Sentinel.

Alfred Kleinhart, of 3114 South Calhoun street, entertained a few friends on Saturday evening in honor of his nineteenth birthday anniversary. A game of progressive rummy was enjoyed and a luncheon that was tempting and satisfying. The guests were Misses Lillian Gresh, Sofia Gruber, Leona Kleinhart, Marcelle Hohmann, Iva and Veronien Pape and Messrs. Russell DeLeon, Will Pape, Gerald Aurenz, Alfred Kuhn and John Smith.

Miss Cecelia Zurbach entertained a number of her friends from Fort Wayne at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zurbach, near New Haven, on Sunday. Music, out of doors sports and an excellent dinner were the chief pleasures of the day. Those who were Miss Zurbach's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Medairs, Mrs. Catherine Zurbach, Misses Christine Walda, Vivian Lowe, Eva Thomas, Grace Hermann, Elizabeth Wolf, Regina Zurbach.

Miss Lydia Heine was honored on Saturday evening by a pretty party and a shower of aluminum gifts at the home of the Misses Clara and Thekla Schmidt. Pink chrysanthemums, pink cosmos, pink candles, tiny pink cupid place cards were the principal things of a lovely decoration. Miss Heine is a bride-elect of November. Many parties are planned in her honor. The guests at this time were Esther Griebel, Sophia Heine, Elfrida Reese, Grace Babbitt, Laura Burg, Eleanor Vonderaar, Blandia Schmidt and Mrs. Walter Edwards, of Chicago.

Miss Rosella, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoshbach, invited a few of her small friends to help her celebrate her eighth birthday anniversary on Saturday afternoon. A fine time was spent playing games. Later, about 5 o'clock, Miss Rosella led the way to the dining room, where a table was beautifully decorated and laid with a bountiful supper, including a birthday cake. Pink and white were the colors that prevailed and the basket of candy each one found at her plate expressed those dainty and favorite colors. Mrs. Joe Reitz, Mrs. Will Heidrich and Miss Naomi Dalman assisted Mrs. Hoshbach in looking after the children's happiness. The guests left many pretty remembrances of the day with the birthday

Today's Beauty Hints.

To whiten and beautify the complexion permanently we have found no better preparation than a lotion made by dissolving four ounces of supurmax in a half pint of water, then adding two teaspoonfuls glycerin. This removes any pimples, shiny, muddy or sallow appearance, and will make anyone's skin clear, smooth and velvety. It does not show or rub off like powder; in fact, it seems a part of the skin; and for removing tan and freckles is unequalled.

It is necessary to shampoo more frequently in warmer weather because of excessive dust and the fact that the head perspires more and is usually more exposed to the weather. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers can be prepared very cheaply by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, obtained from your druggist, in a cup of hot water. This rubbed into the scalp creates a thick lather, soothing and cooling in its action, as well as very beneficial to scalp and hair. After rinsing, the scalp is fresh and clean, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Advertisement.

The children were Lucile Foelling, Dorothy Heit, Celeste Phillips, Erin and Alice Passino, Mercedes Koch, Alice Friend, Helen Reitz, Marie and Eileen Danely, Elizabeth Jordan, Herbert Reitz and Richard Heidrich.

Kulp-Miller.

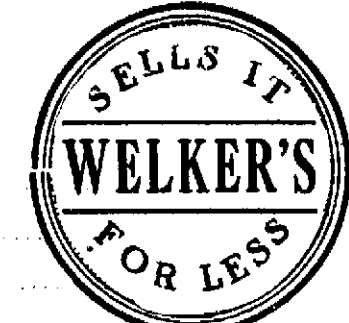

The wedding of Miss Miller and Dr. Raymond R. Kulp, of Davenport, Ia., was a beautiful nuptial event at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lucile Miller, as honor maid and by Miss Marie Breenahan, of Huntington, and Miss Marie Aurenz, of this city, as bridesmaids. Mr. Harry Brink, of Madison, Wis., was best man and Mr. Roy Aurenz and Mr. Clement Miller were groomsmen. The wedding guests were ushered to seats by Messrs. Stephen Weber and Clarence Alter. Especially beautiful music was a part of the nuptial mass. Miss Helen Lees sang the Ave Marie and "O Promise Me" and Mr. Carl Weber, a relative of the bride, sang the offertory and also during the marriage ceremony. The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miller, wore a beautiful costume in keeping with her own beauty which is striking. The wedding gown was of bride satin fashioned in modish manner with a court train that was cut in three points each of which was finished with a pearl ornament. Much daintily lace was used about the bodice and the front of the dress, cut in princess fashion, had a lace drape held in place by a handsome ornament of pearl beads. The bridal veil was held with a wreath of orange blossoms the bride's mother wore at her wedding and the bride bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a white ruffled lace gown with pink tulle bolero effect. A tiny wreath of pink rose buds set off with a fluffy bow of pink tulle was worn in her hair and a round bouquet of pink roses completed a most charming effect. The bridesmaids were gowned in staid-looking costumes of pale pink tulle ruffled gowns with which they wore large black velvet hats faced with pink velvet and trimmed with flat pompons of pink mallow from which a bird of paradise feather stood. Bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums were a distinctive color feature of the bride-maids' line appearance. The wedding party went directly to the bride's home at 208 East DeWald street, after the service and received the congratulations of relatives. The wedding dinner was served at 1 o'clock by Mrs. Schumaker with covers laid for sixty, including a few personal friends of the bride as well as relatives. Decorations of the diningroom were carried out in pink and white.

The long table had a cake for its centerpiece and either end had a tall basket of roses, asters and dahlias in the chosen colors. The long window seat in the room was banked with blooming plants and vases of flowers. Appointments of the dinner carried out the colors and were very pretty. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the bride and groom left for Colorado Springs and other points of Colorado for a trip of several weeks. After the first of December Dr. and Mrs. Kulp will be at home at 122 Ridgewood avenue, Davenport, Ia., where Dr. Kulp enjoys a lucrative and extensive practice. For traveling the bride wears a midnight blue gabarine suit with pale pink blouse of georgette crepe. Wide black braid trims the tailor suit and a black velvet hat with a gray fancy feather is in keeping with gray shoes and gloves. Mrs. Kulp, mother of the groom, and Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Kulp, a brother of the groom, and his wife, all of Davenport, and Mrs. Ed Burns, of Des Moines, Ia., an aunt to the bride, were out-of-town guests who came to the wedding.

Dill-Felts.

At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Felts, Miss Grace Felts was married at noon on Tuesday to Mr. E. Beveridge Dill, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dill, of Logansport, by Rev. Paul Preston, of Angola. The wedding was not a large one and only relatives and a few of the nearest friends were present, numbering in all between thirty and forty. Neither bride nor groom was attended. The marriage service was read in the parlor where the bay window had been canopied with smilax and banked with ferns while vases of white roses and carnations made the rooms fragrant and the surrounding for the sweet bride both appropriate and beautiful. The bride was dressed in a white crepe de mignon with trimmings of fine lace and she wore a veil. The bride bouquet was made of lilies of the valley with a shower of white ribbon held to the flowers in a butterfly bow. Miss Mildred Gern, of Angola, played the wedding music and "Evening Star" during the marriage ceremony. Miss Mildred Bailey, of Angola, sang "O Promise Me." The wedding dinner was served as soon as the bride and groom had received the congratulations of the company. The bride's table and the diningroom were done in pink and white, both roses and carnations being used. Still later in the day the bride and groom left on a trip to Chicago. The bride travels in a brown suit trimmed with beaver and a velvet hat with the same fur trimmings. After the first of November Mr. and Mrs. Dill will be at home in Mongo, Ind., though their stay there is indefinite in time. Mr. Dill is interested in a business project in Mongo, but his home in recent years has been in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Felts, of Peru, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Preston, of Angola, were other out-of-town guests present.

Oberchain-McClellan.

Mrs. Clara McClellan and Mr. Edward Oberchain were quietly married on Monday evening at the parsonage of Trinity English Lutheran church by Rev. Samuel Wagenhals. The bride is a capable and charming woman. The groom is a freight conductor on the Pennsylvania and a man of excellent character. The bride wore a traveling suit of brown broadcloth with trimmings of marten fur and she wore a bouquet of white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Oberchain left on an extended eastern trip and will be at home after the first of November at 201 Masterson avenue.

Banks-Dorriot.

Mr. Jesse Banks and Miss Elizabeth C. Dorriot, the former from Convoys, O., and the latter from Fort Wayne, were married Saturday afternoon in Hillsdale, Mich., by Justice C. M. Weaver, at the court house.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Lillian Cavanaugh With Walker Whiteside Wednesday Evening.

Lillian Cavanaugh, who will play the leading role in support of Walker Whiteside, when he brings his new play "The Ragged Messenger" to the Majestic tomorrow evening, should prove an interesting new acquaintance in theatricals. Miss Cavanaugh is an actress of English training, though Irish by birth, and from the record it would appear that her training has been exceptional. She began with Sir Herbert Tree, being a graduate of the school he maintains in connection with his playhouse, and shortly fell under the observation of Miss Marie Tempest. It is largely owing to this connection that Miss Cavanaugh has had such a wide range of experience during the five years she has been on the stage. In "The Ragged Messenger" she will appear as Mary Anselmi, a designing young woman who deludes the idealistic dreamer, John Morton.

Lyman Howe's Pictures Friday and Saturday.

The predominant feature of Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival which comes to the Majestic on Friday and Saturday is a complete reproduction of the triumphs of palaces and avenues and courts and colonnades and gardens and pavilions that artists and architects have created in the California expositions to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal. Both the heroism and opulence of the most famous palaces, cathedrals and gardens of ancient, medieval and modern times have been achieved at these expositions. The one achieved at San Francisco has been aptly termed "a city straight out of a beautiful dream" and that is exactly the impression Howe's film conveys. Many other features—entirely new and widely diversified—will also be included in the current Lyman H. Howe program.

AT THE TEMPLE.

A COMEDY OF PARTS.

Temple Players Are Presenting "Our New Minister."

One of the most beautiful stories ever given to the American stage is that of "Our New Minister," in which the Temple players last night opened a six day run. Written round the experiences of a new idea minister, a divine who believes in more fellowship of man and less dogmatic creed, the comedy drama is rich in human nature and thrives with the life of the provincial village. The great character of the play of course is Lem Talston, the returned convict, who has served three years for robbery and has come back to his home village again to take up the broken thread of his life. He has been converted in prison but when he appears at the village store he is stunned by the hypocrites, except the storekeeper, the constable and one other old enemy. The new minister finally forces the town to recognize Lem and by a clever stage trick it is discovered that Lem didn't commit the robbery but that the president of the board of deacons did. Hossier Jennings, whose work in the role of the old light-house keeper in "The Girl Out Yonder" is well remembered, is playing Lem this week.

AT KEITH PALACE

SAME OLD TOM LEWIS.

Comedian of Johnny Jones Fame is on New Palace Bill.

It's the same old pivial Tom Lewis, who has tickled the risibilities of thousands in his years of devotion to his art of relieving mental distress. His first appearance at the New Palace yesterday afternoon was a signal for a young ovation, for Lewis has only to walk upon the stage and turn on his expansive smile and everybody's for him. This season he is presenting a little sketch called "Brother Fans." Jack McCloud and Al Carp, the dynamic jokers, can wheedle some rag time music out of their stringed instruments just the way a vaudeville audience wants it wheeled out. Because Mrs. Kramer was taken ill, Dave Kramer could not work with his partner George Morton, so it was up to one-half the team to do a skit by himself yesterday. He got away with it in royal style. Kramer was back in time for this afternoon's matinee. Hugh McCormick and Grace Wallace the ventriloquist marvels, have dressed their act to remarkably pretentious proportions. DeWitt Burns and Torrence are presenting a pleasing little comedy conceit, "The Awakening of the Toys." Arthur Barst's equilibristic feats are as difficult as they are unique and Betty Bond and Jimmy Casson's dainty singing and dancing complete the bill.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

It is indeed a pleasure to see a burlesque show that is not tainted with the usual suggestiveness and vulgarity that is seen in one. Thus was a prominent business man of Fort Wayne heard to remark as he was leaving the Empress yesterday afternoon after witnessing one of the best, biggest and cleanest burlesque shows on the road today. And that is just the kind of a show "Fads and Follies" is. It has two comedians that realize that a ripple of laughter from a clean joke is worth twice as much as an outburst from a vulgar one, and since these two men, namely Bert Saunders and Lew Golden, have been appearing on the Empress stage not a word has been said that could possibly offend the shyest maid or most timid man. "Fads and Follies" has won approval from the fans of Fort Wayne for it is the best seen here this season.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

Jack Pickford, Donald Crisp, Marshall Neilan, Glenn Martin, Frances Marion, Gertrude Norman are only a few of the many favorites who support Dainty Mary Pickford in "A Girl of Yesterday," the current Paramount production at the Jefferson today and tomorrow. This delightful romance also introduces the famous aviator, Glenn Martin, with whom, during the course of the play, Miss Pickford takes her very first flight. "A Girl of Yesterday" is sure to send those who see it away with enthusiastic satisfaction. As an added feature for the Tuesday and Wednesday programs for the next few weeks, beginning today, Manager Quinn will inaugurate a series of travel pictures which have been accorded unanimous praise wherever shown. These pictures are the famous Dorsey expedition motion pictures, made in the Orient by Dr. Geo. A. Dorsey, curator of anthropology for the Field museum, Chicago, and were made for the United Photo Plays company under the direction of Dr. Dorsey, who headed an expedition sent to the Orient. Four countries were thoroughly covered—Japan, China, Ceylon and India. This work consumed a year's time.

India will be the first of the series to be shown at the Jefferson and the policy will be to run one reel each week on Wednesday and Thursday until all of the countries have been shown.

The first kerosene oil lamps seen by the Chinese were in the homes of the missionaries. They were soon in such demand that in a recent year oil to the value of $14,500,000 was sent to China.

PRIVILEGES

ANY girl thinks she has a soft snap because the boss gives her certain privileges as to working rules. And gradually she gets to abusing that soft snap. Then one day things happen. The boss is maybe in a bad temper, or she chances to be away at a time when something very important turns up, and bang! She may find herself called down very hard, indeed, if nothing worse.

So, girls, let me beg of you to go easy on those privileges. Of course, it is pleasant to have a boss who is not hard on you, and who doesn't growl if you stay away because you aren't feeling right, and lets you off if you want to get away early, and who helps generally to make office life agreeable.

But don't impose too much. Work is work, not privilege, and the most good-natured person resents being imposed on. You are apt to forget that what was ten minutes to begin with ought not to be half an hour now. And because you don't fear a scolding is no reason for cheating your employer out of time and labor for which he is paying you.

Once in awhile, by all means, take advantage of your privileges. But be sure that you let the boss see that you regard the occasion as a rare one, that you recognize it as being a privilege, and that you intend to repay him for his kindness in one way or another, by putting in some extra time or doing an unexpected job on an off day.

In business there is precious little given for nothing, and you don't want to put yourself in the position of taking anything for nothing.

THE KITCHEN

Firm Pineapple Icing.

Every housekeeper worries because the icing of her pineapple cake will soak into the cake, and not be nice the second day. Here is a little secret that keeps the last of the cake as good as the first. Drain all the juice off of a can of grated pineapple. Put on the stove with two tablespoons of sugar. When it comes to a boil stir in a little at the time two tablespoons of corn starch that has been mixed in a little water. Mix this with pulp when it has thickened. When about cool, put on cake.

Sweet Potato Pie.

Bake sufficient sweet potatoes to make a pint of pulp when rubbed through a colander. Add a pint of rich milk and a scant cup of sugar, salt if desired, the yolks of two eggs, and a little grated lemon rind for flavor. Bake with under crust. When done meringue with the whites of the eggs beaten up with a tablespoonful of sugar. Better than pumpkin pie.

Mexican Sauce.

Use one pint of ripe tomatoes chopped and drained, two cups of chopped onions, one-half cup of white mustard seed, four large red peppers and four green, chop seeds and all; one-half cup of salt, scant; two cups of white sugar, and six cups of vinegar. Mix well and can without heating.

Salmon Roll.

To one can best salmon add one cup fine cracker crumbs, one egg, well beaten, three tablespoons milk, and one teaspoon salt. Drain juice from salmon; pick out all bones and mince fine with a silver fork. Add the other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Press lightly into well buttered tin pound cake powder can; put on cover; set into a kettle of boiling water and boil one hour. Carefully remove from can and serve hot with plain cream sauce, or cold, sliced thin, and arranged on a bed of lettuce or parsley, garnished

Mock Turtle Soup.

A fine mock turtle soup can be made from the liquor of pink beans. To a quart of the bean soup add one small onion, sliced; one-fourth teaspoonful of allspice, ground; one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg, ground; one stick of cinnamon, two or three cloves. Just before serving add juice of one lemon and some thin slices of lemon.

Custard Dumplings.

Take six stale buns, grate crust from buns, mix with sugar and cinnamon. Then make a boiled custard, soak buns in custard one hour, then fry in hot lard. When a nice brown roll in the crumbs, sugar, and cinnamon. If buns are large cut in two.

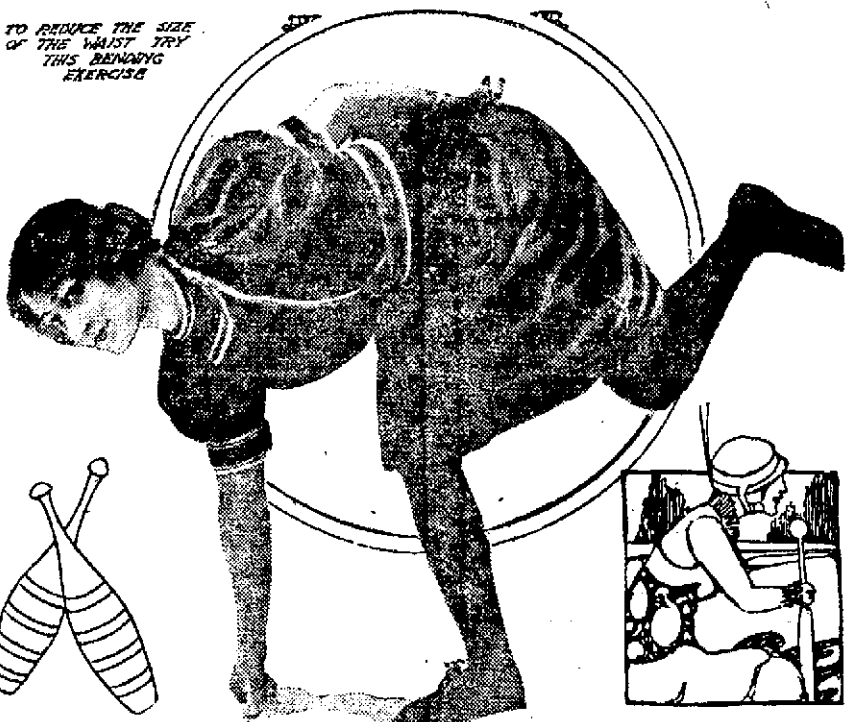

Sauce—One pint sweet cider, sweeten to taste, slice of lemon, add a little thickening, boil, and pour over buns. Serve warm.

Fish Croquettes.

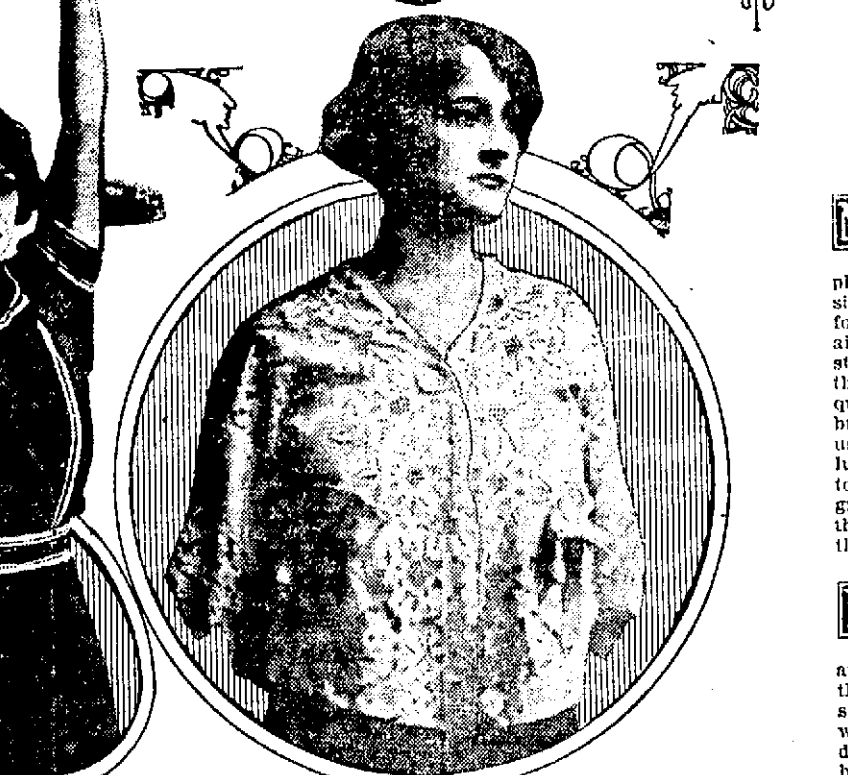

Roll good sized potatoes until well done; mash them and add one-half can of salmon. Beat one egg and add to salmon and potatoes. Roll some crackers and mix in. Form into small cakes and dip them in eggs, which are well beaten, then in rolled crackers, and fry brown in hot grease.

Soup With Dumplings.

Take one can of corn, put into a good sized stew kettle, and three quarts of cold water, two tablespoons of butter, and salt and pepper to taste; stir well until this boils; make a good baking powder biscuit dough and drop about two dozen small bits of the dough into the boiling soup, and cook fifteen minutes. This is fine and nourishing.

How to Retain a Beautiful Figure

BY U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE.

ANY lovers of flowers who have not the time to bother with an indoor window box, enjoy keeping a number of potted plants in their living rooms during the winter. Some, in fact, have turned a bay window into a small conservatory of winter garden merely by an attractive arrangement of plants in separate pots.

When a window box is filled the plants must be of the same general character to be successful, but if one's winter garden is made up of plants in separate pots a greater variety may be kept, as each plant may receive different treatment in the matter of light, watering, soil, etc., and palms, rubber plants and cacti, which call for special handling, may be added. Begonias, ivy, smilax and aspidistra, all good plants for indoor culture, demand more or less the same treatment.

Those who do not have gardens would do better to get potted plants from a florist for their potted plants. Good potting soil may be prepared at home but it usually takes considerable care and forethought.

Those willing to take the trouble may prepare it by using one part compost, one part good loam and one part sand. The compost should be cow manure and good turf rotted together for a year and turned two or three times in the interim. Well decomposed leaf mould would answer as a partial substitute for the compost.

One-twentieth part bone meal is a good addition to the mixture. If the loam is very heavy, containing much clay, its proportion should be somewhat diminished. If the loam is light and sandy, reduce the amount of sand, or in some localities, omit it altogether.

Potted plants should be examined occasionally to see whether or not they require repotting. This is done by holding the hands over the top of the pot, inverting plant and all, tapping the edge of the pot so as to loosen it, then lifting the pot off.

This cannot be done unless the soil is moderately moist. If the ball of earth is completely covered with roots, the plant should be put in a slightly larger pot with new potting soil "firming" about the old ball of earth by "firming" with the fingers. Then it should be wet thoroughly.

ODDS AND ENDS

BEST people when setting a fire lay the wood flat, cross-cross over the paper in the bottom of the grate, but let them try placing the wood sloping from the sides of the grate to the center. This forms a funnel for a free passage of air, and as the flame travels up the stick more quickly than it does across. The result is that fewer pieces are required, and the fire burns up more brightly and in half the time that it usually takes. Then when placing a lump of coal on the fire, if you wish it to last a long time lay it with the grain of the coal running across, as the flame travels more slowly across than upward.

EMBROIDERY is one of the most fascinating amusements for long winter hours, and just now the artistic are making attractive dollies in huckaback. First the large dolly is outlined upon the square for material and the edge is worked with a colored floss in a medium buttonhole stitch. The edge can be perfectly plain with small or large scrolls or more intricate. After working the pattern, cut it from the goods, press it on the wrong side and outline a wreath of oak leaves around the edge. These leaves should be large and worked with oak skateen. The pattern employed is merely the darning stitch, woven back and forth, the same as all ordinary huckaback patterns. Only extremely large leaf or floral patterns will look attractive when fashioned in this manner.

AN authority claims that tan shoes should be purchased late in the day, because earlier in the day a much smaller shoe can be comfortably worn, yet will prove a torment later in the day. Tan leather does not "give" like other leather and often shrinks slightly when dampened. For this reason a tan shoe holds its shape much better than a black one, though it must be comfortably fitted when purchased. This should be remembered by mothers buying tan shoes for children, for a pinched shoe is too annoying for anything and doubly so for children.

GUESTS at an informal luncheon were at first puzzled by a dainty looking relish brought on with the meat. Not until tasted was the secret revealed, when they discovered that the crisp, brown little tubs, about two inches in length, were of celery. Large, firm stalks were chosen, and after being cut were dipped in egg and cracker crumbs, fried in deep fat or sauteed in butter, and were served with a brown sauce. In the original instance this vegetable was served with fowl. It is also nice with fish, creamed in the chafing dish with oysters, etc.

TWO or three times a week spread the accumulated scraps of bread upon a tin plate or in a baking pan, and set in a moderate oven until perfectly dry. Soft

It can be kept in check by spraying the top with clear water. In living rooms this is frequently impracticable. The next best thing is repeated baths. The aphid or green fly is also eradicated by washing. Ferns should be fed once in two to four weeks in place of ordinary watering, with dilute nitrate of soda (a heaping teaspoonful to a quart of water), ammonia water (a teaspoonful of ammonia to a quart) or manure leachings. Prepared food or a little sprinkling of ground bone and wood ashes also gives satisfaction.

THE TALE OF A BUTTON

How This Article Came Into Its Own.

BY EDNA EGAN.

ON the shabby old calico waist the last button hung on a solitary thread, just as discouraged as one could possibly be who had seen better days. No one seemed to care now whether or not she were of pretty pearl and had two big round eyes.

"At least," she said, "somebody might cut this strangling rope and keep me as an antique made from an oyster shell, even if I am not good enough to serve on a pretty shirt-waist."

"Oh, well do I remember," she continued, "how happy I was when I lay on the card with my sisters, where, with many relatives, we were exhibited to the world. I often think of the conversation I heard that day between two clever people, who, to all appearances, were very friendly to the members of the Button World. It pleased me very much to know that the beautiful pearl of the oyster shell did not go to waste, but was taken to the factory where men carried on what was called the Button Industry. Upon hearing this name mentioned, I immediately opened my eyes wider. I could scarcely say, as some would expect, that I pricked up my ears, since my eyes must serve for both sight and hearing."

"To continue, the pearl is modeled into buttons and they are then sewn on cards—so you see the members of the different button families are easily kept together. These are then bought by store-keepers and placed before the eyes of the people, to be selected for garments."

"How proud I was to be the topic of conversation; but my delight knew no bounds when one of five ladies picked up the card holding my family and said that she would buy us for her new poplin waist. My sisters and I gazed with joy upon each other, and one sister, in her attempts to raise herself to beam upon us all, broke the rope which held her and would have rolled away had not our kind friends rescued her."

"While we were being purchased, we all whispered 'good-bye' to our relatives. How they glittered with envy, especially the green glass ones."

"But it was our lot to be chosen, and so we went gladly out into the world."

"My first experience was within a big, dark carriage, which was most likely the lady's pocketbook. There I became acquainted with a very polished and distinguished person—a silver pencil; he was, to all appearances, displeased at my coming, for he rolled away when I entered. Later, however, we conversed, and, although he was a trifle witty and sharp, I could see the point every time he spoke."

"As we continued on our journey, and my bright eyes became accustomed to the darkness, I noticed many strange things about me. I could not begin to tell you what was there."

"I became very much interested in what appeared to be a very queer-looking piece of green paper, with white lines drawn in all directions. My curiosity was aroused, and I asked a few questions. I was quite taken back when I received my answer, which was a somewhat lengthy one. "This person of prestige was a dollar bill," it responded, "made in the printing and engraving building at Washington, where a large company of men, after receiving the paper forms, made the queer-looking drawings with machines. Then these things called dollar bills were sent out for people to use to buy different articles."

"When these words had actually been thrown at me, I thoroughly realized that money certainly did talk, and in disgust, I turned my attention to other things. I was just in the act of unbuckling more curiosity when the carriage door opened and my sisters and myself were taken out."

"They are so pretty," I heard somebody say, and how I shone. I wondered what was to happen now."

"I soon discovered my destiny, when I saw my sisters being sewn on something lovely and white, which I judged must be the poplin waist. "I did not realize that this work was painful for us, until that sharp thing called 'needle' was pulled through me. But what was a little pain compared to future admiration, and I immediately thought of the Africans who wear rings in their ears and noses, for the sake of attracting attention."

"Finally, the task was completed, and then one fine day we were present on the poplin waist, at a Suffrage Meeting. The lady who wore the waist was the center of attraction, and you can imagine how proud we were."

"But I must hurry on with my story. "Our career lasted for many days, but finally the pretty waist showed signs of wear. I was rather sad, but my good cheer returned, when, soon after we were transferred to a most attractive blue waist with big white dots. They called it calico."

"Before long, however, I understood that I was destined to reside in the kitchen, and I soon became resigned to my fate."

"Even this kind of life was at least useful, but, oh, what degradation when the calico waist was placed in the attic as a relic of the past, and I had to remain with it."

"Then, too, how grief-stricken I was when, one after another, my poor sisters were clipped off to take the place, no doubt, of a button missing from some other garment. How lonesome they must have been among strangers."

"It was a sad day when the last sister was taken away, and here I have dangled ever since, wishing and wishing that I might be restored to the Button Kingdom, even if my companions were not my sisters."

"Imitation Is The Sincerest Flattery"

Thanks!

Our idea in starting this editorial column was to get close to the public, to express our aims and ideals in little personal talks. It was not so bad when the idea was speedily copied by other houses, but when they stole not only our idea, but our "thunder" and talked about "one price to all" policy, it savored a little to much of imitation.

It is local history that the Frank advertising was the first to run an editorial column in its advertising. It is local history that the Frank store was the first to proclaim a single price standard.

And in regard to the one price policy, you may rest assured that this store is 100 per cent. strict in maintaining that standard, even if other stores that followed in our trail with a similar proclamation of righteousness do deviate from their rule to a favored few.

that are to come are ready for you to try on at any time. Our display of plush and corduroy coats is especially attractive.

The plush coats, mostly fur trimmed, range in price from $12.75 to $50.00, which are all very low prices for the unusual styles.

Corduroy coats are moderately priced from $9.75 to $40; you will find them "different" and most attractive.

Jaunty College coats and other models in cloth, $5.98 up.

Suits Such As You Have Never Seen

$16.50
$24.75

We are not given to bombastic, extravagant phrases in our advertising. Strange, too, when we really have more to back up such talk than the stores that are given to it. But we will stick to plain facts, tersely stated, for we believe, with Abraham Lincoln, that you can't fool all of the people all of the time.

At $16.50 are suits that will delight the tastes of women who would never think of paying less than $20. The truth is that these suits are really $20 values, according to the regular price standard, and the women who buy them are not getting less desirable suits than usual, but are simply getting more for their money than usual.

The predominating feature of our showing of women's suits is STYLE. QUALITY, too, is something never lost sight of for a minute. And yet, for all this style and quality, every garment in the store is modestly priced. Under its new management the apparel section has shown a gain in sales of over 50 per cent. greater than last year—this without any increase in expenses. With this increase we can afford to price our garments ten to fifteen per cent. lower than usual; which accounts for our low prices and high quality.

At $19.75

are suits of gabardine, poplin, even broadcloths, as smartly tailored as the more expensive models, and of styles that please the particular woman. They are mostly fur trimmed and when we say that they would command a price of $25 elsewhere, we are saying nothing to the discredit of competitors—they are simply getting a fair price for the suits, for they are really $25 values.

At $24.75

there are over 300 suits from which to choose. They remind us of the beautiful sisters in Anderson's fairy tales, "each one of which was prettier than the other." Only individual tastes make choice easily possible. Many are new styles shown for the first time this week. There are elaborately fur and braid trimmed suits as well as the more conservative models. All the new shades are included. True $30 values, every one of them, except those that are worth $35.

Novel Charm In These Dresses For Every Occasion

Because the "composée" effect permits of the greatest variations the new models display most novel charm. The various combinations are the most numerous, as practical as they are pretty. Silk and party dresses are selling now as briskly as they should at the height of the season—undoubtedly because of the complete displays and attractive prices, to say nothing of the alluring styles.

A Sale of Wool Dress Goods

It's a sale "in season" and all the more valuable on that account. Old stock and left overs do not figure in these offerings.

It has been a long time since woolen dress goods have been so much used in Dame Fashion's favorite products—certainly never has this store presented these fabrics in greater variety or prettier effects. Every demand of Fashion is met by the present stock—the new Scotch Glen plaids, serges, crepes, broadcloths and other fashionable fabrics in Autumn's favored shades and color combinations.

To start the ball rolling we have made decided price reductions all along the line. In this choice and varied stock women will find their own particular needs, and at such prices that will delight their sense of wise economy. The reductions are bona fide, made to insure a very rapid sale, and are offered for this week only. Naturally, at these reductions, there can be no goods charged. Dressmakers will find an early call to their advantage.

ASKS SAFER PLACE THAN SMALL BOATS

U. S. Makes New Stipulation in Note to Germany on Frye Case.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The United States in a note dispatched to Germany today to be presented by Ambassador Gerard on the case of the American ship Wm. P. Frye that it is found necessary to destroy American ships carrying absolute contraband passengers and crew be removed to a safer place than small boats.

The American government accepts the German suggestion in reply to the American proposal concerning a commission to fix damages for the Frye, agreeing to dispense with the umpire and leave the case to two experts, one from each country. In agreeing to submit to arbitration the interpretation of the treaty of 1823 to determine whether or not Germany is in the right to destroy American ships in order to stop contraband traffic the American government holds that not only warning be given but that passengers and crew be saved, but small boats are not considered a "place of safety" within the meaning of international law. The United States has not insisted upon this heretofore with reference to Americans traveling on ships under a belligerent flag. Officials here, however, feel that the treaty was a specific arrangement between Germany and the United States expressly drawn for the purpose of protecting vessels and subject of either party in war time.

A telephone call sent the chemical of the fire department to Calhoun and Woodland avenue at 8:37 o'clock Tuesday morning, where defective electric wiring set fire to the building owned by Mart Rinehart. The damage amounted to $5.

THE STORY OF THE HIGH-SPIRITED FORD

Charles Thiesen, dealer in furnaces at 308 East Columbia street, has a high-spirited Ford as will presently appear. On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Thiesen parked his car in front of the store and went within, leaving the mettlesome car idly rumbling and snorting with impatience. The next that Mr. Thiesen knew was when some one poked a head in his doorway to ask him to come out and rope his runaway auto. For some reason the Ford got its gears shifted and the yowling being on it started forth to explode without a chauffeur. As it struck the street car tracks it was swerved from a coast a little south by east and canted across the thoroughfare and poked its nose into the wheels of a carriage standing in front of a blacksmith shop, knocking out a lot of spokes and doing other damage. The car was little damaged.

BAPTISTS MEET AT HAMMOND.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 12.—The eighty-third annual convention of the Baptist churches of Indiana began here today with about 500 delegates in attendance. The program today included the ministers' conference and the annual meeting of the woman's auxiliary.

111 VESSELS TIED UP AS CANAL CLOSES

Loss to Each by Delay and Longer Route Will Be $1,500 a Day.

New York, Oct. 12.—Shipping interests here were not greatly surprised by the announcement from Panama that Major General George W. Goethals had withdrawn the tentative date, November 1, of the Panama canal following the great slide of September 20.

Many New York steamship companies already had made arrangements to have their steamers, which have been held up by the closing of the canal proceed to their destinations by way of the straits of Magellan. This increases the time between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts by eighteen to fifty days. The American-Hawaiian Steamship company, which operates 18 vessels by way of the canal, has ordered all of them to proceed by the longer route. The Luckenbach Steamship company which has four vessels at the canal has ordered the transshipment of their cargoes across the isthmus by rail.

It was stated today that in all about closing of the canal and the loss to each was estimated at $1,500 a day. 111 vessels have been delayed by the

YOUNG ROCKEFELLER IS NOW IN CONTROL

Father Gives Son $34,000, 000 Block of Colorado Fuel and Iron.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Sufficient stock to control the Colorado Fuel and Iron company has passed into the hands of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.—a gift from his father, according to the Chicago Tribune today.

The gift of a big stock of the $34,000,000 common stock in the company was made, the paper understands, soon after the appearance of Mr. Rockefeller before the federal commission on industrial relations at its New York City hearing several months ago. For three days Mr. Rockefeller was under examination. The admission of John D. Rockefeller, sr., for the manner in which his son testified was made known soon after the close of the hearing and it was then that the presentation of stock was made, it is declared. Mr. Rockefeller was in Chicago yesterday for a four-hour visit after three weeks spent in the Colorado Fuel and Iron mining properties in Colorado.

BOMB-LADEN 'PLANE BATTLES AN AIR FOE

Supplies Thrilling Incident
in the Fighting in the Champagne.

Paris, Oct. 12.—(5:25 a. m.)—A battle between a French aeroplane loaded with 90 millimetre bombs and a fast double-engine German plane was one of the incidents of the battle in the Champagne when the allied offensive was at its height. The French machine had just set out to destroy a line of railroad, back of the German lines, when the German craft emerged from a cloud. The air battle began immediately. Almost as soon as it started the machine gun on the French aeroplane jammed.

"Dive, dive!" shouted the observer to the pilot.

The machine plunged in a swift curve, but the German, no less prompt, dove, too, and continued to fly around the French machine, which was hampered by the weight of the bombs it carried. After firing his carbine until his supply of cartridges was exhausted, it occurred to the French observer that an abrupt landing would be fatal to him and to his pilot unless the fuses were removed from the bombs. He coolly set about taking out the fuses and had just finished the task when a bullet struck him in the back and a moment later another shattered one wrist.

The pilot was hit in the eye by a piece of the propeller, which had been knocked off by a bullet. Again he was wounded in the abdomen and fainted. Then the observer seized the levers and guided the machine into the French trenches. Both the observer and the pilot have survived their wounds and the names of both have been proposed for the Legion of Honor.

REMAINS LAID TO REST.

Funeral services for Alexander Gonzales were held Tuesday morning.

Funeral services for Alexander Gonzales were held Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the parlors of Getz & Cahill and at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral. Interment was made at the Catholic cemetery. Six friends who were well acquainted with the young man served as pall bearers and a large number of acquaintances attended the services at the church.

A letter was received Tuesday morning from Alexander Gonzales, the father of the young man, stating that Mr. Weber, for whom his son worked, should give his boy a decent burial and send him particulars of the service.

The young man was a native of South America, and his father now holds a responsible position in Cuba. Mr. Gonzales, Jr., was employed at the Carl Weber drug store on South Fairfield avenue, and met his death nearly two weeks ago when he crashed into the brick building at Fairfield avenue and Brackenridge street.

ENORMOUS PROFITS PROVING THE LURE

War Munitions Makers in Readiness to Do Some Big Reaping.

By Gilson Gardner.
Washington, Oct. 12.—The enormous profits to be reaped by making war munitions required by the military preparedness program is responsible for the new corporations such as the $100,000,000 Midvale concern, headed by Wm. E. Corey, and the buying up of other concerns to consolidate with the Bethlehem company, headed by Charles M. Schwab.

Armor plate for warships and ordnance contracts offer rich pickings to private concerns so long as the government delays building its own armor plant and stays out of the ordnance-making business.

Simply Wonderful! The Fur Trimmed Tailored Suits at $15

A fur-trimmed suit for $15. It seems impossible, but they are really here, and good ones, too. The materials are whipcord, broadcloth, poplin and serge. The skirts are short and flaring, some have panel box pleats front and back; others are pleated models. The coats are fitted snugly through the shoulders and flare over the hips, others are straight little box coats. All the fashionable Autumn shades, African brown, Hunter's green, navy blue and black, and the fur is good quality.

We Are Specializing In Women's Tailored Suits at $25.00

Luxurious Fur-Trimmed Velvet Suits $25

In point of actual value—considering style, quality and fabric and perfection of tailoring—these suits cannot be duplicated at the price.

Black, navy, dark green and brown are the colors to be had in these unusual velvet suits, and they have the fashionable marten fur collars. The height of fashion as to designing—full flaring skirts, jaunty coats—you'll not find their equal anywhere.

Some beautiful suits at $25.00 have just been received. Among them you'll see:

Military braid on the skirt or at the edge of the coat.

Buttons placed in groups of two or three.

Circular and pleated skirts, some flaring us though they were wired or perhaps had hoops.

These are the characteristics which distinguish the new suits.

Not being satisfied with selecting the most attractive designs, the manufacturers have spared no effort in obtaining the best materials.

Whipcord, broadcloth, serge and gabardine in all the most attractive Fall colors, green, African brown, navy blue and black.

The active pallbearers were old associates of Mr. Houser on the Globe-Democrat. The honorary pallbearers were selected from the newspaper men of St. Louis and from business and political leaders.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it has a swelling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. It is not a cure, it is a permanent condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. President Wilson's military program is to be a compromise. He is trying to find what middle ground will be equally satisfactory to the militarists and the pacifists. This will be called "moderate preparedness." It is the white house at present that from $100,000,000 to $120,000,000 for the navy and an increase in the regular army to 200,000 men with a force of reserves will meet the requirements.

A conspicuous recent convert to the preparedness program for the United States is August Sejvan, distinguished internationalist from Sweden, who has been in the United States investigating thority which I believe to be good that about or perhaps before the time of the last contract of the Bethlehem company with Russia, there was a meeting in Paris of the representatives of the principal, if not all of the armor manufacturers of Europe and America. This was in 1891. Commenting on prices charged in Europe and America, Mr. Herbert said:

"These facts seem to lead to the conclusion that there is at least a friendly understanding or agreement among the principal manufacturers of the world that prices shall be maintained at about the same level."

It was at this time that the American armor ring sold armor to Russia for $249 a ton and at the same time charged the United States $612 for the same product. Secretary Daniels has repeatedly recommended that the government make its own armor, or at least compete with private concerns to make the private armor builder do business at a fairly reasonable price.

In the debate on preparedness to be contributed in the coming congress, a new voice will be heard. Organized

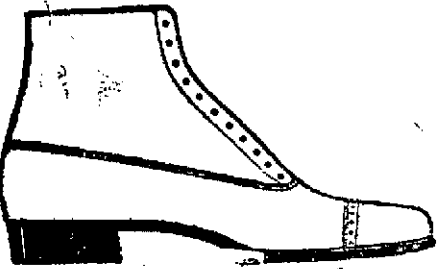

Secretary of the Navy Daniels sees trouble ahead. He would like congress to link up with its preparedness program authority to begin that much-talked-of and long-delayed government armor plant. The secretary is convinced that the armor makers are in a trust not only in the United States but all over the world. When the subject of armor bids was under consideration before the naval affairs committee last winter, the secretary appeared before the committee behind the closed doors of the committee room and told how he tried to get armor for the new dreadnaught "Pennsylvania." He said:

"When we came to the armor we rejected all the bids and were then absolutely in a situation from which it appears there was no relief. We cannot establish it in black and white, there is no doubt of an armor plate trust all over the world; that is to say the people abroad who make armor plate will not come here and submit bids because they know if they do our manufacturers will go abroad and submit bids. They have divided the world, like Gaul, into three parts."

Nor is this any new practice. As long ago as when Cleveland was president, Hilary A. Herbert, his secretary of the navy, said: "I am informed upon an

HEAVY MOVEMENT OF SUGAR BEETS

Wabash and C. H. & D. Deliver Many Car Loads to G. R. & I.

Judging from the volume of freight being sent to the sugar factory at Decatur and the greater movement that will come in a week or so the beet crop in the territory where sugar beets are grown is the heaviest in history. For the past three or four days the Wabash has delivered from eight to ten car loads of beets to the G. R. & I. for the Decatur factory, besides hauling many car loads to other factories in western Ohio every day. The beets being shipped through Fort Wayne and handled by the Wabash come from the vicinity of Woodburn and Gar Creek, on the Wabash and from points in western Indiana and western Ohio on the C. H. & D. When the business reaches the maximum point it will amount to double the present number of car loads.

HAD TWO FINGERS INJURED.

P. Trampel, employed at the Pennsylvania round house, sustained injuries last evening which will place him on the disability list for several days. He was engaged in putting a fire in an engine and the ash hoe, with which he was removing a large clinker, slipped and the second and third fingers of his right hand were caught between the middle and the front of the tank.

Grubb, of the Pennsylvania, who lost a part of one of his arms two weeks ago when he fell while running at the side of his engine in the east yards to adjust the airbrake apparatus on the tender, is again at his home, having gone there yesterday from the St. Joseph hospital. He is getting along nicely and will soon be up and around.

ENGINEER WOODEN VERY SICK.

Engineer Walter Wooden, of the Pennsylvania, is lying very sick at the St. Joseph hospital, where he was taken last Friday. Mr. Wooden had been sick in a Chicago hospital, being seized with an attack of acute indigestion while in that city. He recovered, however, and reported for duty and only made one or two trips when he suffered the second attack.

INSTALLING WATER TUBE BOILER.

William Yates, an erecting boilermaker for the Bass Foundry and Machine works, and a force of men are installing a water tube boiler at the city water station No. 1. The new boiler is an addition to the two now in service at the plant and when it is installed it will give the boiler department a horse power capacity of nearly 2,200.

HEARS OF FATHER'S DEATH.

H. C. Diem, of East Jefferson street, and Mrs. Diem will leave tonight for Lancaster, Pa., where they will attend the funeral of his father. News of the death of the aged man was received by Mr. Diem last night. H. C. Diem is assistant general foreman of the east car shops of the Pennsylvania.

VISITING SICK DAUGHTER.

L. H. Lepper, Pennsylvania blacksmith, left today for Sioux City, Iowa, where he will visit his daughter, who has been quite sick for some time. Mr. Lepper will bring his daughter to Fort Wayne if she wants to come and is able to make the trip.

SOLD BOILER AT GOSHEN.

Walter A. Barrett, salesman for the Bass Foundry and Machine company, yesterday secured an order from the Electric company at Goshen for a 400-horse power water tube boiler. This boiler will be an addition to the power plant at Goshen.

TWO MEN INJURED.

G. P. Drewitt, of 829 Archer avenue, had a thumb crushed yesterday and J. Schlenker had a gash cut in his head by a piece of pipe falling upon him. Both men are employed in the Pennsylvania shops.

the Wabash, is at Lima and Lima on business for the company today. Machinists Ed Ely and John Weikert, of the Pennsylvania tool room, are sick and off duty.

Pipefitter A. B. Schack, of the Pennsylvania, has gone to Bucyrus, O., to assist some linemen in placing wires. Art Reid, who has charge of the tool room at the Bass machine shop, is off duty to attend the funeral of a relative. Herman C. Proehl, Wabash section foreman, was in Peru Sunday to see Supervisor Charles Palmer, who is sick. After three or four nights off duty, Pennsylvania Yard Engineer A. J. Bressler resumed work last night.

P. M. Parker is absent from the Pennsylvania erecting shop on account of sickness. H. McNally, a helper in the Pennsylvania erecting shop for some time, resigned yesterday and took employment with the Doyle grocery. Apprentice R. W. Bryant, who received a cut in his head two weeks ago, resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Boilermaker C. F. Kaiser, of the Pennsylvania, is suffering with injured eyes, the result of looking at the bright light of an electric welder.

C. G. Epple Pennsylvania boilermaker, was off duty today on account of the funeral of a friend. He was one of the pallbearers.

S. E. Barr, Nickel Plate brakeman, was advised yesterday of the illness of his sister and immediately left for her home town.

J. Budryk, an electric welder at the Pennsylvania boiler shop, has returned from Pittsburgh, where he visited several days.

Pennsylvania Engineer C. A. Whitney who had been visiting friends at Canton, O., a week or more, reported for duty on the road this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Payne, Ohio, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. G. W. Sellers, of 1811 Clinton street. Mr. Sellers is assistant ticket receiver, in charge of the pay rolls, of the Pennsylvania.

Louis Fomier, a moulder, and William Stain, a moulder's helper, of the Bass Foundry, have been sick and off duty for a day or two.

Engineer W. E. Craven and Firemaning a few days' off duty to look after a few days' off duty to look after private business.

Mrs. David Ralphy and Miss Josephine Ralphy, wife and daughter of the retired Pennsylvania engineer, will leave for Martinsville, Ind., tomorrow to spend a week or two.

Fred Rothenberger resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania tin shop this morning. He recently returned from Bay City, where he attended the wedding of a relative.

Machinist E. W. Zilberman, who had his eyes injured by iron dust four or five days ago, was able to resume work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

C. F. Smith, who operates an electric welder at the Pennsylvania boiler shop, has recovered from injured eyes the result of looking at the welder while it was at work.

B. H. Hamm and Fred Webber, machinists at the Pennsylvania tool room, have consented to be the battery for a ball team in a game at Sheldon next Saturday against the Sheldon team.

A new directory board has been placed in the entrance to the office building of the Pennsylvania and the C. H. & D., formerly the Pennsylvania passenger station.

Hon. W. J. Vesey and Architect C. R. Wetherborg, of this city, and Hugh Ward, of Decatur, arrived home from Bathurst, Maine, this morning. They spent two weeks hunting in that country.

The steam hammer operated by E. W. Ranner at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is undergoing repairs and until the work is complete, Mr. Ranner and his gang will work at night on the big steam hammer. The gang is engaged in making billets.

Machinist A. J. Morell, who attended the corner stone exercises of the Elks' temple in Detroit Sunday, resumed his duties at the Pennsylvania tool room yesterday. Mr. Morell says the Elks' temple at Detroit, which is adjacent to the Masonic cathedral, will be a magnificent edifice.

Dr. J. M. Kells, of Columbus, will come here within the next week or two to take part in considering the application of William Emme, the cabinet-maker, for admission to the pension system. Mr. Emme is not seventy, but he is taking advantage of the disability clause, which permits retirement after passing the age of sixty-five years. Dr. Kells formerly resided here and knows pretty near everybody.

RALLY WEEK OBSERVED AT BETHANY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH THIS WEEK.

Bethany Presbyterian Church.

This week is Rally week at Bethany church. Every evening has a special rally feature. Tuesday evening the men of the West End Men's Forward Movement Bible Class have a social meeting, to which all of the men who are interested in the work in this part of the city, are invited.

Wednesday at 7:30 the mid-week service and the congregation is specially invited to this service. This is the mid-week family gathering of Bethany church.

Thursday, 7:30, the Intermediate C. E. has a social and business meeting. After the business session, there will be games and "cats."

Friday evening is the evening of fun. An entertainment will be given by the little people—the entire program being in their hands. As a part of the program and one of the main features, will be a "Tom Thumb Wedding," at the close of which the little people who have a part in the ceremony, will be served a wedding supper. After the entertainment there will be a social feature.

Last Sunday afternoon a number of the men of the church met at the church at 2 o'clock and went out two by two, some in autos and others following the injunction "We Walk," and distributed among the members of the congregation announcements of the week and invitation to attend the services.

Next Sunday will place the cap sheet on the week, when the Sunday school rally will take place at 9:30 a. m. At this service there will be graduation exercises from one department to the other, and other interesting features.

At 10:30 the congregation, with its friends, will gather for a home-coming service. At this service the communion will be partaken of and a few words suitable to the day spoken by the pastor or visiting friends.

The pastor is just entering upon the seventh year of service with this church.

The C. E. societies will hold their rally services at their regular hour of service, Junior at 2 p. m., Senior and Intermediate at 6:30.

At 7:30 the pastor will speak on "The Wandering Sheep," and will use the stereopticon to illustrate the subject.

IN THE CHURCHES

MORE MISSIONARIES AND FUNDS ARE NEEDED

Said Bishop Warne, of India, in His Address at the Trinity Church.

Although 42,000 people of India were converted last year there were 152,000 who wanted to be helped but no assistance could be given them on account of the lack of funds but mainly on account of the lack of missionaries and missionaries, said Bishop Frank Warne of the Methodist Episcopal church in his address at Trinity M. E. church, Monday evening. This was the closing service of the Methodist missionary campaign in this city. Similar meetings will be held in all the main cities of the United States in an effort to arouse interest in the work of Christianizing the heathen countries.

The bishop told that the work in India had progressed very rapidly in the past few years notwithstanding that the missionaries were only being paid the meager sum of $50 a year. He also told of the persecutions that were being carried on by the high caste Hindus and the Mohammedan leaders because the Christians refused to pay them large sums of money as they formerly did before they accepted Jesus.

The church was packed for the evening service and the collection taken for missionary work was exceptionally large. Bishop Warne is an interesting speaker and his earnest request to the people for their assistance in bringing light to those still in darkness seemed to touch the heart of every one present.

Bishop Warne was scheduled to give an address at the afternoon session but he was delayed in reaching the city and did not arrive until 4 o'clock. Dr. Walling Clark, of Rome, Italy; Dr. B. O. Peterson, of the Philippine Islands; Rev. J. M. Tynan, of Burma, and Rev. W. F. Pickett, of India, were present and spoke at both the morning and afternoon sessions.

TO GIVE ILLUSTRATED TALK.

President J. M. P. Metcalf Will Give an Address at Plymouth Congregational Church.

Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock at the Plymouth Congregational church President J. M. P. Metcalf, of Talladega college, in Alabama, will give an illustrated lecture of the educational work among the colored people. Talladega is one of the oldest negro schools and is today doing a great work along almost all lines of practical education. It is the most representative of all the work that the American Missionary society is doing for the negro race.

President Metcalf will show many views of the country, the people, their manners of living, the school, and its equipment, and many of the students in various grades of development. A silver offering will be received. Otherwise no admission charge.

OPERETTA AT ST. PAUL'S.

Lutheran League of City Will Give "Bul-Bul" Three Successive Nights.

An elaborate play will be rendered Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at St. Paul's Lutheran school hall Barr and Madison streets, when the members of the Lutheran City league will present the operetta "Bul-Bul." The cast is composed of forty-eight members. The eight leading roles will be played by Otto Koenig, Luella Feleberg, Frieda Wernuth, Fred Ropa, A. Kellerman, William Brandt, Waldemar Koch. These characters have been chosen from each society in the league which is composed of St. Paul's, Concordia, Emmanuel, Emmanuel, Zion, Redeemer and Trinity churches.

TO MEET AT THE Y. W. C. A.

Girls Interested in English, Stenography and First Aids to Beauty Hold Meeting.

All girls of the city who are interested in the English, Stenography and First Aids to Beauty classes are urged to attend a meeting to be held Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. building. The Spanish and French classes meet Friday evening with Miss Ruth Silcock at which time the organization will be perfected and a night suitable for all chosen. If not enough register these classes will not meet at all.

The tennis tournament which was staged by the Y. W. C. A., was finished Monday afternoon when Edith Kampe and Helen Hackius won from Ethel Marriot and Edith Hite in the doubles.

TO TAKE ACTION VS. SHOWS.

Certain Theaters Will Be Visited by Committee of Ministers.

The Fort Wayne Ministerial association will take action against certain theaters in this city within the next few weeks. The decision was reached at the session held late Monday afternoon at the First M. E. church. A committee was appointed which will investigate the "rotten shows" as the ministers termed it. It was stated that it was the burlesque shows which they were referring to.

Rev. C. O. Shirey, of Bethany Presbyterian church, read a paper on "Teaching Missions in the Church." Following the session, supper was served in the dining room of the church.

Social Side of Churches.

The St. Cecilia Circle of the Wayne Street M. E. church meets Friday afternoon with Mrs. Arthur Remmel, 1525 Spy Run avenue.

The Ladies' Social circle of the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church meets at the home of Mrs. Jamieson, 1509 Crescent avenue, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m.

The Ladies of St. Andrew's Catholic church will give a card party at the church Wednesday afternoon.

Social Side of Churches.

The West End circle of the Ladies Aid society of St. John Reformed church meets Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Louise Wiegman, 1321 West Jefferson street.

The Epworth league of the First M. E. church will hold its regular monthly business and social session at the home of Miss Dine, 1235 Sinclair street, Wednesday evening.

The College Sewing society of Emmanuel Lutheran church meets Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Zerull, of Hull street.

St. John C. E. Elects.

The annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of St. John Reformed church was held Monday evening at the church and officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Sophia Brandenburger; vice president, Henrietta Altkruse; secretary, Anna Gentner; treasurer, Elmer Bade; intermediate superintendent, Amelia Peters and librarian, Nora Hessert.

Ohio Official to Speak.

E. F. Fullington, state budget commissioner of Columbus, O., will speak before the members of the Men's club of the First Presbyterian church at the first fall meeting Friday evening. Lunch will be served at the close of the address.

"GAINS 22 POUNDS IN 23 DAYS"

Remarkable Experience Told by F. Gagnon—A Simple Way by Which Thin Men and Women Have Put on Healthy Flesh.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work. I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in 23 days."

"When I began to take Sargol," writes R. T. Sivelis. "I only weighed one hundred thirty-nine pounds. Now my weight has increased to 151 lbs. Everybody says that I am getting so fat."

"I never felt better in my life since I have been taking Sargol. The first two weeks I gained 10 lbs. and am gaining every day. Sargol makes me eat and sleep and I don't get up with a tired feeling any more," writes J. C. Weaver, and N. D. Sanderson adds, "when I started Sargol I weighed 147 lbs. and now weigh 160 lbs. Everybody is telling me 'how fat you have got in the last month.'"

When hundreds of men and women—and there are hundreds, with more coming every day—living in every nook and corner of this broad land, have voluntarily reported to weight increases ranging all the way from 10 to 25 pounds, given them by Sargol, you must admit, Mr. and Mrs. Sargol, that there must be something in this Sargol method of flesh building after all.

Hadn't you better look into it, just as thousands of others have done? Many thin folks say: "I'd give most anything to put on a little extra weight, but when someone suggests a way they exclaim, 'Not a chance. Nothing will make me plump. I'm built to stay thin.' Until you have tried Sargol you do not and cannot know that this is true."

Sargol has put pounds of healthy "stay there" flesh on hundreds who doubted and in spite of their doubts. You don't have to believe in Sargol, you just try it. It is a safe, reliable, and sure way to get your weight and your figure round out to pleasing and normal proportions. You weigh yourself when you begin and again when you finish and you let the scales tell the story.

Sargol is just a tiny concentrated tablet. You take one with every meal. It mixes with the food you eat for the purpose of separating all of its flesh producing ingredients. It produces these fat making elements in an easily assimilated form, which the blood can readily absorb and carry all over your body. Plump, well-developed persons don't need Sargol to produce this result. Their assimilative machinery performs its functions without aid. But thin folks, assimilation organs usually do not. This fatty portion of their food now goes to waste through their bodies like unburned coal through an open grate. A few days' test of Sargol in your case should surely prove whether or not this is true of you. Isn't it worth trying?

This picture intends only to represent a plump, well developed man and woman who would attract attention anywhere.

Peter Greek Has Singular Defense in Assault Charge.

Peter Greek, aged 17, was arraigned in the city court Tuesday morning on a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit criminal assault on Paulina Petrovski, who resides on Wabash avenue. Because young Greek's parents were not present and he had no lawyer to advise him in a case so serious, the hearing was postponed until Thursday and the youth's bond was fixed at $1,000. The alleged assault took place September 27 at the home of the complaining witness. Greek says he went to her home to make inquiry for a man and that the woman's limited knowledge of English caused her to misunderstand him to be making an insulting proposal. He declares he was not in the house and that the screen door was closed between him and the woman all the time during their conversation. Greek was arrested Monday by Sheriff A. C. Gladwin on a fact near Woodburn, where the lad had been employed. Greek's parents reside on Wabash avenue near the home of Mrs. Petrovski.

Stole Strikebreaker's Cap.

Tom Morgan, who has a police record here and is regarded by the local department as a bad man, was fined $5 and costs on a drunk charge. He was arrested Monday afternoon by Detective Sergeant Charles Spillner following an exploit in which Morgan had stolen the uniform cap from a strike-breaking conductor on a street car. A ticket punch and a letter recommending Morgan for employment on the car lines were found in possession of the prisoner. He also had two bottles of whisky.

Other City Court Cases.

Bert Bray, a colored man who came down from Garrett, Monday, to taste the hospitalities of Fort Wayne, overdid the job and went into a drunken sleep on the porch of an east side residence, where the police found him. He was allowed to go back to Garrett.

Robert Kuff, found very drunk and in possession of a bicycle that had been stolen from a second hand store downtown, was arrested at Taylor street and Broadway. He remembered little of his doings and was continued until Wednesday.

William Hlatton, another drunk, was continued until Wednesday, and Harry Baird, drunk, was turned loose.

Emma Lynch was still too ill from taking an overdose of medicine at the jail and her case on a drunk charge was again continued.

George Cramer, arrested at Knox, Ind., and brought back here by Detective Sergeant Spillner, was continued until November 30 on a child neglect charge. He and his wife have patched up peace and will try again to live together.

The hearing of Ben Warfield and Peter Laflinch on charges growing out of the conduct of the Warfield jewelry auction, were continued.

TRIED O'ROURKE HOME AGAIN.

What evidently was another attempt to burglarize the residence of William S. O'Rourke, 1401 Washington boulevard west, was frustrated by neighbors who saw a man working about rear windows of the residence with a flashlight early Monday morning. The same night an attempt was made to enter the residence of Miss Edna R. Davis, 1333 Washington boulevard west, when part of a window screen had been cut out before the robber took alarm and left.

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy is Home-Made

Essentially Prepared in a Few Minutes. Cheap but Unequalled.

Some people are constantly annoyed from one year's end to the other with a persistent bronchial cough, which is wholly unnecessary. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make you wonder what became of it. Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drugist, pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also lessens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflammation in a painful cough with remarkable rapidity. Ordinary coughs are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, winter coughs and bronchial asthma.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup mixture makes a full pint—enough to last a family a long time—at a cost of only 54 cents. Keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant. Easily prepared. Full directions with Pinex.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in vitamin, and is famous the world over for its ease, certainty and promptness in overcoming bad coughs, chest and throat colds.

Get your genuine Ask your drugist for 2½ ounces Pinex, and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

STATE REGULATION DEFENDED BY THORNE

Opposes Tendency Toward Federal Control in Rail Rates.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 12.—Vigorously defending state regulation in its relation to business and particularly to railroad rates as opposed to what he characterized as a tendency toward complete federal regulation, Clifford Thorne, president of the National Association of Railway Commissioners, in his annual address at the organization's convention here, said today that the issue between federal and state regulation was vital and was based on fundamental conceptions of government.

The relative merits of a strong centralized government and a federated government were reviewed by the speaker, who urged the retention of regulatory power by the states as a distinctive part of the "great American experiment" of the federal plan.

"Too much 'nationalism' is just as wrong as too much 'states' rights,'" Thorne said.

"It is not this government as one nation, not the several states, but the combination in one federal plan that has rendered such a distinct contribution to the welfare of humanity. It is this federal plan that must be most jealously guarded. A tendency one way or the other towards centralization or towards decentralization, is dangerous."

"For several years there has been gradually developing in this country a sentiment in favor of wiping out state lines," said Mr. Thorne. "An agitation, partly spontaneous and partly inspired by interested persons, has been carried on to support a change in our judicial decisions relative to the powers of a state to regulate business."

"It is now vigorously claimed that the time has arrived for the practical abolition of all state regulation. Such a change in the American plan of government would be of stupendous importance."

"The issues of today concern vast property interests, and the future policies of state and nation on many grave questions of business are virtually concerned."

After reviewing the Minnesota rate case and the decision of the United States Supreme Court, Mr. Thorne said: "The court said that the question as to whether federal regulation of commerce shall supplant state regulation is not a question for the judiciary to determine; it is legislative and not judicial in character. It now becomes, not a question of precedent or of statute, but one of expediency, of wisdom."

"Within the next twenty-five years substantially all our commercial affairs will be carried on by companies doing both state and inter-state business," said Mr. Thorne. "What is good for railroads will be good for others. Shall we abandon our state governments, so far as the regulation of business is concerned? Here is an issue which strikes at fundamentals; which has to do with the method of government."

"In striving after the new, we frequently fail to realize the intrinsic value of the old. What is the fundamental characteristic of our government? It is the creation of a nation, large and strong enough to assert its independence among the world powers; at the same time combined with a form of government securing real tangible home rule to the various independent sovereignties making up that nation."

"If the national government is permitted to gradually absorb those functions formerly exercised by the states, it will only be a question of time until some great evil will demand some great remedy. Agitation will follow agitation. There will be no opportunity to try out the new proposal; the nation as a whole must adopt it or reject it."

"We believe the federal plan, as conceived by our fathers, is better than the new nationalism. We believe the states are a distinct factor in our scheme of government."

"This federal plan is a sort of safety valve against political and industrial revolution; and it is the greatest ever devised by the makers of government."

Tracing the history of railroad regulation, Mr. Thorne pointed out that "practically every important advance step in the regulation of railroads, corporations and great consolidations of our generation, has originated with the states," and called attention to the establishment of state railroad commissions with power to fix maximum rates in 1887, seventeen years before the same power was granted to the interstate commerce commission.

"As one state after another finds the action of their neighboring commonwealth to be wise and good," he said, "they have followed her, and adopted similar provisions. In this way, progress or reform is gradually brought out in the nation as a whole. The states form a sort of experiment station; and where they have gone wrong, the courts are quick to check them, or there is developed a tremendous public sentiment in the country as a whole, which quietly destroys that which is not wise."

"In view of the remarkable history of the origin of these movements, it is little wonder that the carriers are extremely solicitous in their efforts to prevent, and to remove the possibility of further advance steps in the different states."

Answering the argument that the railroad transportation business is of such a national character that it requires a single national tribunal to regulate it, Mr. Thorne said:

"One sentence will contain an answer to claims of this character, that it is difficult to separate the expenses on local and through hauls. Even after you have removed the state lines, the problem of reasonable local rates still remains."

"The real issue is practical," he said, "rather than theoretical in character. It is not whether we shall abolish all state regulation; but, instead, whether this or that is a proper function to be performed by the states. It is a wholly new and unheard of proposition to do away with state regulation. This is a doctrine that jeopardizes our institutions."

"The great benefit urged on behalf of exclusive national control is uniformity. But there is something even better and more important than uniformity and that is wise regulation. Rates may be uniformly high or uniformly low. Rules of service may be uniformly harsh and rigid, or uniformly lax and weak. Proof that they are uniform does not prove that they are just."

"The real problem is how to get wise regulation. Will a strong centralized government bring the best results, or is the federal plan—joining national and state control—preferable? The issue concerns the method of government, one of the profound problems at the basis of all organized human life."

American manufacturers of lead pencils now have the business of the far east practically to themselves.

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that has been used for many years with great success. Get from your drugist 1 oz. of Peppermint (Double strength) and add to it 4 pt. of hot water, and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostril should open, air passages of your head clear up so you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough or hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

FIND WAY TO DODGE THE "BUSY" SIGNAL

Phone Wire With No Central Connects White House and Galt Home.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Any lingering doubt of the intensity of the presidential love affair was dispelled today when it became known that Mr. Wilson has had a private telephone wire installed between the white house and the residence of his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, in Twentieth street.

Mrs. Galt now monopolizes the daily official program of the chief executive of the nation. When the president is not dining with Mrs. Galt at the white house, calling on Mrs. Galt at her residence, driving with Mrs. Galt, golfing with Mrs. Galt, or "seeing Mrs. Galt home" from church or evening entertainment, he is communicating with Mrs. Galt over the new private wire.

Anyone who has encountered the "busy signal" for an hour at a time in endeavoring to telephone the residence of a prospective bride and the office of a prospective bridegroom will realize the burden of that private wire. Also, anyone who has inadvertently crossed wires into the telephone conversation of a newly engaged pair will realize the value of the precautions taken by the president to shield his fiancée from the public.

The private wire, a mile in length, runs from the dressing room of the president to the boudoir of Mrs. Galt. At any time, day or night, that either is seized with the desire to talk to the other the wish is gratified simply by lifting the receiver from the hook.

There is no switchboard, no "central," no "wrong number," no "busy please call again," no servants carrying summonses to the phone. When the boudoir phone rings in Twentieth street Mrs. Galt knows that the president "is on the wire;" when the dressing room phone rings at the white house the president answers in person, for he knows that it is not another "filing cabinet" asking for a job. And he knows there will be no eavesdroppers, accidental or otherwise, on that particular telephone wire.

The order to install the private wire was received by the local telephone company last Friday as the president and Mrs. Galt departed for New York. The president and his fiancée had their first talk over the private wire Saturday night after Mrs. Galt returned home from the dinner at the white house.

QUITS NOISY CURB FOR THE QUIET WAR

"Enough" Cries Broker Who Cleaned Up Quarter Million.

New York, Oct. 12.—Though the sun shone ever so brightly, there'll be gloom on the curb and the shouts of the stock manipulators in Broad street, even though excitement runs mountain high, will bear something of a plaintive tone, for round and merry Fred Schawel is going to quit 'em. He quits with pork ets bulging, for the "war brokers" he led into Broad street have all proved Ladies Bounding—about a quarter of a million, they figure it on the curb, and Fred Schawel has decided now that he would like to see some of the war itself, with a little business in foreign securities on the side.

Schawel will probably not find the change startling, for what are the howlings and crashings of European shells and bombs to one who has fought long and stoutly under the roar and screaming of the curb?

There's an adage current on the street that "the bear gets a little, the bull gets a little, but the hog gets none." But that anybody should ever live up to it—that, for instance, the

HOW TO BE SLIM

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be haunted at an account of your fat, but go to any good druggist and get a box of Oil of Kerosene capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.

It costs little, is absolutely harmless and I can assure a week's trial should convince anyone that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unsightly fat.

MEAT PRODUCTION OF AMERICA AMPLE

Will Easily Meet Demands of Consumer, Says Live Stock Journal Man.

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—Predicting that the production of meat in America will easily meet the needs of the consumer, Jay R. Brown, editor of the Chicago Daily Farmer's and Drovers' Journal, today reviewed the live stock situation, before the convention of the American Meat Packers' association, here.

The speaker admitted that there is now "no abundance of live stock in the country, measured by former supply and demand standards," but he asserted there is sufficient when the present demands are considered.

Lean industrial years, criticisms of packing house conditions and the recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease, he asserted had contributed to a lesser meat diet and had kept the balance between production and demand even better STABLE than it would have been.

More economical management of live-stock production was advocated by the speaker, who also dwelt on the necessity of eradicating the foot and mouth disease and adopting restrictive measures in combating the spread of tuberculosis in live stock herds.

Methods of utilizing waste fats in packing houses were discussed by Maurice J. Leach, who insisted that a scientific test of all waste materials was a necessity for economic operation of packing plants.

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It.

In the spring of 1895 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent, simply tell your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Don't fail! Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. No. 41 B. Gurney Building, Syracuse, N. Y.

PITCHER FOR TODAY
IS THE PROBLEMCan Anyone Fill the Shoes
of the Mighty
Alexander?

Boston, Oct. 12.—The statute books of Massachusetts name Oct. 12 as a legal holiday in memory of the birth of Christopher Columbus. Unwritten law in Boston stamped the day this year as a holiday in honor of the world series baseball contenders. Another tremendous crowd thronged the approaches to Braves field for the fourth game of the test between the Red Sox and the Phillies and countless thousands had no other plan for the day than to be where they could follow the play. The crowd early assumed proportions greater than yesterday. The weather was pointing to the south promised even more comfortable weather than that yesterday.

The balance of the series having swung in favor of the Red Sox, two games to one by their ninth inning victory yesterday, the contending teams went into the fourth tilt today with a new mental adjustment. The Phillies were forced into a defensive position, in which they were beset by an all important question, a problem of pitching. The feonclastic Red Sox had weakened their faith in the pitching prowess of the Quaker idol Alexander, who was felled from his high place yesterday before the hailing of Boston bats. When he toppled the Bostonians moved into an advantage which worried Manager Moran and brought out the necessity of finding a successor for the dominant part which Alexander had filled in his campaign plans for the world's championship. Although the Boston lead was only a single game, the problem of the Philly leader was no simple one. Another defeat today would put the Red Sox within one victory of gaining the title, with possibly three games to play, and for those three games Foster, Leonard and Shore are available in turn.

Two leading Philly twirlers untired in the series were subjects of consideration by Manager Moran. Chalmers, a right-hander, veteran of several league campaigns, was thought to be the one most likely to try to stop the rush of the Red Sox. His delivery, which sends the ball to the plate in a low and evasive line, cutting corners closely, has been successful to an unusual degree at times. Manager Moran, in fact, was quoted today that he would have Boston on Saturday but for an arm which he feared would operate to his disadvantage. Eppa Rixey, the elegant and erratic left-hander, was the other possibility. Similarly doubt existed as to the choice of Manager Carrigan said he felt certain southpaw, who played a prominent part in the pitching which brought the team to a championship, has not yet pitched in the series. Leonard's success against the Phillies demolished the theory that they would fall heavily upon left-handers and Manager Carrigan said he left certain that Rixey could win if he were started. But the Boston manager also mentioned Shore as a possible choice, and it was thought that the latter would be turned against the Phillies to take advantage of what he had learned of their weakness at bat in the first game of the series. Although Boston lost this game, Shore was credited by many with having out pitched Alexander.

Carrigan said that no matter whether Shore or Rixey went into the game he would not himself be in the lineup this afternoon. As catcher for Leonard yesterday he was a big factor in the former's pitching, which retired the Phillies in order after the third inning. The probable lineup for today's game:

Sight of the great lines of men and boys stretching out from the entrances to the Braves field was a pleasing prospect to the players as they went to their dressing rooms this morning. It was the last game in which they were to share in the proceeds, the national commission does limiting players' participation to four games. It was believed that today's spoils army would not be less than that of yesterday, which numbered 42,300 paid admissions, the receipts totalling

Mahan, Harvard's Star Booter, Shows How to Drop-Kick.

FIRST OF SERIES OF PICTURES POSED BY EDDIE MAHAN, HARVARD CAPTAIN, AND ONE OF THE GREATEST PLAYERS THE GRIDIRON HAS PRODUCED, SHOWING HOW HE PLAYS FOOTBALL.

(By Eddie Mahan, as told in an interview with Brown Holmes, special sport writer.)

In making the drop kick I do not stand erect and receive the ball from the center at chest height, as is sometimes taught. Of course, a lot depends on where the ball is passed by the center, but my system is to stoop and receive the ball even with my right knee fas

Two steps forward are taken, starting with the right foot as shown in the middle picture. As the second step is taken, the right foot is in position for the toe, as the ball is dropped to the ground, to be driven into the oval.

I never completely straighten up until after the kick. I find that by raising the body partly, then leaning forward again or I set the ball, I get more "drive" into the ball and more accuracy than if I simply caught the ball at the chest, dropped it and booted.

The toe should strike the ball immediately after the oval hits the ground—when the ball is about an inch from the ground on the upbound.

(The next picture will show how Mahan punts).

$52,191. In each case these figures constituted new additions to world series and other baseball records.

Figuring from such a basis for today's game, members of the team which wins the series will receive about $2,700 each. The loser's share will amount to $2,500 each. One or two previous series have brought in greater returns to the players, the lack of space at the Philadelphia park being too great to be offset by the record receipts at Braves field. The fans who made the last rush through the gates of Braves field today had formed in line soon after yesterday's game was finished or had purchased places from those who had held them since that time. The lines were longer than on the preceding day. Hundreds of clerks and salesmen were early on the scene to get choice seats for their holiday outing.

There was no line awaiting for reserved seats, all reservations having been disposed of yesterday. Speculators, however, had picked up some tickets from those who saw yesterday's game, and who wished to turn over their seats for the remaining two possible games at a small profit. These were to be had at prices within reach of most grandstand holders. The reasonableness of the speculators' demands, it was thought, may have been influenced by the fact that vigilance yesterday so reduced their operations that a number of grandstand seats were unoccupied.

BRAVES PARK SEATS
JUST FORTY THOUSAND

Boston, Mass., Oct. 12.—The official attendance figures given out by the national commission prove that the seating capacity of the new Braves park is below 40,000 instead of the 45,000 claimed. There is no questioning the figures given out, because the players are paid their share on that basis and the figures were 42,300.

There were more than 2,000 spectators standing up in deep center, where a space was fenced off for the overflow from the bleachers. Not a seat was vacant anywhere, so far as could be discovered. And some were standing up in the stands.

It was the greatest crowd that ever saw a world's series game, and that means the greatest crowd in the history of the game, because attendance figures are credible only when the national commission takes charge of things and pays everybody off on the figures it gives out. The largest previous crowd was at the Polo grounds when the new Brush stadium was first built, and it numbered 35,251.

FRIARS HAVE HARD
BATTLE NEXT SUNDAY

The Friar footballers are going to have the real thing to bump against next Sunday, according to the word that comes from Muncie. The Muncie aggregation, that proved second best in the state meet last year, has strengthened considerably, and claims the state championship. It has wallowed everything that has stacked up against it this year, and its coming with bulging bank rolls to back up their belief next Sunday.

The Friars have run into two other mighty good dates, the Cornell-Hamburgs of Chicago, on the 24th of this month, and the Columbus Panhandles on Thanksgiving. Both of them are there, and both have high honors among their own people.

It is state in France that, whereas the total output of shells in Germany is now 250,000 daily for use on two fronts, the combined shell supply of the allies, from France, Britain and America, is 300,000 for use on the western front alone.

NOTRE DAME NEEDS
A LOT MORE STRENGTH

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 12.—A big improvement remains to be made in the Notre Dame football team if Nebraska is not to walk all over the gold and blue standard, according to a statement made by Jose C. Harper.

"Our team improved wonderfully over the Alma game," he said in discussing the Notre Dame 32-0 victory over Haskell Indians Saturday, "but it still has a long way to go to class with the Cornhuskers. We have two weeks in which to get ready and hope by that time to have repaired most of the more prominent faults which were brought out in Saturday's game."

There is no game on the Notre Dame schedule for next Saturday, so the next two weeks will be devoted to direct preparation for the Cornhuskers at Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 25. No chances in the lineup are at present contemplated, Harper says.

It appears as if the disposition of Phelan and Bergmann, the two rivals for quarterback, was decided Saturday. The former played quarter and handled the game in good shape, considering it was his first big game. Bergmann was played in right half and carried a thorough trial there by his brilliant running in the second half. Bergmann played an in and out game at full, but demonstrated that he is coming slowly but surely into his own at his new job.

WHY HARD SLUGGERS ARE NOT THE BEST BASEBALL BATSMEN

Season Proves That Batter Who "Hits 'Em a Mile" Doesn't Make the Best Run-getter—Fielders Are Always On Their Tiptoes Waiting For the Long Raps Of the Powerful Boys—Excellent Base Running Coupled With the Scientific Placing Of Hits Is Most Important Attribute

The batter who "hits 'em a mile" isn't necessarily the one who will lead his league.

It is a paradox that some of the hardest hitters in baseball are but average hitters considered from a batting percentage angle.

The leading batter in the American or National league today generally will be the man with the speed to beat out infield hits.

A hit is a hit. A long single to left field is a pretty thing, but it counts not one iota more in the final reckoning of batting percentages than the triple-hopping slow infield bludge which the batter beats to first base.

That is why there has come to be a gospel of speed in baseball.

Connie Mack and McGraw were first to preach it, or more correctly, to practice it.

The man who can reach first base the oftenest will of course be the man who scores the most runs, and runs win ball games.

Ty Cobb isn't in a class with Sam Crawford as a hitter. Judged upon the sheer power of bat imploding on the ball, Eddie Collins can't class with Hans Wagner as a straightaway hitter, yet he will year in and year out equal the "Flying Dutchman" in percentage.

There are batters of the Duffy Lewis and Derrill Pratt type who hit a ball as hard as anyone, yet they seldom are in the "charmed circle" of hitters or the .300 class as it is known.

FATE OF SLUGGERS.

It is not hard for these slugging ball hitters to hit out long drives, but what with the speed of the outfielders and the fact that they know how to play for these slugging hitters it is exceedingly difficult for the Zimmermans, Wagners, Koneys, Pratt, et al.; to drop one long drive in six into safe territory.

There is nothing prettier than a long hit ball. There is nothing more graceful than an outfielder speeding at full tilt after the ball and catching it.

For sheer powerful hitting and failure to realize upon the same in percentage way the writer recalls a game recently between the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals in which Heinie Zimmerman hit four balls probably as hard as any four ever were consecutively hit, yet he wasn't even credited with a safe hit. In other words in the percentage reckoning he is accredited merely with four times at bat and no hits and that hurts his batting average. Yet more beautiful hitting never was seen.

A CASE IN POINT.

Robison Park in St. Louis is one of the largest playing fields in the major leagues. The left field bleachers are so distant from the plate that in 15 years but one ball has been hit into it, that by Sandow Mertes, who was favored by the wind, or his powerful drive even would have fallen short. Zimmerman hit the first ball so hard that he drove Outfielder Bescher to the fence after it. On his second trip to the plate in the fourth inning Zimmerman sent "Chief" Wilson almost to the score-board after a drive that was even more tremendous than his first effort for the scoreboard is 50 feet further from the plate than the left field bleachers.

On his third time at bat Zimmerman hit a drive that sailed like a low, singing golf ball.

It was pointed between Bescher and Wilson and were it to get away it would have been a triple surety.

Wilson and Bescher raced toward the fence and in a final desperate lunge Wilson got his hand on the ball and held it. There probably was more power in this drive than either of the other two. The ball was more squarely met and Wilson's catch was grand larceny—nothing less!

SOME ZIMMERMAN DRIVES.

On his fourth trip to the plate Zimmerman hit a ball that looked as though it were to go over the right field fence and into the pavilion for a home run. Right Fielder Long turned tail and raced toward the fence. The descending ball fell just inside of the barrier and with his back against the wall Long clutched and held the ball.

In many of the major league parks Zimmerman's first three drives would have been three consecutive home runs. His fourth one probably would have been an out anywhere, for the right-field fence at Robison Field is not a distant one. Yet the following morning in the official score Zimmerman merely was credited with being four times at bat without a hit.

His followers in Chicago who mourned his hitless day could have no idea of the powerful drives he did hit, which were not safeties.

Ty Cobb leads the American league year after year because he is a wonderfully fast man on his feet, but he is not a powerful hitter. Like all batters he occasionally does "get hold" of one and it flies. But more often than not Cobb's hits are singles through the infield or infield singles that he beats to first by his tremendous spurt to that bag.

ED KONETCHY

TOMMY LEACH

Cobb also is able to make many doubles because a ball that goes through the infield and is out of time for an outfielder Cobb will take two bases on. If the ball is near the left field line it is almost impossible for even a fast outfielder to recover the horse-bide, turn and throw to the keystone sack in time to out the fleet Georgian.

OLD "WAHOO'S" SYSTEM.

Crawford, who lacks Cobb's pedal celerity, hits drive after drive that chases outfielders to fences, yet they are merely caught flies. But they can't catch 'em all the time and that is why old "Wahoo Sam" bats his 300 year after year.

Both kinds of hitters have their value. Crawford's awful slugging would be less valuable to the Detroit club if Cobb usually was not to be found on the bases and in a position to take advantage of whatever Crawford did.

Getting on base is an important art in itself and men of the Eddie Collins, Ty Cobb, Max Carey, Miller Huggins type have this reduced to a science.

Put these shrewd base runners in motion and they are in position to reap a full dividend on whatever the slugging gentleman usually to be found in the clean-up position, fourth from the top, may do.

Gandil, J. Collins, Caldwell, Koney, Oldring, Hinchman, "Red"

"RUBE" OLDRING

Smith, Ludrus, Cravath, Schulte and Veatch are men who hit the ball as hard as ever a man did who led the major league in sticking, yet none of these have been able to crawl up that high because the outfielders play far back for them and are in a position to handle their drives.

A Chicago baseball expert said he had one wish. That would be to see Heinie Zimmerman play one year in a minor league where the parks are small and the fences close to the plate. How many pedestrians outside the park Heinie would hit in a year is matter for conjecture!

REAL ESTATE DEALER TALKS TO MERCHANTS

Lee J. Ninde Speaks on "Organization of Business Bodies."

"The most fatal infantile ailment of an organization is lack of interest," Lee J. Ninde, president of the Real Estate exchange, told the members of the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association, Monday evening, at their first monthly dinner at the Commercial club. Mr. Ninde spoke on the subject of "Organization of Business Bodies."

"The life of an organization such as your body and the real estate exchange is exactly like that of a human being," he said. "During its infancy it will encounter the teething, whooping and measles stages and if it passes all of those successfully it is likely to mature and become strong. If not it will die an early death or remain a weakling all the remainder of its existence."

"I believe that organizations of the kind of ours should meet more frequently for by so doing, the experience of the exchange has shown, the ties that bind the members together are strengthened. Also, as representative men of the city of Fort Wayne, you should take an interest in everything of a public nature that affects the city's welfare."

The meeting was presided over by President Charles A. Niebergall. Dinner such as the one Monday evening will be given once a month.

ation, read a letter Tuesday morning which he had received from President Mahon, answering the communication several of the carmen had received some days ago from J. J. Brennan, superintendent of transportation, in which he asked them what assurance they had that the Amalgamated association would support their families or its officers would or could do anything for them. Mr. Mahon declared that the last increase in wages that the local carmen had received had been due to the agitation started in this city at that time by the international association.

Mr. Colgan stated that President Mahon had no intention of coming to Fort Wayne at this time, but that if it was thought his services were needed he would come.

An officer or dummy was found Monday night on West Craghton avenue straddling the street between the car tracks and the curb. Whether it was placed there to frighten a motorist or an automobile driver is not known.

May Start Bus Line.

A movement was launched at the meeting of the Federation of Labor, Monday evening which was attended by representatives from practically every labor union in the city, for the organization of a company to operate a jitney bus line. This action is to be taken in the event the traction company refuses to accede to the demands made before the strike started. Large cars are to be purchased. It was declared that as soon as the city felt financially able, the entire system is to be turned over to it at cost price for operation.

Each Man to Help.

Each of the 8,000 union men in Fort Wayne will be asked to contribute fifteen cents a week to finance the strike of the carmen, the following committee have been named to visit each local union, and explain the proposition: C. W. Krohn, president; Ernest Arick, knitter; J. B. LaTourrette, James Karmie, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; J. J. Straub, carpenter; T. T. Drew, painter; Edward Kibinger, clerk; E. F. Brokaw, plumber; Christ Hahn, stage employee; J. C. Werkanen, barber; J. J. Perrey, horseshoer; F. J. Schwanz, sheet metal workers; A. C. Berger, linemen; Charles Rundell, sheet metal workers; Carl Becker, blacksmiths, and Edward Miller, printers.

Every Woman Should Know

There are three entirely different kinds of baking powder, namely:

- (1) Cream of tartar, derived from grapes;
- (2) Alum, a mineral acid; and
- (3) Phosphate of Lime.

(1) Baking Powders made of Cream of Tartar add to the food the same healthful qualities that exist in the ripe grapes from which Cream of Tartar is derived.

(2) Baking Powders made of Alum add to the food some form of Alum or Aluminum, a heavy metal, wholly foreign to any natural article of food.

(3) Phosphate of Lime is made from rock or by burning bones which by chemical action are changed into a white, powdered acid. It is used in baking powder only because it is a cheaper substitute.

A Cream of Tartar powder never contains Alum or Phosphate.

Every housekeeper should read the names of the ingredients printed on the label and know what she is using.

Refuse to Ride.

It was announced at the meeting that the union men residing in Lafayette, Loganport and Peru have signified their intention of walking or riding jineys until such time as the trouble here is adjusted.

Twenty-six dollars were received from the Brewery Workers' local union, No. 62. This amount is to be paid each week until the strike is over. Fifteen dollars were donated by the Plasterers' union.

Complaint was made to the police Monday afternoon by W. H. Berger, manager of the Union Co-operative Department store, that while going east on Main and Center streets, a street car ran into an auto delivery truck from the store badly damaging it. He said that both the motorman and conductor were inside the car, which was going at a terrific rate of speed.

Motorman Loses Control.

When Pontiac car No. 205 stopped at Brackenridge and Calhoun streets a few minutes before six o'clock Monday night, car No. 177 and of the East Craghton variety, lost control and plunged into the back of it. The forward car had half a dozen women in it, and they made a break for the door, but the conductor in his most polished guise made them to remain seated, and in the meantime backed up against the door. No one was injured, and the only damage was a large sized crumpling of the rear of No. 205. The employees of a number of neighboring houses took off their white aprons and hurried to the scene of the festivities, there to judge in the merry quips that were being flung and forth.

The carmen will march from the Harmony hall to the Empress theater Tuesday evening in a body, leaving the hall at 7:45 o'clock.

Division No. 119, Order of Railway Conductors, at the meeting last Sunday voted $50 to the striking street car trainmen and promised further aid if it is needed.

May "Spoil" Obituary.

Physicians who visited Mr. Stackpole today came away from his bedside smiling at his suggestion that he might get well and thus "spoil" a number of good obituaries. His courage has never left him yet, and during the four days of his illness. Ordinarily the disease runs its fatal course in this length of time. Today, however, Mr. Stackpole was still optimistic although he repeated his assertion that if his time had come he was ready to die.

The division of industrial hygiene of the state laboratory department issued a statement setting forth that the disease is not readily recognized and that all persons handling horse hair, wool, goats hair and goat skins should give immediate attention to even the slightest skin abrasion through which they might become infected. How Mr. Stackpole became infected has not yet been determined. It is believed, however, that he contracted the disease by leaning frequently against a hitching post in Riverside his home, to which farmers were accustomed to tie their horses.

HELD FOR ASSAULT ON GIRL OF EIGHT

John Hobbs, aged 30, a farm hand in the employ of William A. Grotrian, of Madison township, is in the county jail on a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit criminal assault on Hazel Grotrian, eight-year-old daughter of his employer. The alleged attempt was made early Sunday morning, but was discovered by Mrs. Grotrian in time to prevent serious consequences to her little girl. Hobbs was found in the child's room. After being discovered he ran away and was captured some hours later by Deputy Sheriff Herman Pranger and Julius Mills, who pursued him in an automobile. This is said to have been the second attempt of Hobbs on the child.

FREE PLANTS AND BULBS ARE READY

People of Fort Wayne May Help Themselves to Them in Parks.

The annual free distribution of plants and bulbs by the park department to the people of Fort Wayne is now on and persons who want them are now at liberty to help themselves to what remain in the public parks. Park Superintendent Carl J. Getz announced Tuesday that his department had removed all that were desired to be cared for in the city greenhouses and that such as were left in the parks were at the disposal of all who would go after them. There are five or six kinds of geraniums, begonias, salvia, eleocharis, carnations and gladioli, plants that were used in the carpet beds of the parks. Some of those remaining are chrysanthemums and those who go first will have the pick.

MAYOR'S VETO WILL STAND.

Mayor Hesse's veto of the "strike-breakers' ordinance" will stand. The council committee of the whole Monday night was given an opinion by City Attorney Charles that such an ordinance would require the approval of the state public service commission in order to become effective and might fail of ratification by that body. Councilman Herman Korte, of the Tenth ward, author of the measure to require the traction company to put its cars in charge only of men of fourteen days' experience on the local lines, may revise to pass it over the veto, but the motion stands a poor show to command two-thirds of the elected members of the council.

RICHMOND WANTS SCORE CARDS.

Secretary J. H. Gilpin, of the health department, has received from C. L. Hutchins, state food inspector for Indiana, a request for samples of each of the cards on which the scores are made for restaurants, groceries and meat markets in this city. The Fort Wayne system of scoring is said to be the best in the country and has produced notable results. Inspector Hutchins writes that the city of Richmond contemplates adoption of the Fort Wayne system.

PONTIAC STREET IS OPEN.

The Pennsylvania railroad has so far completed work at the Wayne Trace subway as to throw open Pontiac street at the point. About 400 feet of the thoroughfare has been paved with concrete to join it at Wayne Trace, which is being improved south of the subway. The subway work will be completed in a short time and the city's paving of Wayne Trace north of the subway is going forward well so that the thoroughfare will be in commission before settled cold weather comes.

PUSSY'S NINE LIVES TAKEN

The fact that Mrs. Archer's couch was in that corner of the room farthest from the gas burner and flanked on the one side by the door and on the other by a window, through the cracks of which some air penetrated the room, probably saved her life.

Mrs. Archer has been alone for some days, a son who resides with her much of the time, having gone to the country to work.

and ten rapid fires. The Russian advance is being pushed vigorously.

The victory for the Russians reported by the Progress was won in eastern Galicia where the troops of Emperor Nicholas started a formidable offensive, coincident with the opening of the Teutonic campaign against Serbia. The attack is being made north of the Rumanian border and may have been undertaken with a view to the political effect on the Balkan situation. The Stripa river is a branch of the Dniester, extending to the north, to the west of Tarnopol.

NEW BALKAN CAMPAIGN.

Bulgarian Invasion of Serbia Adds to Momentous Importance.

London, Oct. 12.—(1:19 p. m.)—The new Balkan campaign came to the fore still more prominently today with the announcement that Bulgarian troops had invaded Serbia. Thus far few details have been received of this movement, which has been generally expected.

On the eastern front the Germans are still hammering at the positions before Divinsk, their latest effort being to force the Dvina river ten miles above the city. Elsewhere Russian forces are attacking fiercely, particularly in eastern Galicia. Here they are reported to have won a considerable victory.

All accounts of military observers testify to the accuracy and efficiency of the Russian artillery, which is now demonstrated beyond a doubt to have recovered from the handicap caused by shortage of ammunition. The failure of the Germans to capture Divinsk after a month's fighting is characterized in England as evidence of remarkable regeneration of the Russian forces. General Ivanoff has regained more than half the ground evacuated after the loss at Lutsk.

The presence on the Caucasian front of Grand Duke Nicholas is expected to revivify operations there, which have been inactive, pending the change of command.

Activity of British submarines in the Baltic is extending and it is the hope of the British to put an end to the passage of supplies to Germany from Scandinavian countries.

Recent events on both the eastern and western fronts have brought another wave of optimism in England similar to that occasioned two weeks ago by the British and French victories on the western battle field. In view of the costly failure of the German attacks against Loos, the progress of French troops south of Soissons and the gradual extension of their gains near Taloire, the outlook on the Franco-Belgian front is now regarded as more favorable to the entente allies.

GORIZIA ABOUT TO FALL.

Italians Say Capture of Austrian City is Imminent.

Geneva, Switzerland, Oct. 12.—The Austrian city of Gorizia, twenty-two miles northwest of Trieste, is about to fall, according to a telegram received here today from Brescia. The Italians the dispatch says, have brought up a large number of heavy guns and are bombarding the town from five different points. At the same time the Italians are attacking the inner defense of Tolmino, while on the Carso the Austrians are said to have been forced to abandon several miles of trenches.

NINTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Nichoff up. Gardner threw out Nichoff. Burns up. Ball 1; strike 1; Burns popped out to Scott. Byrne batting for Chalmers. Byrne fled out to Lewis. No runs, no hits, no errors.

PHILLIES ONCE MORE FALL BEFORE BOSTON

series there was doubt during the morning as to the batteries that would oppose each other.

Before the Game.

"We are going to even it up today," said Manager Pat Moran of the Phillies, "and go back home for the fifth game tomorrow with the count standing two and two. I am not sure at this hour who will be my pitching selection, but you can say for me that whether it is Chalmers, Rixey or Mayer, he will be out there to win and the Sox will find run-making a difficult pastime."

"We have the series clinched and will make it three to one in our favor today," said Manager Carrigan, of the Boston Red Sox. "I have three good pitchers ready and anxious to take their turn in the box and it is hard to choose between them. They all have a winning game up their sleeves."

Another Perfect Day.

It was another perfect day with not a cloud fleck in the sky and a sunniness in the atmosphere. Thousands of Boston fans came out today to have a good time. There are all sorts of rooters' organizations here and they were all in evidence today. Most of them brought bands with them and there was a crash of music in the air all the time. Occasionally the crash became a clash but the fans didn't mind the melodic interference but applauded all the music specialties with unstinted enthusiasm. A Scotch bag pipe band made a great hit with a lone cornetist in the far right field stand offered some that were well received. The fans knew they had a long time to wait for the real show and amused themselves accordingly.

Going to Pacific Coast.

The Boston Americans and Philadelphia Nationals now battling for the world's championship, will go intact to the Pacific coast for a series of games, beginning in San Francisco Oct. 29, according to arrangements made today by the national commission, the presidents of the two clubs and a representative of the Panama-Pacific exposition. The teams will play in Chicago, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City on the way to the coast and also in Los Angeles and San Diego.

As the date of the closing game of the present series is in doubt no time could be fixed for the start to Chicago nor could the dates be set for the games enroute to the coast. The opening game at the exposition will be played on October 29 as the first of a series of from seven to nine contests. Two games will be played in Los Angeles and one in San Diego. None will be played on the way back.

MAYOR BELL WEEPS AS ATTORNEY PLEADS

Brings Tears to Eyes of Accused.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—Mayor Joseph E. Bell wept when Henry Span, in the closing argument for the defense in the trial of the mayor, who is charged with election conspiracy, referred to the wife of Mayor Bell, who died several years ago. A number of women, among the crowd of spectators, also were in tears.

Prosecutor A. J. Rucker was to make the closing argument in the case this afternoon and Judge W. H. Eichhorn will read his instructions tomorrow, the case probably going to the jury about noon.

Span in his argument dealt in figures and asserted that, through all the frauds charged by the state, 332 voters were prevented from casting their ballots in the last election.

When Span began his closing argument today he started to talk about the so-called "school of perjury," but Joseph Roach, special prosecutor, on the ground that evidence offered by the defense along that line had been ruled out by Judge W. H. Eichhorn. Span asserted that he had a right to make the statement and let the jury draw inference as to the methods employed by the state. The court, however, stated that the jury had no right to draw inferences from anything that had been excluded.

It was the first objection offered to any statement made during the arguments.

Russ War Minister Who Faces a Trial

General Soukhomlinoff, who the Russians accuse of responsibility for their repeated defeats, and whose removal as war minister followed charges that he was responsible for the lack of ammunition, will soon be tried by a superior court appointed by the czar himself.

General Soukhomlinoff.

Justice of the Peace A. C. Nieman, who has been confined to his home for several days with blood poisoning, was very much improved Tuesday. He is now able to be up and around the house.

PRATES TOO MUCH OF HIS NUMBER ONE

Mary Linder, Who is Now Number Two Wants a Divorce.

Charging in her complaint that her husband has "constantly made it his business to remind the plaintiff of his former wife and continually telling her she is unfit to look after her household duties and could not conduct the same as his former wife had done," Mary Linder has begun suit in the superior court for divorce from Andrew Linder. The break has come but two months behind the music of the marriage bells, for they were joined in holy wedlock on the 9th of last August. At that time the groom's age was 57 and he had been a widower a year and a half and the bride was 40 and had been widowed less than a year. In addition to the pain of being continually reminded of the domestic virtues and capabilities of No. 1, Mrs. Linder, No. 2, says her present husband is always finding fault, has a quarrelsome disposition, gets angry without any fault or provocation on her part and remains so for days at a time, refusing to speak to or have anything to do with her. She says he has asked her to pack up her things and leave home and in other ways has abused her and conducted himself in a manner not proper to set out in a complaint. She asks an order to restrain him from drawing his wages at the Fortified Shoe company's store, where he is employed, from disposing of any of the household belongings and from molesting her at 559 Putnam street. McAdams and Hartzell appear for the plaintiff.

Cost Him His Jobs.

Charging desertion and that his wife's interference with him cost him his jobs, John C. Keller has brought suit in the superior court for divorce from Jessie Keller. They were married in 1908 and separated in June, 1914. He says that for eighteen months she has refused to live with him and before that would not make a home for him. That she had a jealous disposition and nagged him are other causes of complaint. McAdams & Hartzell are his attorneys.

MOSS IS ON THE PROGRAM.

Indiana Congressman Delivers Address to Grain Dealers.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 12.—An address by United States Senator Sherman, of Illinois, on "The Limit of Business by the Government," was the program of today's session of the convention of the Grain Dealers' National association. The program also included an address on "The Grain Grades Act," by Congressman Ralph W. Moss, of Indiana, and a talk on "Corn," Prof. C. Christie, of the department of agriculture extension of Purdue university. Convention city forces lined up today for tomorrow's struggle over a meeting place for 1916. Baltimore seemed the favorite, with Chicago and Boston strong contenders.

INSANITY NOT STATE; LACK OF ADJUSTMENT

Much Interest Manifested in Theory Advanced by Dr. Paton.

New York, Oct. 12.—Educators and physicians displayed great interest today in a statement made by Dr. Steward Paton, of Princeton, N. J., regarding the prevalence of what he called "cases of lack of adjustment," in the universities. In his speech delivered last night before the Society of Medical Jurisprudence at the Academy of Medicine, Dr. Paton said: "It is impossible to define insanity, because insanity is not a state; it is a process of adjustment. I found that in our universities these cases of lack of adjustment have gone so far as to require a great deal of a physician's care to bring about a readjustment."

"A president of one of the biggest universities in the country told me that a search which had been made of the records for the past ten years showed that every student who had committed a breach of discipline was above the average age of the class."

FORD AUTO BADLY WRECKED.

BERLIN THEATRES AVOID WAR PLAYS

New Season Shows Little in Way of Military Offerings.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Berlin's second theatrical season since the war has begun—and is notable for its lack of warlike offerings. In all the mass of plays and operas now presented or to be presented in the immediate future there are but two of a military nature. And both of these have been running for months, and are continuing because they have genuine dramatic value, rather than because the public fancy clamors for anything warlike.

Old-timers call this beginning of Berlin's theatrical season so nearly like the opening in peace times that it is hard to distinguish the difference. They base this opinion not alone on the attendance, which certainly is good, but on the very character of the offerings and the absence of plays suggestive of the war.

The season in 1914 opened with a tidal wave of "war" plays. Something of their general character and excellence may be gathered from the words of one of Berlin's well known dramatic critics, who wrote, "This flood of war plays, and poorly rhymed, hastily thrown together productions, fortunately has ebbed and the temples of the joyful muse even, following the example of the more serious stage, are turning to other tasks."

Some idea of the serious character of many of the plays now offered may be gathered from a glimpse at the programs of the leading Berlin theatres for the beginning of the season. Lessing theatre—Peer Gynt, His Only Wife, An Enemy of the People, Architect Solness. German theatre—Faust, part 1, The Winter Fairy Tale, The Piccolomini, Wallenstein's Camp, Faust, part 2. Schiller theatre—The Rape of the Sabine, Old Heidelberg, Rosmersholm. The Worm of Conscience, The Benefactor of Mankind. Koenigsplatz theatre—Queen Christine, Beyond Our Strength. Little theatre—A Costly Life. Western theatre—Andersen (based on Hans Christian Andersen). People's theatre—The Robbers. Trianon theatre—Hannemann's Successor. Weidemann theatre—Brigitte—Young Must One Be; Thalia, A Puzzling Ad. Princess theatre—The Dark Castle.

The two military plays still running are "Extrahuetter" at the Berlin theatre; and "Immer Feste Drauf," at the Nollendorf Platz theatre. Both pieces have been running for more than 300 performances.
